House Okays Second Step In Defense

Huge Appropriation Given Kennedy For Planes, Guns, Ships

By JERRY T. BAULCH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unanimous House approval Wednesday gave President Kennedy authority to spend all the $958.57 million he asked for planes, ships and missiles to equip the new defense buildup.

It was another step in the rapid-fire action by Congress to hand the President as quickly as possible the authority and money he requested to deal with the Communist threat to West Berlin and other areas.

Congress already has authorized Kennedy to call to active duty up to 250,000 reservists and to extend active duty tours and enlistments by one year.

House passage of the military hardware bill by a 403-0 vote came after some Republican calls for Kennedy to match his words with action and to cut nondefense spending.

Meanwhile, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara let it be known that despite the need for more military sinew, he does not want an extra $525 million Congress may give him for heavy manned jet bombers.

Before Kennedy's call for more armed might, McNamara had indicated he would not spend the money even if Congress provided it. Apparently he still feels this way.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., to whom McNamara wrote his views, announced he would try to knock out the $525 million when the $46.8-billion defense money bill comes to the Senate floor later this week. The extra fund was voted into the measure by unanimous action of the Senate Appropriations Committee Tuesday.

The extra bomber buildup was included also in the annual $12.37 billion military hardware authorization measure sent to Kennedy June 12.

Money for the $958.57 million hardware authorization sent to the White House Wednesday is included in the bill now before the Senate. It is part of the $3.5 billion extra Kennedy requested last week.

Cyrille Adoula Is New Premier For The Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Cyrille Adoula, a moderate in politics and personality, was approved by Parliament Wednesday as the Congo's new premier and head of a unity government pledged to end violent political strife.

Adoula, 39, is second to take the premiership with parliamentary endorsement since the Congo moved from Belgian colonialism to independence to chaos little more than a year ago. The first was Patrice Lumumba, who was ousted and subsequently assassinated.

Failure to form a new Congolese government could have meant continued political strife of the sort that had brought the United States, the Soviet Union and other powers into the Congo as backers of one faction or another. And forming a new government without Gizenga's participation would have been impossible. He controls the largest single bloc of deputies in Parliament.

Thus Adoula's government is the result of a delicate political balance according places to all forces in the Congo except the separatist regime of Katanga. There, President Moise Tshombe persisted in regarding his rich province as independent from the Congo and refused to allow Katanga deputies to attend Parliament unless he won concessions.

Red China Faces Nationalists, United States In Bid For UN

Two Nations Disagree On Procedure

By SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Nationalist China Wednesday announced agreement on opposing the admission of Communist China to the United Nations this fall. But the two nations disagreed sharply on how to do it.

There also were sharp tactical differences toward the U. N. bid of Outer Mongolia.

Diplomatic sources said the United States definitely would not vote for the admission of Outer Mongolia but would abstain when the question of admission is raised before the 12-nation Security Council next month.

But despite U. S. warnings that a veto of Outer Mongolia may cost the Chinese Nationalists their own seat in the world body, Nationalist Vice President and Prime Minister Chen Cheng was reported to have refused to abandon the veto if that becomes necessary to block Outer Mongolia.

Chen has met twice with President Kennedy in his present visit to the United States.

The question of tactics at the United Natons is complicated by the Soviet Union's threat to veto the admission of Africa's Mauritania for a second time if the Security Council refused to admit Outer Mongolia.

U. S. officials have warned Chen that 14 French-speaking African nations would be angered by a Chinese Nationalist veto of Outer Mongolia that would lead to a veto of Mauritania.

The switch of 14 African nations to Communist China's side in the U. N. General Assembly would almost certainly mean the seating of the Communist regime.

A joint statement summing up two days of talks between Kennedy and Chen said, "The President reiterated firm U. S. support for continued representation of the Republic of China in the United Nations, of which she is a founding member. He also reaffirmed the U. S. determination to continue to oppose admission of the Chinese Communist regime to the United Nations."

Vigilantes Halting German Refugees

BERLIN (UPI) — East German police and Communist "vigilantes" pulled suspected refugees off trains Wednesday in the most intensive action to stop the mass exodus from East Germany since it began a month ago.

The Communists did everything but seal off the East-West city border in their efforts to keep refugees from reaching West Berlin. An estimated 500 persons were rounded up on suspicion of fleeing, but 1,110 reached West Berlin and asked for political asylum.

Among Wednesday's refugees was the chief doctor at East Berlin's police department hospital.

Communist police Wednesday for the first time extended their tight controls to inter-city traffic. They hustled suspected refugees off west-bound subway and elevated trains at main East Berlin junctions.

The vigilante groups of trusted Communist party members used to back police in the refugee-halting campaign have been formed throughout the Eastern Zone, the East German news service ADN said.

Western officials said formation of the vigilante committees was a Communist admission that their traffic controls, strict as they are, cannot stop the record flight to West Berlin.

UAW Ready To Strike GM Plant

WASHINGTON (UPI) — United Auto Workers Vice President Leonard Woodcock implied Wednesday that the union would strike against General Motors unless agreement is reached shortly after the union's present contract expires Aug. 31.

He told a news conference here that the union has made no progress in its contract talks with the giant manufacturer.

"Certainly we are not going to go for a protracted period of time without an agreement" he said

But Woodcock added that the union's members do not want to strike, and there is no reason why General Motors and the UAW cannot reach an amicable settlement.

Behn To Head Secret Service At White House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy Wednesday picked Gerald Behn to head the White House Secret Service detail charged with guarding his life.

Behn, 45, will replace James J. Rowley, whose appointment as chief of the U.S. Secret Service was announced Tuesday. Rowley fills the post long held by Chief U.E. Baughman, whose retirement is effective Aug. 31.

Behn joined the Secret Service in September 1939 and has been guarding presidents since 1941. He has been top assistant to Rowley in charge of the White House detail since 1949.

Fierce Luntu Tribes Beat War Drums Over Massacre Of 600 By Congolese

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Fierce Luntu tribesmen of Kasai beat war drums Wednesday night and fears rose they will take bloody reprisals against Congolese soldiers who massacred 600 of their men, women and children.

U. N. sources reported the scope of the Congolese army massacre was the worst since the violent days immediately following independence.

Luntu survivors told of torture, beheadings and of villages burned to the ground in the mass slaughter carried out over several days. Dense clouds of smoke hung over the villages for days, they said.

One U. N. official who flew over the area in a helicopter said he counted hundreds of bodies in the charred ruins of half a dozen tribal settlements near Mutombo and Dubie villages.

The attack came, the U. N. sources said, after Luntu tribesmen, smeared with war paint, ambushed a 50-man Congolese patrol north of Lake Mukamba. Twenty-five members of the Congolese unit, loyal at least in name to the Leopoldville central government, were killed.

U. N. sources said the army's Leopoldville headquarters was informed but that the retaliation order apparently came from the command in Luluabourg, capital of Kasai Province.

A U. N. medical team quickly moved into the devastated area. The United Nations initially claimed no knowledge of the matter.

U.S. Jobless Figure Drops Half Million

Secretary Labor Says Nation Must Create More Jobs

By WILLIAM J. EATON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unemployment dropped by 440,000 last month to 5,140,000 as students who rushed into the labor market in June found jobs or stopped looking for them, the government reported Wednesday.

Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg said the decline was slightly less than usual for this time o year. There was no significant change during the month in the number of unemployed adults.

The number of employed persons also dropped by 207,000 to 68,499,000 in July. It was possible for both unemployment and employment to decline because the labor force — those holding jobs and unemployed seeking work—fell by 647,000.

Despite the unemployment drop, the rate of joblessness after seasonal adjustments rose by one tenth of one per cent to 6.9 per cent of the labor force. It has hovered for months around the recession-level of 7 per cent despite the general business recovery.

Goldberg also reported more long - term unemployment last month. The number of workers without jobs for 15 weeks or more rose by 59,000 to 1,634,000. Of the total, some 1,026,000 had been out of work for six months or more.

The Labor secretary said the military buildup to meet the Berlin crisis would relieve some unemployment. But he said the nation was growing so fast that it must do more to create new job opportunities.

Pointing to the number of long-term unemployed, he called for more special training and retraining programs for people whose jobs have been wiped out. He termed this problem a major concern of the administration.

France, Tunisia Hold Firm In Bizerte Crisis

By BRUCE W. MUNN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson failed Wednesday to budge France or Tunisia from their positions in the Bizerte crisis in private talks in New York.

Stevenson's failure increased the probability that the Afro-Asian group would call the United Nations General Assembly into an extraordinary session to discuss the Bizerte situation, possibly by next Monday.

Informed sources said the crux of U.S. efforts to arrange private talks between France and Tunisia averting a U.N. showdown, shifted to Washington where Tunisian Defense Minister Bahai Ladgham was scheduled to confer with President Kennedy.

Stevenson, who returned Tuesday from Paris where he had talked with President Charles de Gaulle and Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville of France, conferred Wednesday morning with Armand Berard, French ambassador to the United Nations.

Then he lunched with Mongi Slim, Tunisia's senior diplomat.

Informed sources said neither envoy gave Stevenson any hope of changing their country's position. Tunisia has expressed willingness to negotiate a Bizerte settlement provided that France acknowledges that it will evacuate the huge Mediterranean military base eventually. France has rejected this condition, maintaining its claim to Bizerte is based on an agreement signed in 1055 when it granted independence to Tunisia.

South Viet Nam Orders Induction Of All Able Men

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI) — The South Viet Nam government Wednesday ordered all men between the ages of 25 and 33 to report for military duty by Aug. 15 to bolster the nation's armed forces against increasing terrorism by Viet Cong Communist guerrillas.

(A State Department spokesman in Washington said Wednesday the United States is considering an increased military-political - economic program to help Viet Nam counter the increased Communist terror.)

28,000 Air Force Reservists Expect Active Duty Soon

Many May Be Sent To Europe

JUDGE APPOINTED—Albert Bryan, was appointed by President Kennedy yesterday to be judge of the 4th U. S. Circuit Court for West Virginia, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina. A native of Alexandria, Va., he has been a U. S. District judge for Eastern Virginia since 1947. (AP Photofax)

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Virtually all 28,000 of the Air Force reservists just put on alert can expect to be called to active duty and many may be sent to Europe in the face of the Berlin crisis.

That was the prospect Wednesday as the administration buttressed U.S. military power for a prolonged test of will with the Soviet Union over the Berlin and other East-West issues.

If Russia should sign a peace treaty with East Germany later this year and again blockade Berlin, Air National Guard and Air Force reserve units loom large in present planning for supplying the free Western portion of the city.

They may be ordered to operate transports in an airlift and to fly escort with their jet fighter planes to West Berlin, which lies 110 miles inside Communist East Germany.

The Air Force Wednesday notified 71 guard and reserve units that they had been given priority for "possible recall to active duty."

The word in Washington Wednesday was that the 28,000 men involved should put their affairs in order and expect to be recalled. It was still possible, however, that some might not be summoned to federal service.

The 71 units include 29 fighter and transport squadrons which could be sent to Europe to bolster the more than 50 regular Air Force squadrons already stationed there.

Besides significantly increasing U.S. ability to provide an airlift, the reserve air units would be ready to support an expanded U. S. Army in Europe.

Administration plans for bringing three Army divisions in this country to full strength will put America in a position to send several divisions to Europe later this year if a Berlin crisis required it.

For example, three divisions would bolster by 60 per cent the present strength of the U.S. Army in Europe. With the buildup at home, the Army still would have a strategic reserve here of an additional three divisions.

Kennedy Sends Salinger To Paris Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger flies to Paris Thursday night to lay the groundwork for a stepped-up allied campaign to present to the world the Western side of the Berlin crisis.

There also was speculation that he might make preliminary arrangements for a Western summit conference that apparently will be held in connection with the Berlin crisis.

But Salinger said he did not want his trip misinterpreted as the first step in preparations for any summit meeting. He said he had suggested the meetings with his European counterparts solely to coordinate their public output on Berlin.

Salinger will accompany Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who will attend a Western foreign ministers conference in Paris. The foreign ministers are meeting to draft diplomatic moves to counter the Soviet threat to West Berlin.

Salinger will meet over the weekend with press chiefs for President Charles de Gaulle of France, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany to discuss coordinating information about the Western position on Berlin.

Hospital Blast Kills Patient

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) —A patient undergoing abdominal surgery was killed and an anesthetist injured Wednesday when an explosion rocked the operating room at Miriam Hospital.

Dead is Joseph Anthony, 70, of Providence. Hospital officials said the operation had been underway for about an hour and was nearly completed when the explosion occurred. There was no fire.

Senate Confirms Uniontown Man As Federal Judge

WASHINGTON (AP)—In an unusual burst of speed, the Senate Wednesday night confirmed the nomination of a federal judge that President Kennedy had submitted earlier in the day.

The nomination of Edward Dumbauld of Uniontown, Pa., to be U. S. judge for the Western District of Pennsylvania was not even referred to the Senate Judiciary Committee for consideration.

A committee aide said he had contacted all 15 committee members during the day and they had unanimously waived having Dumbauld's nomination referred to them.

Dumbauld is a judge of the Common Pleas Court of Fayette County. The way for speedy confirmation of his nomination had been cleared by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa.

100,798 Men Under 65 Apply For Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the first four weeks of July, 100,798 men below the age of 65 took advantage of the new Social Security law and applied for retirement checks.

The new law, signed by President Kennedy June 30 and effective Aug. 1, lowers the retirement age from 65 to 62 for those men willing to accept smaller monthly payments.

Director Victor Christgau of the Bureau of Old Age and Survivors Insurance said that the 100,798 men were part of a record number of persons filing claims the first four weeks of July.

In all, Christgau said, there were 397,010 claims filed, an average of nearly 100,000 a week. Before Kennedy signed the new law, claims had averaged 50,000 to 60,000 a week.

The law changed various other for men.

Christgau pointed out that the 3.7 million beneficiaries already on the rolls who will get bigger benefit payments—almost one out of four now on the rolls—do not need to apply for their increases.

Those beneficiaries—aged widows receiving benefits on their husbands' account and persons getting minimum rate benefits—will get larger amounts automatically beginning with the checks delivered in September.

The aged widows' benefits will be increased by about 10 per cent. The minimum goes up from $33 to $40 a month.

Other changes eased some qualifications for benefits and cut the amount of benefits withheld from beneficiaries under 72 years of age who work and earn over $1,500 a year.

The Social Security taxes will be increased by an eighth of one per cent each for employes and employers beginning next Jan. 1 and by a fifth of one per cent for the self-employed.

35 Tourists Plunge Into Lake Lucerne

Americans On Tour Of Switzerland In Tragic Mishap

By REIMAR SPRINGMAN

LUZERN, Switzerland (UPI) — A bus carrying 35 American tourists Wednesday plunged into Lake Lucerne from one of Switzerland's most dangerous mountain roads. Police said 16 persons apparently drowned.

The bus sank into 100 to 200 feet of water.

There were 38 aboard the tour bus, including the Italian driver and two Swiss guides, a married couple.

Twenty-two survivors, some of whom jumped through the open sun roof and windows of the bus as it tumbled down a 15-foot rocky bank were taken to the Canton Hospital at Stans. One was seriously injured and others were reported in a deep state of shock.

Taken To Hotel

Later, some of the survivors were taken to the Metropole Hotel in Lucerne, where the American organizer of the tour had booked rooms for them.

"We were expecting 37 persons. It is very horrible," the manager of the hotel said. "They are terribly shocked."

The tour was arranged by Gateway Holidays Tours Inc., of New York City. The 35 Americans aboard came from all parts of the United States from New York State to California and from Ohio to Florida.

Dr. Kuno Burgi, chief physician of Stans Hospital, said survivors told him the bus left the road when a trailer truck approaching from the opposite direction touched it.

"The trailer was empty and apparently swung out into the center of the road, touching the bus," he said. "The bus fell off the edge of the road.

"There was an instant or so before the bus sank and survivors climbed out through windows and got onto the bank. Those who could not get out of windows must have drowned."

Broke Through Railing

Witnesses said the bus broke through the railing on the side of the road and seemed to hang a moment on the edge of the rocks, then slide slowly down into the crystal-clear water.

The witnesses reported passengers scrambled out of the sun roof, which is usually kept open for better views of the mountains.

The accident occurred at 5:30 p.m. The road was dry, but a drizzle began falling soon after the accident. Hundreds of onlookers gathered on the lake shore at the accident scene, about six miles from this city, although police blocked off traffic.

30 Sisters Of Charity Hurt In Md. Bus Crash

BALTIMORE (AP) — More than 30 nuns received minor injuries Wednesday when the bus in which they were riding veered off a rain-slick highway and struck the corner of an ice cream store in suburban Reisterstown.

All 36 nuns aboard the bus were taken to Baltimore's St. Agnes Hospital for treatment and later released. One of the sisters had a broken nose, the others suffered minor lacerations and bruises.

The bus, driven by George F. Rosensteel, 65, was taking the nuns from St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg, to points in the Baltimore area. All the nuns are members of the Sisters of Charity.

The group had been attending summer school at St. Joseph's and was en route to parochial schools where they reach when the accident occurred. Twenty-seven of the sisters are teachers in the Baltimore area. The others are from Bridgeport, Conn.

A Reisterstown phisician, Dr. Clarence McWilliams, was called to the accident scene by police. He examined the nuns and dispatched those most seriously shaken up to St. Agnes immediately in two ambulances and an Army carry-all, which happened to be in the area. The other nuns were taken to the hospital as transportation became available.

Pope John XXII Conducts Rites For Cardinal

Entire Vatican Honors Tardini

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — A visibly moved Pope John XXIII presided Wednesday at the funeral services for Domenico Cardinal Tardini, one of his closest friends and most important advisers.

The services in ancient St. Peter's Basilica were conducted even while the Vatican was saddened further by the serious illness of Nicole Cardinal Canali. Doctors said Cardinal Canali, 87, is near death.

The entire 108-acre Vatican City was closed during the day as a sign of mourning for Cardinal Tardini, the Vatican secretary of state who died Sunday.

Pope John hurried from his summer papal residence at Castel Gandolfo in an effort to see the 73-year-old Cardinal Tardini before he died but arrived too late.

The pontiff returned again from Castel Gandolfo Wednesday for the funeral Mass said by Msgr. Antonio Samore, secretary of extraordinary ecclesiastical affairs.

Twenty-six cardinals — including Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York — Vatican officials and most of the diplomatic corps to the Holy See attended the services.

In accordance with Cardinal Tardini's wish, his body was buried in the Carmelite convent at L'Etralla, 35 miles north of Rome.

Chinese Told To Despise JFK Administration

TOKYO (UPI)—The people of Communist China were instructed Wednesday to "despise" the Kennedy Administration but warned also not to underestimate it.

In an assessment of the first six months of President Kennedy's tenure that appeared in the Peiping People's Daily, official newspaper of the Chinese Communist Party, the United States was called a "fiendish gambler" that wages all on the last throw—and loses.

The commentary, a summary of which was broadcast by Peiping Radio and heard here, appeared to pursue the Chinese Communist party line that war against Capitalism is inevitable. This conflicted with the "peaceful coexistence" line set down last weekend by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

"On the one hand, because of its weakness, the people of the whole world have every reason to despise the Kennedy government," the Chinese Communist statement said.

"On the other hand, because of its adventurousness, the people... must also take it seriously tactically, must maintain a high degree of vigilance at all times and go on waging a face-to-face struggle against the policies of war and aggression of U.S. imperialism."

FBI Arrests Escaped Md. Convict

CHICAGO (AP) — Robert William Schuette, 39, one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men and an escaped convict from the Maryland State Penitentiary, was arrested by FBI agents Wednesday.

James H. Gale, FBI agent in charge of the Chicago office, said Schuette was seized as he was walking to his new job at Cortland Industries, Inc.

Gale said Schuette escaped from the prison in Baltimore Oct. 6, 1960, where he had been serving a 20-year prison term for five armed robberies. Gale said Schuette had held 25 jobs and changed his address 40 times since he arrived in Chicago in January.

The FBI chief said Schuette was carrying a news clipping which indicated he had been placed on the FBI's ten most wanted list only two weeks ago. Schuette was convicted in July, 1957.

Gale said Schuette told his FBI captors:

"You fellows sure did a good job. I was completely surprised when you grabbed me.'

Gale said that before Schuette arrived in Chicago he traveled in Maine, Florida, Texas and California. Gale added that Schuette has a previous record of desertion from the Army, armed robbery, assault and larceny. The five robberies for which Schuette was convicted occurred in the Baltimore area between November, 1955, and June, 1957.

Women Cautioned On Equal Rights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, said Wednesday if women want equal footing with men they must stand on their own two feet.

She told the American Legion Auxiliary Girls Nation that women "must be willing to give up feminine privileges when they demand equal rights."

Sen. Smith urged the teen-age girls: "Don't demand special privileges under the guise of equal rights—whether the issue be on the basis of race, creed, color, religion or sex."

Maryland To Pay Higher Interest

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The interest rate went up slightly Wednesday for the State of Maryland's second bond sale of 1961.

The State sold $16,943,000 worth of the 15-year bonds to a syndicate headed by Chase Manhattan Bank and the First National City Bank of New York, low bidder among four syndicates.

The net interest rate will be 2.92 per cent compared to a more favorable 2.71 per cent on a $20,030,000 issue last Jan. 24.

White House Amends Code Of Conduct

Not To Hamper Free Flow Of News

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today that a code of conduct for government employes has been clarified to prevent any intentional withholding of nonsecret data from the press or public.

Pierre Salinger, White House secretary, said nothing in the code had been intended to restrict the free flow of information.

Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., chairman of a House subcommittee dealing with government information policies, took issue with a section which provided that "employes may not disclose official information without either appropriate general or specific authority under agency regulations."

Salinger said this had been intended only to prevent an employe from divulging in advance to an individual or group specialized information which could be used for personal gain, such as in speculation on stock or grain markets.

HANNOVER, Germany (UPI)—A West German scientist said on Tuesday the first German - made two-stage rockets probably will be fired in September for weather research.

Dr. August F. Staats, president of the German Rocket Association said the rockets were expected to go 30 to 40 miles into space. Last winter, the association fired single-stage rockets 12 miles high.

Bob Kennedy Says U.S. Is On Defensive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was quoted by the Evening Star Wednesday as saying the United States is on the defensive in a world whose problems are almost overwhelming.

"But I think we're moving ahead inch by inch," Kennedy said in a story by Mary McGrory giving the attorney general's views on the first six months of the administration of his brother, President Kennedy.

Saying he was not pessimistic about the future, Robert Kennedy added: "I guess in a situation like this, if you're holding your own, you're making progress."

Miss McGrory, reporting on an interview with the Justice Department head, said he does not like to dwell on the Cuban invasion disaster, but will say this about it: "Obviously, it would have been better if it hadn't happened, but it would have been disastrous if he (the President) had not learned the lesson of Cuba."

The story said what the President learned from Cuba was to reassess his opinion of the judgment of experienced advisers. He learned to ask questions, to probe and prod after opinions had been given, it said.

"Without that lesson, his brother thinks, we might have been drawn into further and more disastrous misadventures in other areas," the story said.

Appointment of Gen. Maxwell Taylor as the President's military adviser was described as another important consequence of the Cuban setback. The attorney general said, contrary to some reports, that the Joint Chiefs of Staff are pleased over the appointment.

Driving Habits Of British Women Aired

LONDON (AP)—A Briton has been following women drivers around for three months now studying female driving habits. "Terrifying," he reports.

Denis Holmes, who writes for the London Daily Mail, told his readers after his venture into research on the highways that most women are unfit to drive.

"I state this," Holmes said, "with every fear of contradiction."

He accused women drivers of "either progressing at a snail's pace or over-confidently weaving through the traffic in slapdash fashion."

Holmes followed 110 women motorists for at least two miles each. Of these 110 unsuspecting women drivers, Holmes concluded 84 were totally unsafe, 14 were fit to be on the road but only average drivers, 8 were good and equal to any man at the wheel, and 4 were outstanding and better than most men.

One trouble with women drivers is lack of concentration, Holmes reported.

"Their cars are loaded with children, dogs, shopping, flowers—things requiring the utmost attention to the neglect of safety and common sense," Holmes said.

"Rear mirrors, too, have a fatal magnetism and are obviously regarded as a vanity rather than a safety accessory."

He deplored the "weird and erratic hand signals" of most women drivers.

"Drop Attacks" In Elderly Persons Is Hazard Of Age

By The Associated Press

"Drop attacks" in elderly persons, the effects of pressure cooking on vitamins and a possible new factor in tooth decay figure in the medical news.

Age And Falling

Accidental falling is a major occupational risk in growing old. About 75 per cent of such falls are easily explained. An elderly person trips on a step because of inadequate illumination or failing eyesight. Or his shuffling foot catches on a protuberance in a carpet or rug or an uneven flagstone on the pavement.

But roughly 25 per cent of the falls are so-called "drop attacks." The old person is erect one moment, and the next he is flat on the ground. He has remained conscious but doesn't know what happened. Once restored to an erect position, recovery is complete.

Dr. Joseph H. Sheldon of Wolverhampton, England, spent two years studying 200 elderly patients who collectively suffered more than 500 falls.

He found a curious thing about the "drop attack" victims. At least half of them suffered unpleasant symptoms whenever they tilted back their heads.

Writing in the New Physician, published by the Student American Medical Association, he concluded these persons suffered from some temporary failure in the central mechanisms of posture, situated in the brain and brain stem.

The supposed reason for the failure is a decline in the number of working brain nerve cells, rendering the remaining cells more responsive to slight changes in blood supply.

Pressure Cooking

Is food in pressure cookers suitable for growing children? A consultant to the American Medical Association reports that pressure cooking has no more effect than other methods of food processing on the three food nutrients associated with bone development—vitamins A, D, and C.

"Pressure cooking has been shown to be the least damaging to most foods and, in fact, pressure cooking of vegetables results in high retention of vitamin C, the most easily damaged of the vitamins," he said.

Tooth Decay Factor?

A Bethesda, Md., researcher believes "a way of life engendered by religious beliefs" may be a factor in the amount of tooth decay in children.

Dr. C. J. Donnelly compared the tooth decay rate of 290 Seventh-day Adventist children in Prince Georges and Montgomery counties, Maryland, with a group of non-Adventist children of comparable age living in the area. Water fluoridation, a dental health measure designed to reduce tooth decay, was started in the area seven years previously.

The decay rate in children 6 through 9 years of age was roughly the same in both groups.

But in children age 10 through 13—all were several years old when the fluoridation program started—the Adventist group has 40 per cent fewer decayed, missing or filled teeth than the others.

The facility, part of an industrial development program, will have an annual capacity of about 30,000 tons of synthetic rubber.

I've Got To Spend A Penny Becomes London's Slogan

LONDON (AP) — Five women members of the House of Commons led a legislative charge Friday against the pay turnstiles that bar the way to the nation's powder rooms.

Ignoring Conservative and Labor party lines the ladies introduced a clause in a bill that would bring down the barricades in public rest rooms for women.

"These turnstiles are a stupid idea which could only have been designed by a man," said one of the bills' sponsors, Patricia McLaughlin, a Conservative.

Public conveniences for men have no turnstiles.

To get through the turnstiles, a penny must be inserted in a slot. When the penny drops, the lock on the turnstiles opens.

This has led to a widely used expression—now firmly implanted in the language of this country: "I've got to spend a penny."

Speaking in favor of the legislation, Laborite Barbara Castle said: "The turnstiles are not only inconvenient, but dangerous. We cannot wait for the low process of democratic pressure on hundreds of local authorities."

She read comments from hundreds of women from all over the country.

One said an iron bar of a turnstile jerked backwards, injuring her sister who died of the injury the same evening.

Mrs. Castle said the turnstiles were a danger—particularly to expectant mothers.

"There has been case after case of women being trapped on the inside because of mechanical failures," she reported.

Several male legislators rallied behind their 23 women colleagues in the House.

Sir Keith Joseph, ministry parliamentary secretary, said the ministry would send a questionnaire to local authorities about the turnstiles.

Dominican Republic President Making Progress Democratizing His Country

By THEODORE A. EDIGER

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — President Joaquin Balaguer is "democratizing" the Dominican Republic from the same second-floor office in the national palace from whence Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo ruled it with iron hand.

The president has moved into the sacrosanct quarters occupied by the generalissimo. In the first weeks after the May 30 Trujillo assassination, Balaguer had continued to operate from the less imposing palace office he took over when he became president a year ago.

From Washington headquarters, the Organization of American States is watching Balaguer's program. If it goes far enough, economic and diplomatic sanctions imposed against the Trujillo-run country last year may be removed by the OAS.

In two months, Balaguer has spearheaded reforms restoring freedom of speech, emptying prisons of nearly all political prisoners, permitting exiles to return, eliminating controls, improving living standards.

He has set the stage for elections next May, and invited OAS observers.

Oppositionists campaigning for the elections — something that could not be done in 31 years of Trujillo rule — are hitting hard at the Balaguer government, calling for further reforms.

The mild-mannered 53-year-old poet-president replies: "You want me to make this a little Switzerland, and demand that I do it overnight."

The names of Dr. Balaguer and Gen. Rafael L. Trujillo Jr., chief of the armed forces, are booed when mentioned at oppositionist rallies. In his headquarters at President Trujillo Air Base, 20 miles east of Ciudad Trujillo, the generalissimo's handsome, slender, son shrugs: "All my life I had heard 'Viva Trujillo,' now it's only fair to hear the other side."

As chief of the joint chiefs of staff of the armed forces, young Trujillo, 32, popularly called Ramfis, undoubtedly could have the final word on matters of national policy.

But he does not wear the pants alone.

"The president makes his own decisions, but informs me of any important ones," says Ramfis, wearing a medal-packed tan tropical general's uniform.

Balaguer, who as vice president stepped into the then Trujillo-dictated presidency when Hector Trujillo resigned last August, is in a strong position. He has gained such stature and respect that he could conceivably use a threat of resignation as a weapon to wield power.

No wonder the English keep so cool!

(mix Gordon's Gin in a tall, iced drink–and you will, too!)

The English are not easily fazed, even by summer heat. This national talent was given a cheerful accompaniment in 1769, when Alexander Gordon introduced his remarkable gin. The Gordon's you drink today harks back to his original formula, because one does not tamper with gin of such distinctive dryness and flavour. Try it soon in a tangy Gin & Tonic or Tom Collins. You'll see why, summer and winter, Gordon's Gin is the biggest seller in England, America, and indeed – the world!

4,906 Maryland Drivers Lose Licenses In Six Months

Final Rites Friday For Dr. N. E. Phillips

UNIVERSITY PARK M.d. (AP) — Funeral services for Dr. Norman E. Phillips, former head of the zoology department at the University of Maryland, will be held here Friday.

Phillips died Tuesday at Cheverly Hospital near here after a brief illness. He was 67.

A 1916 graduate of Allegheny College, the former department head was an Army lieutenant in World War I. He received his doctor of philosophy degree from Cornell in 1931 and retired in 1955.

Sports Car Driver Killed In Crash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert F. Taylor of Hyattsville, Md., was killed Tuesday night when the sports car he was driving went out of control, sheared off a utility pole, then smashed into another car.

Police said the 23-year-old electronics technician was thrown from the car when it bounced across the center island on East Capitol Street. Taylor was employed at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at the Goddard Space Flight Center in Greenbelt, Md.

Ranch House Burns At Pikesville

PIKESVILLE, Md. (AP) — A new ranch-type home valued at more than $45,000 was destroyed by fire Wednesday, just hours before the new owners were to move in.

Firemen from Pikesville, Owings Mills, Woodlawn and Lutherville responded to the alarm, and said flames were shooting 50 to 100 feet in the air when they arrived. The house, owned by Daniel Shapiro, was described as a total loss.

Strict Enforcement Plus Point System Reduces Fatalities 26 Per Cent

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Licenses of 4,906 motorists were revoked and 12,228 others were suspended in the first six months of this year, a report to Gov. Tawes showed Wednesday.

John R. Jewell, commissioner of motor vehicles, reported to the governor on the first six months operation of Maryland's new point system designed to get unfit motorists off highways. He also included suspensions and revocations made under discretion allowed him under previous State laws.

The 4,906 licenses lifted by the department included 1,621 under the point system, whereby a motorist automatically loses his license for a 12-point offense or for accumulation of 12 points through a number of offenses.

By far the largest number of these automatic revocations, 1,495, were for drunken driving.

In addition, Jewell revoked 3,285 licenses for various other reasons, including records of violations prior to the time the point system went into effect last Dec. 31.

The commissioner reported that 38,372 motorists received demerits in the first six months of the point system, and many of these drivers will lose their licenses later if they're involved in further violations.

Under the system, a motorist's license is automatically suspended when he reaches eight points and his license is revoked at 12.

One point was put on the record of 31,505 motorists involved in minor moving violations, such as running stop signs.

Three-point violations were charged to 5,091 drivers, who contributed to an accident, were speeding in excess of 10 miles over the posted limit or were convicted of reckless driving.

Five-point violations for failure to report an accident were charged to 19 others.

Of the 12,228 licenses suspended, Jewell said 136 came under the mandatory provision of the point system which levies eight points for leaving the scene of an accident in which there was no personal injury. If there had been personal injury, the driver would have received 12 points and automatically lost his license.

The other suspensions included 9,833 made by the department as a result of accident cases and 3,259 for various other reasons.

The commissioner also put 200 motorists on probation, issued 3,392 reprimands to teenage motorists and 2,896 reprimands to other motorists.

He told the governor there was no question the point system is showing an impact on driving habits and said his department will give "top priority" to administration of the law.

"I have placed a great deal of confidence and hope in the point system as a deterrent to careless driving and an effective traffic safety measure," Tawes said in releasing the report.

"It is too early, I know, to attempt an analysis of the results of the program. I would like to think, however, that there is a connection between the inauguration of the point system and the 26 per cent reduction in fatalities on our highways during the first part of 1961."

Baltimore Expects Tax Increase

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mayor J. Harold Grady said Wednesday the city's tax rate could be kept below $4 in 1962 despite budget requests from various departments for additional expenditures of $20 million.

Grady said the rate could be kept below the $4 mark by "prudential pruning" of budget requests. Earlier, city comptroller Dr. R. Walter Graham predicted a $4 rate was inevitable. "Even with the severest sort of budget cutting, I am convinced a tax rate of $4 or slightly over is inevitable,' 'Dr. Graham said.

This year's tax rate is $3.60 per $100 of assessable base.

Hagerstown Plant Still Strikebound

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — Work on the construction of a new Mack Truck plant here remained at a standstill Wednesday as craft union members refused to cross picket lines set up by members of striking Plumbers and Steamfitters' Local 769.

Union members voted Tuesday night to reject a contract which already had the tentative approval of a committee set up by the union itself. The contract called for a 25-cent hourly pay boost the first year and another similar increase the second year of a two-year contract. Current pay base is $3.50 an hour.

Union agent James J. Donlin resigned his post following rejection of the contract which he helped draw up. He was replaced by Charles Bowers.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♥	Pass	2 ♦
Pass	2 NT	Pass	3 NT
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Five of ♠

In countless situations the correct bid is a matter of choice. In some cases the player is faced with an out and out guess. In others, the type of strategy should be dictated by the character of the partner. One course may seem appropriate with an optimistic partner, whereas a different choice might be made with one who is known to hold the middle of the road.

South's rebid today after his partner's two diamond take-out is the one in question. When I saw the hand played in a recent tournament, one South actually chose to raise partner to three diamonds, and while technically such action cannot be labeled wrong, strategically it must be looked upon as an error. After the raise North chose to try for game in the minor, whereupon East led the queen of clubs and the result was a one trick set.

The recommended rebid by South is two no trump which North, of course, will be happy to raise to three, a contract which no lead by West can defeat. Actually West will lead the five of spades, and declarer should not yield to the temptation of finessing. With ten tricks in sight and the king of clubs open to attack, should East obtain the lead, grabbing tactics are indicated.

The importance of protecting the strength of your hand from an opening attack is not to be overlooked. Possession of a guarded king should induce a player to try to become declarer. With this thought in mind the better strategic opening by South would have been one no trump. North's proper response is three no trump. Once again the direct method proves superior, and South is charged with a demerit for opening with one heart.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Does Perspiration Get You Into A Sweat?

One discouraged reader admits she is about ready to throw in the towel on perspiration control — except that she NEEDS the towel for mopping-up operations within minutes after dressing each morning. She has lost count of the number of dresses and blouses ruined by excessive perspiration . . . and the number of different deodorants she has tried without success.

She should be relieved to learn that her problem is fairly common among women . . . and not at all completely hopeless, even on sticky summer days.

The first thing she must do is to stock up on dress shields, in all the sizes and styles to fit the different fashions she wears. For her short-sleeved and sleeveless dresses, there are shield attachments for bras. And the portable shields worn with lingerie are an excellent investment.

Having a lot of shields makes it easier to keep fresh by changing them oftener. They may need changing one or more times a day on occasion, so she should be sure to carry a spare wherever she goes.

Clothes protected, it's time to protect herself — with a preparation more efficient for her needs than a simple deodorant. She needs an anti-perspirant to seal off the underarm area and divert the perspiration to other parts of the body.

She can ask her druggist to prepare one of the aluminum salt solutions — usually aluminum chloride — or she can select one of the commercial concoctions. Some of them also contain deodorant. Two or three applications a week should be sufficient to check the excess.

But aluminum salts form acids that may irritate sensitive skin or discolor clothing fabrics. So, it must be used carefully. It's best to wait two full days after shaving the underarms. Then, after it is applied and allowed to dry thoroughly, the underarm area should be washed and dried again. When anti-perspirant is not being worn, a mild deodorant, perhaps a deodorant powder, can be used.

A daily bath and fresh changes of clothing take first honors, of course, in subduing perspiration odor. What's more, the self-assurance that comes with daily daintiness probably has a lot to do with reducing the nervous tension and emotional anxiety that help produce profuse perspiration.

There is a regular program of diet and exercise that I recommend for reawakening vitality and poise, especially during this enervating season. I call it "Summerizing Your Beauty!" and have outlined it in a special booklet. To get your copy, send your request c/o this newspaper, enclosing 10c, and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. It will be mailed to you within two weeks.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 1 — So strong is Jerry Wald's memory of his close friendship with Gary Cooper who was to have starred in "Ernest Hemingway's Young Man" (yes, that's the new title on Hemingway's "Adventures of a Young Man") that the picture will be dedicated to Gary.

"And we have cast the young actor I think stands the best chance of becoming another Gary Cooper, I mean Richard Beymer, in the title role," Jerry told me. "We've looked the field over and young Beymer comes closest to the ideal of both Cooper and Hemingway in the opinion of my director Marty Ritt and myself."

Since making "Anne Frank" opposite Millie Perkins at 20th, young Beymer has done "West Side Story" and currently is in "Five Finger Exercise." But this role of Nick Adams in "Young Man," supposed to be the young Hemingway himself, should top his career.

I usually take it with a grain of salt, when an actress says she's through with pictures. But it's true in the case of Luana Patten, who has five years remaining of her seven-year pact with MGM. She's bowed out of her contract and out of "Brothers Grimm."

Said Luana, "Since locations take me to Munich, Germany, and elsewhere—and I am happily married and very much in love with my husband John Smith, I do not want to make any movies that will take me away longer than two weeks—that was our pact."

John, who stars in TV's "Laramie" has to go on personal appearance tours very often, and Luana wants to go with him. Her first big picture was "Home From the Hill," and "Thunder of Drums" and "Go Naked in the World," are still to be released.

Think of any medium of entertainment—and Joe Levine is in it, or will be any moment. TV is his newest venture and in association with Martin Ransohoff, Joe is bringing his highly successful "Hercules" character to television with a new star NOT Steve Reeves in the star part. Levine's films starring Reeves in "Hercules" and "Hercules Unchained" cleaned up—but since then Reeves has downgraded Levine's movies which did so much for him.

Second venture of the Levine-Ransohoff affiliation will be a TV adventure series called "Capri" which will star Rory Calhoun with Rory's independent company also cut in on the money-melon. This series will be directed by Irvin Kershner who rated such raves for the same job on "The Hoodlum Priest."

Didn't know Yves Montand was in town until I saw him at the Beverly Hills Hotel at luncheon Sunday with Walter Wanger and Jimmy Woolf. I asked Montand why he is in Hollywood at this particular time. He said he came to make arrangements with the musicians union about his one-man show, which will open in New York Oct. 23 at the Golden Theatre, and which he will bring to Hollywood later.

"Because one show is in the East and one in the West, I have to get everything straightened with the musicians," he said. "I'll be here only three days."

He told me that his wife, Simone Signoret, is in Paris and that she is coming with him when he returns to this country in September.

With all the trouble with Marlon Brando and "Mutiny on the Bounty" in Tahiti, Universal-International is very seriously considering changing plans about filming "The Ugly American" (which stars Brando) in Bangkok.

Marlon movies go on, and on, and on, and if he were in Bangkok, U-I might very well have to go through all the trouble that MGM is going through with "mutiny"—not only in annoyances, but moola.

Hear tell that "Tiara, Tahitia," from Geoffrey Cotterell's novel, will be made in Tahiti, starting next week. How can the island accommodate so many companies—with MGM's "Mutiny on the Bounty" and 20th Century-Fox's "Adventures in Paradise" already there?

John Mills stars in "Tiara, Tahiti" and others are James Mason, Claude Dauphin, and Mexican actress Rosenda Monteros. Ivan Foxwell, the producer leaves this week with James Mason following. This, of course, is a British production.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Must be some semblance of truth in the story I had that Ann Miller and Arthur Cameron were secretly married in Mexico because Elaine Stewart writes that she entertained for Ann and Arthur in Rome and the guests toasted and toasted the newlyweds.

The very pretty girl with Jim Hill, Rita Hayworth's ex, at the Oyster House, was Nancy Layton—an actress.

Out for the first time in over a year, Oscar Levant had dinner with his pretty wife Joan at Au Petit Jean. Oscar still looks sick and here's hoping he'll soon feel better.

Jim Richardson, who was one of the toughest, but one of the best city editors the Los Angeles Examiner ever had, is in Methodist Hospital in Arcadia, Calif., with a broken hip. If you are one of the ones that Jim cussed out, or praised (as he did occasionally) send him a note.

Producers Kubrich and Harris are bidding for the Random House book "Lizzie Borden: The Untold Story" with the hope of filming it. They have just completed "Lolita," which is three hours long—heaven help us!

Amru Sani, East Indian star, has been tested by Walter Wanger at 20th for the role of Charmiam in "Cleopatra." She was named best foreign star in Italy in 1957.

Keep hearing that Bettina, Prince Aly Khan's last love, is getting around on the French Riviera with Mancinelli-Scotti, husband of Elsa Martinelli, who is seeking an annulment.

B&O Adds Third Shift At Diesel Repair Shops In South End

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Tuesday night added a third shift to the diesel repair shops in South Cumberland.

Ray Shields, master mechanic, said 73 men reported for work and that of this number, 15 transferred here from Grafton, W. Va., and four from B & O shops in Newark, Ohio. The rest of the men are from Cumberland and vicinity.

The shops had been unused since 1958 and for several years prior to that the facilities were only partially operated. The gradual increase in diesel locomotive power over the last 10 years curtailed employment in the shops, which for many years had serviced steam locomotives.

Several months ago the shops, which had been renovated for handling diesel power units, opened with a single shift of approximately 125 men. About the middle of June a second shift from 3 to 11 p. m. was put on. Tuesday night brought the shops to an "around-the-clock" operation. About 350 men are employed on the three shifts.

Men from other states where the B&O maintained diesel shops transferred to the local units when their jobs were eliminated by closing of their places of employment.

The Cumberland Diesel Shops will take care of about half of the diesel locomotives on the B&O system and Shields said the third shift will add capacity of 90 more units a month to the total handled. Currently this would result in 465 units being repaired and maintained here each month.

The payroll for the workmen in the big diesel facility last month totaled about $125,000. Adding 73 more workers to the payroll will increase this quite a bit. The pay scale will average out at about $22 per man per day, taking into account the range from the higher to lower paid workers, Shields said.

With full operation, the annual payroll of the diesel shop alone will be in excess of $1,500,000.

Some of the men from the Cumberland area who reported for work Tuesday have been furloughed for as long as seven or eight years. In the period since they were laid off these men have worked for other companies here and elsewhere and have returned to the B&O on a seniority basis.

Tuesday night as the men reported for work they were greeted by Shields. There was an atmosphere of happiness among the workmen. There was a corresponding feeling of pride among the men leaving after working eight hours on the second shift.

They could well be proud of their work because the time lapse from entrance of the locomotives into the shops until they have been finished has been cut to 16 hours, about half of the time needed when the shops were first opened.

There are two tracks inside the shops on which the locomotives move in a progressive manner as repairs are made at different stations. They are similar to assembly lines in an auto factory. There is a side track also on which locomotives which require larger repairs are handled so that the progress on the other two lines will not be slowed.

There are various machines for handling materials, overhead cranes, platforms on which workmen stand as they do repairs on the diesels and drop pits for working beneath the big diesels.

The Cumberland Diesel Shops have all of the more than 15,000 parts required in servicing the diesel locomotives. It is the only shop on the system which is completely stocked with parts.

The diesel shops are so large that Fort Hill Stadium could be set down inside and it wouldn't be a tight fit.

FRENCH ACCENT—Robert E. Sonntag is pictured outside the Capitol in Washington where he will preside as the maitre d' of the Senate dining room. Sonntag, who comes from the village of Rochefelden in Alsace, will begin his new duties on September 1.

Getting Bigger

JERUSALEM (AP)—The government reports that immigration which began with the founding of Israel May 15, 1948, has passed the million mark. Israel's population now is about 2.2 million.

Fly-In Brunch Is Planned At Airport Aug. 13

The Cumberland Pilots' Association will hold a "Fly-In Brunch" on Sunday, August 13, at 11 a.m. at the Cumberland Municipal Airport.

Members of the Mayor and Council and the Municipal Airport Commission have been invited to participate in the meeting.

Complimentary sailplane flights will be offered to the pilot coming the longest distance, the oldest active pilot present and to the youngest pilot.

Trophies for antique and experimental aircraft will be given in various contests, according to G. Wyatt Brenaman, secretary.

The rain date, he said, will be August 20.

Sweet Corn, Apples On Local Market

The state crop report lists the progress of harvest among apple orchards in this area as running just a few days behind schedule.

A large crop of Lodi apples has been harvested and Williams Red apples started last week and will reach a peak this week. Summer Rambo apple harvest will get underway about mid-August.

The peach harvest is running later than usual this year but the volume is increasing this week as the more important varieties mature. In this area the harvest of Redhaven, Jerseyland and Sunhaven peaches started this week with a heavy harvest expected. Other peach varieties such as Triogem, Halehaven and Sunhigh start later this week.

Local groceries and markets are receiving supplies of sweet corn, tomatoes and other truck crops. Farmers had a good harvest of wheat and barley and oats are improving.

The cuttings of hay have been good, but there has been some delay due to rainfall. Field corn is tasseling and growing well. The corn is behind last year.

Steps Up Efforts

JASPER, Ind. (UPI) — The Jasper Corp., a furniture firm, said Monday that in response to President Kennedy's appeal for stepped-up civil defense it will erect fallout shelters at 10 plants in four states.

The shelters will be built at three plants here, three at Evansville, and plants in Henderson, Ky., Lafayette, Tenn., Borden, Ill. and Marlrode Park, Ill.

Bike Registration Continues Good

Bicycle registration continues good at Police Headquarters.

Police Chief B. F. Gaffney said the 33 bikes registered Monday and the 32 Tuesday pushed the year's total past the 1,500 mark, a bit ahead of this time last year.

Bicycles are registered, he said, to help get them back to the owners when they are stolen, and to make sure that they are safe to operate.

It is not a money-making proposition, he said, as the 25-cent fee covers only the cost of the tags and part of the clerical work needed.

Recruiters Here Note Rise In Number Of Inquiries

A marked increase of interest in several branches of the service has been shown locally since the preparedness talk of President Kennedy last week, a check of local recruiting offices shows.

Additional interest is expected as Congress gave the President authority to call up 250,000 reservists into military service and extend active duty tours and enlistments one year.

At the Army recruiting office, many inquiries have been received since Tuesday a week ago. Many have been from men who believe they are nearly ready for calling up by the Selective Service.

The Army, said M-Sgt. Thomas Walbert, the recruiter, is still offering selection of assignment to enlistees together with specific school courses for qualifying high school graduates.

Many of the prospective draftees are finding out the benefits a three-year enlistment has over a two-year period of service under Selective Service, he added.

Quite a few phone calls have been received from young women interested in joining the Women's Army Corps, M-Sgt. Walbert said.

The local Navy recruiters report more than normal interest has been shown, and it appears the August quota will be reached much sooner than has been the case the past few months.

In the past week or so, 17 prospective enlistees in the Navy have passed their tests and are on their way to being processed into the service.

Three of the contacts made to the Navy office were from present Navy servicemen who wish to continue on and two were from ex-servicemen wanting to reenlist.

Similar increase in contacts from young men have been received at the local Air Force recruiting office.

Business Climbs

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Martin Co. reported Monday its operations greatly improved during the first half of 1961.

The missile manufacturer reported its total sales through June amounted to $408,193,230, a gain of more than $106 million over the first six months of last year.

Its net earnings were equal to $1.56 a share compared to $1.24 at the same time in 1960.

Water Rationed

VIENNA, Austria (AP) —Because of a long dry spell, water rationing has been ordered for the resort area of Varna on Bulgaria's Black Sea Coast where Soviet Deputy Premier Alexei Kosygin and Czechoslovak Premier Vilem Siroky are vacationing.

B-47's Face Repairs

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)— Douglas Aircraft Co. Monday announced receipt of an Air Force contract for about $10 million for inspection repair and minor modification of B47 bombers.

Dip In City Voting Rolls Continues

The steady decrease in the number of registered voters in Cumberland continued last month.

The net loss of voters for the month was 24, as seven new voters were added to the rolls while 29 persons died and two others moved out of the city.

The total number of registered voters on July 31 was 9,103, according to a report prepared by Mrs. Janet Trost, registration clerk.

Included in this total are 4,762 while males, 4,198 white females, 81 colored males and 62 colored females.

Since January 1, when 9,378 persons were registered to vote in Cumberland elections, the rolls have decreased 275, chiefly due to the fact that deaths have far exceeded new registrants.

Business in the City Registration Office, located in the basement of City Hall, is expected to begin picking up soon in preparation for next June's municipal election.

Electronics Contracts

FORT WAYNE (UPI)—Magnavox Co. said Tuesday it has received more than $40 million in military electronics contracts within the last 90 days. The contracts include an initial order for a new radar guidance system for missile control, one for communication systems to be installed in satellites and one for $20 million for submarine detection equipment.

Annual Closedown

SCHENECTADY (UPI) — General Electric Co. said Tuesday that it will close its household refrigerator manufacturing department at Louisville for three weeks starting Aug. 7. The two-week annual closedown will be extended an additional week "to complete rearrangements necessary for new model changeovers," a company spokesman said.

Hitler Book Popular

MUNICH, Germany (UPI)—The first printing of "Hitler's second book," a collection of the Nazi dictators' thoughts on foreign policy, has sold out since going on sale last Wednesday, the publishers said Tuesday.

Large Bond Forfeited In Motor Case

A 20-year-old local man forfeited $228.70 yesterday when he failed to appear in Trial Magistrate Court to face six motor vehicle violation charges.

John Albert Northcraft, of 908 Harding Avenue, posted bond early yesterday following his apprehension by State Police Tfc. T. E. Ruppert and a wild chase by Trooper Daniel J. Kerr who said he clocked Northcraft at 80 miles per hour.

Trooper Kerr said he began pursuit of Northcraft, who has a record of motor vehicle violations, after midnight inside the city limits and chased him to the vicinity of Mason's Snack Bar, where a blockade was set up.

The trooper said Northcraft ran through the blockade. He was finally stopped by Tfc. Ruppert on Mason Road.

Charges placed against Northcraft were running a roadblock, failing to obey a police officer's order, reckless driving, exceeding 70 miles per hour, failing to drive to the right of center of the highway, turning off lights to avoid identification, and failing to stop at a stop sign.

Red Tape Nearly Sank Astronaut

Among obstacles confronting this country's space program, it turns out, is the U. S. Navy. At least it is upon the Navy that the space agency now pins much of the blame for Astronaut Grissom's close brush with death and loss of the $2 million Liberty Bell capsule he rode into space and back.

A review of the tense minutes between the capsule's landing in the sea and Captain Grissom's rescue discloses some poor planning. The helicopters assigned to the recovery were too small and undermanned. The nearest frogmen were seven miles away when the capsule landed and blew its hatch, three miles away when it sank.

Meanwhile, Captain Grissom's space suit was filling with water, dragging him lower in the water. Had he gone under, about the only chance of saving him would have been for one of the co-pilots in the helicopters to leap in after him and hope for the best.

The most costly part of the poor planning was failure to employ larger helicopters which, in addition to being able to lift the water-filled capsule, could have carried frogmen. The reason there weren't the larger helicopters, the space agency says, is that the Navy wouldn't guarantee to provide an aircraft carrier to accommodate them.

There is no room in such a program for the needless "make-do" recovery operation that nearly cost a life and did cost much of the valuable data of the perilous flight.

The Free Thinkers

I have received a "special T.V. announcement" to the effect that "Mr. Joseph Lewis, President, Free Thinkers of America and author of 'An Atheist Manifesto,' 'The Bible Unmasked,' 'The Ten Commandments' and many other books on Freethought, as well as 'Thomas Paine: Author of the Declaration of Independence,' will be a panel guest on Betty Furness' program, 'At Your Beck and Call' over Station NTA, Monday, July 31st, 8:30 p. m. to 10 p. m. There will be no restriction as to questions or answers on the Bible, belief in God, etc."

A free thinker is supposed to be a person who regards himself of such superior mentality that he does not believe in a god—any god, but he does believe in himself. Lewis' philosophy is based on Thomas Paine's sentence: "Independence is my happiness and I view things as they are, without regard to place or person; my country is the world, and my religion is to do good."

My country is not the world, which in many areas is too barren. My country is the United States which Thomas Paine did not find of great significance, as it did not exist during most of his life. True, he was a Virginian but he was also an Englishman and his quarrel with George III helped to make us free, although it did not make Thomas Paine fully cognizant of what it meant to be an American.

In a free society an atheist has a right to poke his fist at God, and Betty Furness undoubtedly feels that she is providing this particular atheist with his constitutional right to unmask the Bible and to prove that the 10 Commandments were not revealed to Moses by God but were copied from the Code of Hammurabi who got it all out of his head or from some prior barbarians.

I have never seen a Betty Furness program except during political conventions when she interrupts the proceedings to advertise washing machines and such commodities. I did not know that she went in for theological dialectics. Perhaps we have here hidden behind the television screen an American Isidore of Selle or a female Maimonides who will so thoroughly question the atheist that he will collapse like Job's adversaries.

At any rate, one can shout whatever he desires to shout in this country. He does not need to follow anyone but his own conscience and his own mind, if he has one. In fact, he need not have a mind. The Constitution does not make intelligence a necessity and a moron's vote is as good as a professor's. Such equality is often called democracy.

Imagine what would have happened if the Manhattan Project had been put to a vote! On one side would be Albert Einstein, with perhaps Robert Oppenheimer, General Leslie Groves and a dozen other suspicious characters and on the other side would be some 60,000,000 adults who would wonder what an atom is and why anyone should want to split something that cannot even be seen with the naked eye. It would surely have been voted down unless some politicians knew how to create a crisis to scare the wits out of the people. So-called democracies require crises to get moving.

So we have a society where anyone can say anything, where each individual is entitled to his opinion, where daughters sue fathers for the father's earnings while he is still alive; where politicians rise to discuss great public questions which they do not understand and ghost-writers make a living giving weak minds strong expression. For all this, one can only say, "Hooray!" let the welkins ring loud with discussion and debate.

Perhaps some true believer will ask for equal time, the way politicians do. Then the true believer will prove that the atheist has nothing to say that is newer than what the true believer has to say. In fact, Rabbi Nelson Glueck is even now in the Negev discovering that many of the statements in the Bible which free thinkers had questioned can be proved by the most rigid scientific methods to be true. His archeological work in this connection has been outstanding and even an atheist has to admit that as more knowledge is made available, the Bible is proved to be more right. So maybe Betty Furness will ask Rabbi Glueck to discuss his archeological studies in the Negev.

Kennedy, Ribicoff Make Poolside Pact To Push School Aid Program

By Jack Anderson

(Editor's Note—Drew Pearson is en route to report firsthand on the Berlin crisis. His column today is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's schedule was so jammed the other day that he called a conference on school aid at the edge of the White House pool.

Rubbing the water out of his eyes, he interrupted his workout to talk urgently with aides. Subject: How to maneuver the school bill past the legislative roadblock set up by the House Rules Committee.

Abe Ribicoff, the impeccable Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, showed up at poolside dressed like an esquire model.

He suggested it was hopeless to do any more missionary work with James J. Delaney, the grizzled old Catholic Congressman whose deciding vote is holding up school aid inside the Rules Committee.

Delaney is enjoying his notoriety as the man who blocked the President's school bill. The more he is criticized, he claims, the more it helps him in his heavily Catholic Long Island district.

But other Catholic Congressmen, after checking with their Catholic constituents back home, disagree with Delaney. They accuse him of following the dictates of Francis Cardinal Spellman, not the rank-and-file Catholics.

New Jersey's Frank Thompson, for one, polled parents whose children are attending Catholic schools in his state. Two out of three favored the President's public school bill, even without Catholic aid.

Similar soundings were made by New York's Alfred Santangelo, another Catholic Congressman, who didn't poll the Catholics separately but claims they made up a "large percentage" of those questioned.

He found only one out of four voters in his district wanted federal funds spent on parochial schools. Yet three out of four favored federal spending for public school construction and teachers' salaries.

Massachusetts' Silvio Conte, one of the few Republican Catholics in Congress, also polled some 2,200 constituents of all creeds. He found 1,449 in favor of federal aid for public school construction, 713 opposed. But only 458 favored federal grants to parochial schools, 1,628 against. A decisive 1,535 were opposed even to federal loans for Catholic schools, only 650 voting for the loans.

Encouraged by such support from Catholics, the President in his bathing suit and Ribicoff in his fancy attire made a poolside pact to give the school bill another strong push.

Washington Whispers

Attempted Bribe? — South Dakota's flint-faced Sen. Francis Case stirred up a front-page controversy five years ago by announcing that a Superior Oil lobbyist had offered him a $2,500 campaign contribution in return for his vote on natural gas legislation. It has now leaked out that a similar offer was made later to Utah's straight-shooting Sen. Frank Moss, who could have picked up a $5,000 contribution for voting with the oil boys. Although he needed campaign funds desperately, he refused to sell his vote. Democratic money-raiser Joe Miller, who relayed the offer to Moss, was so impressed that he rushed out and raised twice as much from other sources.

Cheap Insurance Stymied — "Tiger" Teague, the scrappy Texas Congressman, has bottled up a bill that would permit veterans to buy National Service Life Insurance at half the cost charged by insurance companies. The big insurance companies still base their premiums on the death rate in the 1860s, although people live much longer in the 1960s. So the government can offer cheap insurance to veterans without nicking the taxpayers for a nickel. Even the conservative Senate Finance Committee approved the bill which also passed the Senate with little opposition. In the House, however, Teague is blocking the bill from coming up for a vote. Yet Teague is chairman of the House Veterans Committee which is supposed to help the veterans, not the insurance companies.

Pickets At The Fair—The Retail Clerks are preparing to picket the International Trade Fair in Lima, Peru, next fall if Uncle Sam goes ahead with plans to let Sears, Roebuck represent American retail trades. The store workers' beef: They have called for a consumer boycott against Sears for alleged "vicious anti-union policies and practices." How did Sears happen to be selected as the U. S. model? It may be significant that the selection was made by John E. R. McManus, manager of the U. S. exhibit, who came into the Commerce Department after 22 years as a Sears executive in South America and the United States. He was recommended for the job by Commerce Under Secretary Ed Gudeman, formerly a vice president and still a director of Sears.

Freedom Of People Not Included In Red Plan

By David Lawrence

IN EUROPE, Aug. 2 — Every so often the Communist Party in Moscow has come up with a new 5-year plan or with a renewal of a previous 5-year plan. Nikita Khrushchev, however, takes a longer stride — he now proposes a 20-year plan. None of the plans ever reaches completion, but all serve a temporary purpose — to keep down internal unrest and to postpone indefinitely the reforms which the people have been promised.

If a plan doesn't materialize, that is, of course, supposed to be the fault of the "capitalist" countries. Hence it's necessary from the Moscow viewpoint to direct the finger of accusation constantly at the West — which is presumably seeking war or otherwise disturbing the even flow of welfare benefits inside the Communist countries.

The new 20-year plan announced by the Soviet Premier promises that two decades hence in Russia almost everything will be free — water, heat, gas, electricity, education, medical services, apartments, and transportation. Also, taxes are to be abolished and meals will be free during working hours.

There is, however, one big fly in the ointment. Everything is to be free except life itself. In a jail, too, things are free — including food, light, heat, and rent. Taxes also are abolished, because there is no income.

The 20-year plan does not say a word about freedom from enslavement. There still is to be no such thing as free speech, free assembly, a free press, and freedom of worship. In other words, the human mind is to be kept under duress — in prison — indefinitely. The emphasis instead is on material things — as if spiritual things are of no significance. This concept, however, is the essence of Communism.

There is another fallacy of gross proportions in the 20-year plan. Who is to produce all the goods? Who is to raise all the food? The Soviet people — of course — but they are to be rewarded only as the state sees fit. Up to now the slogan of the Communist Party has been: "From each according to his abilities, to each in accordance with his work." Now this has been amended in the 20-year plan to read: "From each according to his ability, to each according to his needs."

This means that the central government decides what are the "needs" of each individual. Can human needs — material and spiritual — be standardized? Can all minds be made to conform to "need" only what the government says each person must accept as its measure of human comfort?

In order, of course, to show how hard it is to put the plan into effect, the Communist leaders are already pointing to the Western countries as obstacles. The Soviet Premier attributes all sorts of hostile motives to other nations and arrogates to himself the role of a virtuous and peaceful world leader.

The 20-year plan, set forth in a 55,000-word document, is the first major program of the Communist Party produced since Lenin's program of 1919. It is full of bitter denunciation of the system of free enterprise in the West. No mention is made, on the other hand, of the high standard of living of the 180,000,000 people in the United States or of the rapid progress being made today in Western Europe which, in the 16 years since close of World War II, has experienced unprecedented economic growth and better conditions of living for the masses than ever before known on the continent.

It is the Communist strategy to attempt to tear all this down with sweeping phrases of derogation, but the truth does travel by word of mouth across the boundary lines, and despite the suppression of newspapers and radio, it does spread. There is indeed behind the Iron Curtain today considerable information as to how well Americans and Western Europeans really live.

It was Abraham Lincoln who said, "You can fool all the people some of the people all the time, but you cannot fool all the people all of the time." That's the real dilemma which the Soviet regime faces as it issues a smokescreen of thousands of words in the new 20-year plan. It leaves unanswered the $64,000 question: "How is it going to be possible to carry out a 20-year plan of free grants of everything if there is to be a nuclear war that destroys it all in just a few hours or days of missile-fire?"

Maybe Mr. Khrushchev is even more sensitive as a politician than he has been reported to be—for he knows his biggest potential enemy is a restless and desperate people inside the Soviet Union, and that a nuclear war, or a conventional war, can bring to Russia another revolution such as occurred in 1917, when the army joined the people in demanding an end to war.

There is a glimmer of hope for world peace in all this — if Khrushchev really is determined to accomplish even a small part of his 20-year plan. For he cannot achieve Utopia if he has to keep on building an expensive armament machine to back up his perennial threats of war.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

DIPLOMATIC IMMUNITY — Residents of this city, and to a lesser extent those of most other large cities, have become aware over the years of the meaning of diplomatic immunity, which is granted to officials and employes of foreign legations.

Their attention is usually called to the practice by an illegally-parked car, an unpaid bill, or the citizen who is not permitted to carry a grievance against one of these privileged persons into court.

But there is one man who is constantly aware of the ramifications of diplomatic immunity, whose job, in fact, is to receive complaints and try to mediate them. This individual, Milton Mitchell, is chief of the Courtesies and Privileges Section of the Protocol Division of the State Department.

His job, probably the most delicate in the department, is to receive complaints from individuals and try to mediate them with the embassy or legation involved. He is concerned not only with the 3,000-man diplomatic corps in Washington, but with the 37,000 other diplomatic personnel of foreign nations located throughout the United States.

What Mitchell does is receive the complaints, verify the facts involved, then go to the proper foreign legation official to see what can be worked out. Unbeknownst to the general public are the many occasions when Mitchell's work results in an amicable settlement. This occurs most frequently in the payment of justly acquired debts, or the reimbursement for damage caused by an immune tenant to a dwelling he occupied.

The biggest headaches for Mitchell are the numerous traffic violations which are committed. Most embassy personnel have fallen so deeply into the habit of disregarding these violations that police departments view them as an incurable irritation. It is true that some legations no longer permit immunity for these violators, and even those that do are beginning to draw the line between parking tickets and the reckless, 100-mile-an-hour speedster who endangers life.

On the job for more than 10 years, Mitchell modestly views his job as "oiling the wheels of the clock so that foreign policy can run smoothly."

Interview With Bill

By Arthur Cantor

While John Crosby is on vacation his column will be written by guests. Today's contributor is Arthur Cantor, co-producer of "All the Way Home" and "The Tenth Man."

Leland Derrick, Broadway Producer, Interviews a New Playwright:

Come on in and sit down, Mr. Shakespeare. Or may I call you Bill? Fine, and you call me Leland. First of all, I must tell you that I just loved your play. Loved it! Flipped over the first act, booked a theater when I finished the second act, called Gadge Kazan and Josh Logan simultaneously at the end of the third. You've got a deal, Bill, and your new comedy, "Hamlet," is going to be the biggest hit of the new Broadway season!

This is what we in the trade call a natural package, Bill. First there's myself, Leland Derrick, a Broadway produced with the promotional know-how and overall taste an attraction like "Hamlet" needs. (Also, I might add, I have a way with ticket brokers.) Then there's you, a new British playwright with a great deal of promise, real promise, and I mean that sincerely. I've already got a hold on two top Hollywood names who want to play the leads. We should sell enough theater parties so that the public won't be able to buy a ticket for six months. And, of course, the play's the thing (as you put it so well in your script) and we have a powerhouse in "Hamlet"—hard-hitting, timely, psychiatrically oriented (the analysis crowd will really dig it), full of laughs and a soupcon of tears — and what's most important — an absolutely sure-fire movie sale for big money. If they're smart, those Hollywood boys may have another "Peyton Place" on their hands.

However, Bill, I'd be less than candid if I didn't mention a few minor changes I'm sure you won't mind making to insure the success — artistically and commercially — of this swell play. The title, for instance. Don't get me wrong — "Hamlet" is not a bad title, it's short and sort of pithy, but it definitely has a small-town flavor for today's American theater-going public.

We want a title, Bill, with an image that grabs you, that makes the marquee throb. What about getting the word "happy" in there somewhere? What about "Make Mama Happy" or "Plain Danish"? Or "I Remember Papa"? Anyhow, give it some thought, and the kids in the office will kick it around and we'll come up with a title that will establish the long-term values we're trying to focus.

Another problem. I've broken "Hamlet" down budget-wise and foresooth, Bill (to use a phrase of yours), you gotta come down to earth. Your opus has 14 sets and 37 characters. Do you realize how much actors and stagehands get paid these days? Let's try to eliminate some of the peripheral actors, the ones that just slow up the plot. Let's face it, do you really need the mother?—

Yes, I know the kid is attached to her, but if we can write her out, we can get rid of her husband, Claudius — nobody's really rooting for him, anyway—and we can strengthen the romance factor between Hamlet and that whacky dame who's stuck on him.

Now, Bill, we can eliminate all the castle scenes, reduce your cast of characters to Hamlet, the girl, and her immediate family, including the old guy who talks so fancy—Polonius, that's right. We wind up with a tight show, but really tight. Four characters and one set. That's right, one set—the graveyard set, which, incidentally, I'm crazy about. That way, we can do the whole play with one curtain, two drops, and a couple of tombstones which I can pick up cheap in Newark.

Yes, it does mean changing the play, but, Bill, this is Broadway, and this is 1961. Please don't be hypersensitive; after all, the theater is a collaborative medium and we all must work together to cut costs without denigrating the basics.

Thanks, Bill, I knew you'd understand. You're a real pro—Now get cracking on those rewrites—rehearsals start September 18. And don't shave off that beard. It makes you look like Paddy Chayefsky. You stick with me, Bill Shakespeare, and I'll make your name a household word!

Don't Expect The Impossible From Offspring

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Some parents have the sense and ability to push their children only as much as the children can take. These youngsters learn to use their full potentials in school, in athletics, and in later life.

These are wise parents; too many expect the impossible from Rufus or Mary. Those at the opposite extreme stifle all aggressive drives. Frustration and feelings of insecurity or inadequacy may result, whether the parents push their offspring too much or too little.

Most fathers and mothers know the rules that help build character. Such training is not difficult, especially when common sense is used and the pace is set with good example. Never allow the offspring to grow up with feelings of distrust for others, disrespect for authority, or a profound sense of guilt. Unless the good is stressed, the little rascal may end up as a smart crook.

The sage parent takes a realistic attitude toward the tot's potentials. In some instances, the possibilities are not evident until the child shows superior ability in some area.

Others regard aggression as a behavior problem. Junior may be difficult to handle when he is overactive and gets into everything. But this should not be misconstrued as devilment. Here again, common sense enters the picture; it is normal for a tyke to be curious and explaining is the only way he can learn.

Destructive and dangerous habits such as biting and hitting should be suppressed. Many of these children can be helped by direction. Their aggression can be channeled into sports or scholastic competition, to achieve mature behavior. There is no harm in encouraging a boy to be victorious, even over adults. Talking back is not necessarily a crime; the least the adult can do is listen, as the youngster may have a point worth considering.

TOMORROW: Getting used to the heat.

GAGGED BY DENTURES

T. L. writes: A man has tried for a year to get used to his dentures but he still gags after wearing them a short time. Don't say, "It's all in the mind," because he is trying desperately to adjust and the dentist doesn't have a solution to the problem. Have you any suggestions?

REPLY

If the dentures fit it may be a matter of emotional adjustment. This is a difficult problem to solve because some people develop a mental block about dentures and just can't seem to wear them in comfort.

EDEMA OF THE BRAIN

G. W. H. writes: What is cerebral edema and what treatment is given for this condition?

REPLY

Swelling (edema) of the brain tissues. Treatment depends upon the cause. A brain injury, for example, may require drugs that reduce swelling or an operation to relieve tension.

SPECIALISTS

C. M. writes: I know that there are women's specialists, but want to know if there are men's specialists too.

REPLY

Yes, if you mean physicians who specialize in diseases peculiar to women or men. Those specializing in women's diseases are gynecologists. The urologist comes closest to specializing in men's disorders, even though he treats women patients with kidney or bladder disturbances.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed Telephone inquiries not accepted Dr Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Speaker Sam Rayburn, breakfasting with President Coolidge one morning, kidded him about his reputation for long silences. The President explained seriously, "I found out early in life you don't have to explain something you haven't said." Adds Speaker Rayburn, "I can't think of anything that's better for a politician to know than that."

A sharp looking youngster asked a clerk at a photo supply store if it made life sized enlargements. "We sure do, sonny," said the clerk. "In fact, that's our specialty." The youngster produced a snap of the Empire State Building.

League Aims Explained To Rotary Club

Robert Little Ebert and Harry Kauffman, co-chairmen of the Cumberland Taxpayers and Property Owners League, briefed members of the Cumberland Rotary Club this week on the objectives of the organization which is being organized here.

They pointed out that August 15 is the deadline for charter memberships in the league.

The League officials presented Rotarians with copies of a leaflet entitled, "This may hurt a little," outlining how modern planning may contribute to a better community under sound government.

One of the points was illustrated by the phrase, "What would you rather pay for — shaping the future or fixing up the past?"

The speakers stressed the importance of meeting downtown problems.

They said 30 per cent of Cumberland's taxes come from the downtown business area and that a decrease in downtown values would have to be met by residential areas.

It was pointed out by City Comptroller Arthur B. Gibson, they said, that the city's tax income from a choice 30-foot site on Baltimore Street, based on the value of real estate and merchandise, is about as much as from 20 modest priced dwellings.

Three Hurt In Crash

A Texas couple and their 14-month-old son were injured yesterday morning when thrown from their car after the father swerved the vehicle to avoid hitting a deer on the Pennsylvania Turnpike about two miles east of Cove Valley in Fulton County.

Admitted to the McConnellsburg Medical Center were George E. Roberts, 23, of El Paso, who sustained abrasions of his left arm and side; his wife, Bridget, who sustained abrasions on her left side and back; and their son, Michael, who sustained abrasions and cuts about his body and head.

Authorities said the family is in "satisfactory" condition. They were traveling eastbound, noticed the deer and when the car swerved out of control it hit the medial strip.

Polaris A2 Scores New Success

The all-solid propellant vehicle soared from a flat pad and continued down range in guided flight to the designated target area. The firing was the 12th successful flight of the Hercules rocket motor.

The Polaris A2 second stage motor was designed and developed at Hercules-operated, Navy-owned Allegany Ballistics Laboratory in Rocket Center, W.Va.

Production of the motor is taking place at the Hercules Bacchus plant. This was the first flight test of a Bacchus-produced rocket motor.

Beall, McKeldin Both Interested In Governorship

At least two Republicans are interested in running for governor next year. They're U.S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall of Frostburg and former Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin.

Sen. Beall acknowledged Tuesday that some Republican leaders have asked him to run for governor, but he hasn't given them a definite answer. His Senate term has four more years to run.

"It's a question in my mind as to whether I could best serve Maryland as a member of the Senate or as governor," he said.

After Congress adjourns, said Sen. Beall, he plans to tour the state and try to determine what sort of program would be best for Maryland's future, and how he would fit in as the leader of such a program.

City Planning

covering urban renewal phases of the program.

The Mayor and City Council last week authorized Mayor J. Edwin Keech to enter into a two-year contract with the Morris Knowles Inc., planning firm.

Mr. Creveling explained the assistance of the state planning department and the particulars of the technical service which would be given to the city and planners by the state department. He further outlined the process to be followed in coordinating the efforts of all the participants in the program.

Mr. Woglom, representing Morris Knowles, said the first phases of the program would cover land use, traffic and public relations. The traffic phase would take into consideration the planned overhead bridge and downtown parking, which are interrelated with the land use phase.

Robert Little Ebert, co-chairman of the Cumberland Taxpayers and Property Owners League, said that his group expects to follow developments of and work closely with the planning commission and city officials in the program.

Albert S. Paye, chairman of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission, stated that the commission will welcome cooperation in these decisions by any civic group, such as the Taxpayers League.

Also attending the meeting were Mayor Keech, John J. Long, commissioner of streets and public property; Mrs. Lucile Roeder, commissioner of finance; William R. Carscaden, city solicitor; C. R. Nuzum, city engineer; George O. Hollar and James Alfred Avirett, Municipal Planning Commission, and Harry Kauffman, co-chairman of the Cumberland Taxpayers and Property Owners League.

West Virginia Units Win Many National Awards

KEYSER — Numerous awards were won by West Virginia chapters at the national convention of Tau Phi Lambda sorority, Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, in Dallas, according to Mrs. Maureen Marsh, Keyser, a delegate.

Mrs. Marsh reported that Mary Alice Summerfield, Dunbar, received the highest honor as "ideal sorority sister." The scrapbook and placard sent from West Virginia won first prize and a new pledge song, written by Mrs. Frances Hartman of Keyser, was adopted by the convention group.

Mrs. Marsh was appointed to the room arrangements committee. She also took part in the opening, closing, pledge, anniversary and memorial ceremonies.

New officers were chosen as follows: Patricia DeMoss, Michigan, president; Patricia Mingledorff, Tennessee, first vice president; Martha Cole, West Virginia, second vice president; Doris Pearson, Michigan, secretary-treasurer; Luanne Worrel, Georgia, chaplain; Virginia Calahan, Texas, historian and Jonny Lou Litel, Colorado, warden.

The advisory committee consists of Carolyn Paugh, California; Mary Alice Summerfield, West Virginia and Jean Howard, Colorado. It was noted that a new torchlight manual is in the process of being prepared. Honors were presented during a luncheon at the Baker Hotel.

Mrs. Marsh returned home via plane to Washington.

A birthday dinner was held recently by the local chapters, Iota Pi and Alpha Alpha Theta, of Tau Phi Lambda at the municipal park. Gifts were exchanged.

The next meeting will be held August 9 at the swimming pool at 6:30 p. m. Each person is to bring his own refreshments. The program will mark the annual family night outing.

The annual rush party will be held August 23.

Parent Asks Piedmont Play Area

Town Officials Will Investigate

PIEDMONT — James Helms requested that the former playground at the lower end of Water Street be placed in condition so the children may play on it.

There is no other place but on the street for children in that area to play according to Helms. He asked the town officials to do something for the children in this area.

It was pointed out to him that the town plans to use part of it for the construction of a pumping station to carry the town's sewage to the Upper Potomac River Commission's waste treatment plant at Westernport. The town will investigate to see what may be done to help the children.

The total recipts from the swimming pool last month amounted to $2,107.90 according to Joseph Maybury, town clerk. He also reported that sales tax received from the West Virginia State liquor store for April, May and June was $388.30 which was about $73 less for the same period last year.

Mineral County Seeks To Fill Six Vacancies

School Schedule Starts August 29

KEYSER—Several changes in Mineral County school faculties were approved Tuesday at a meeting of the county's Board of Education.

The board also approved the 1961 - 62 school term calendar and stated that it is attempting to fill six high school faculty vacancies before the term begins September 1.

The resignation of Grayson Holmes as social studies teacher at Ridgeley High School was accepted. Ronald Alvaro, of Keyser, was named as his successor, while Mrs. Alvaro was approved as a third grade teacher at Ridgeley Elementary School.

Both appointments depend on the release of Mr. and Mrs. Alvaro by the Jefferson County Board of Education.

The appointment of Ray Tobias Stickley as the second manual arts instructor at Keyser High School was approved. No one yet has been named to succeed Stickley as driver education instructor and attendance director for the county.

Mrs. Ethel Driskell, of McCoole, was appointed first grade teacher at New Creek Elementary School. She replaces Mrs. Shirley Rinard.

S. T. McGee, superintendent of schools, said the existing vacancies are at Piedmont High School (English and French, or Latin), Fort Ashby High School, (science and also English and French, or Spanish), Ridgeley High School (mathematics) and Keyser High School (two mathematics positions).

He said that Keyser Elementary School will have one less teacher next year.

The following school calendar was approved:

Previously announced for this past Monday, Mr. Gibson will speak to the club about the problems encountered by Cumberland in building a sewage disposal plant.

Harry Ort will be program chairman for the evening and states that Mr. Gibson also has the figures on the Frostburg Water operating procedures and will probably draw a parallel with Cumberland. He will also relate some of the mistakes likely to be made in constructing a plant which could prove costly to the city.

Route 46 Surveys Now Under Way

PIEDMONT — West Virginia State Road Commission is making surveys for two or three plans for improving W. Va. Route 46, through here.

A report of a confernce by Mayor Donald Mellor and Councilman John Dennison with Walter Galloway, district engineer, and William W. Long, district storekeeper, was given by Dennison at the regular town council meeting Tuesday evening.

The town officials met with Galloway and Long to discuss the serious condition of the state retaining wall on East Hampshire Street, near the home of Edwin Schoppert. The town is fearful that it may give way at any time, causing much damage to the town's streets, water and sewer lines. They were told if this should occur the state would make emergency repairs.

The state officials told them also the state was making surveys as to the advisability of widening East Hampshire Street, widening Elk Garden Road or relocating it which is a part of Route 46.

Hardy County School Term Opens Aug. 28

MOOREFIELD, W.Va. — The Hardy County school year will begin Monday, August 28, with an all day teachers meeting in Moorefield, according to Kenneth Frye, Hardy County school superintendent.

Pupils will register Tuesday, August 29, in a half a day session. The school calendar will include 180 days of classroom instruction as provided by the 1961 legislature. Several days will be available for in-service training of teachers and for a possible loss of classroom time from inclement weather.

Holidays to be observed during the school year includes September 4, Labor Day; November 23, Thanksgiving Day; January 1, New Year's Day, and May 8, election day. Profit-Taking Torpedoes Market; List On Balance

NEW YORK (AP) — Profit-taking on Tuesday's advance first undermined and then torpedoed a stock market advance Wednesday, leaving the list lower on average and on balance.

Tuesday's upward breakthrough in the Dow Jones industrial average, far from signaling an advance to the 725-750 level, ran into a red stop signal. As a result, it declined 3.48 to 710.46.

Weakness spread through the steel, motor, chemical, oil and airline groups. Most other groups were mixed at best, with none showing any strength worth getting excited about.

Over-all volume came to 4.3 million shares compared with 3.99 million Tuesday.

Statistics showed that 555 of the 1,289 issues traded declined and 490 rose, although new 1961 highs rose to 75 and new lows shrank to 7. The number of issues traded compared with 1,270 Tuesday.

American Stock Exchange prices also were generally lower as volume rose to 1.32 million shares from 1.14 million Tuesday.

U.S. government and corporate bonds were lower.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: For the past few weeks I've been driving with my son who is 16. He has a learner's permit and is very careful but of course he lacks experience.

Today, by mistake, he made a left-hand turn just as the light was changing to red. A police car appeared out of nowhere and the boy became rattled and drove on through instead of pulling back. It could have happened to anyone.

The officer gave him such a severe tongue-lashing you'd have thought the boy was caught on the roof with a kit of burglar tools. He ended up telling my son to "go home and stay there till you learn how to drive."

You know very well the only way a person can learn to drive is by driving. Don't you think police officers should be more understanding instead of so hard-boiled? — A MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: How "understanding" would YOU be if a learner crashed a red light and put you in the hospital?

"Mistakes" in traffic can spell the difference between life and death — and this means your son's life as well as others. Be grateful that the officer was tough with the boy. An indelible image of a tough cop may be just what your son needs to give him a healthy respect for traffic signals.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: When I was a sophomore in college I began dating a fellow I was crazy about. He was a sophomore, too, and we hit it off great together. He was the star of the debating team and was pretty good at private debating, too. I lost.

I was confident, however, that he was a gentleman, and that whatever happened between us was strictly confidential.

I was wrong. My very closest girl friend told me last week that her brother who belongs to the same fraternity with my steady, got some very interesting data on me. The details were too accurate to have been guesswork.

My boy friend is coming up next weekend. What shall I say to him? Would it be best to change schools in the fall? If he told one person he probably told many. — HUMILIATED

DEAR HUMILIATED: Tell him he must be brushing his teeth with gunpowder the way he shoots his mouth off. Then show him the door.

Don't change schools, change your code of behavior. One of the many hazards of losing The Great Debate is that the girl, forever after, is at the mercy of a loose-lipped guy.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife died two years ago leaving me with a 15-year-old daughter. I took out a few women but my daughter never liked any of them. Finally, I decided to marry and I picked the best of the lot.

A few weeks after we were married my daughter got into a fight with her stepmother which resulted in her moving in with some neighbors we'd known for many years. I worked out a payment plan for her room and board.

She'll be a high school senior in the fall and I want her to move back home. She says she will if I leave my wife. I get along fine with my wife but my daughter says I'm breaking her heart and my first obligation is to her, not a second wife. Is it?—BETWEEN TWO FIRES

DEAR BETWEEN: Your daughter is being spiteful. Keep your marriage together and don't fall into a trap. Your daughter will be on her own in a couple of years and where will you be?

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Before You Marry — Is It Love Or Sex?" enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

India Industrialists Inspect Paper Mill

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — A dozen industrial leaders of India concluded Monday an inspection visit to the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. mill here.

Members said they hope to be able to increase the output of paper in their native land about 350,000 tons within five years and depending on American methods to help them reach this goal.

Trailers Sold

BUCHANAN, Mich. (UPI) — Clark Equipment Co.'s Brown Trailer Division Monday announced sale of 454 trailers costing more than $4 million to two eastern truck lines.

Pig Raisers

ROME (AP)—There are more pigs in Communist China than in any other country, the new "Production Yearbook" of the U.N. Food and Agricultural Organization reported Monday.

There are 160 million pigs in mainland China—21 million more than the combined total in Europe and South America (101.5 million and 37.4 million), twice the number in North and Central America (79.9 million) and three times the pig population of the Soviet Union (48.7 million). The figures are for 1958-59.

Archeologists have dug up pieces of plank believed to be 10,000 years old.

Fernandez Win Could Cause Furore In Return Match

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — A victory by Cuban challenger Florentino Fernandez over middleweight champ Gene Fullmer in their 15-round title bout here Saturday night could embroil the division in a political battle much bigger than any boxing match.

There is a return match clause in the contract if the 25-year-old Fernandez wins. In the fine print is a statement which requires the Cuban to stay in the United States for 90 days until the next bout.

The idea is to keep Fernandez from taking a quick trip home to Cuba where Premier Fidel Castro, with a middleweight champion to taunt the U.S., might keep him—"Champion Florentino 'si', rematch 'no'."

Fullmer's manager, Marv Jenson, is worried about the outcome even though the National Boxing Association titleholder is a 9-5 favorite.

Fullmer and Fernandez have each been knocked out once.

The outdoor battle in Ogden Stadium will be televised (ABC) starting at 9 p.m. (EST).

Salvation Army Wins 2d Game

Kiwanis Tossers Bow By 8-2 Score

Salvation Army posted its second victory of the season yesterday with an 8-2 decision over Kiwanis Club at Mason Road field in the Hot Stove League.

Jeffreys picked up the victory in a relief role as he stopped the Kiwanis bats after the third inning.

Salvation Army banged out an assortment of 15 hits with Dale Clayton leading the assault with a pair of singles and a three-bagger. Tommy Crabtree had a single, triple and a home run for the winners and Paul Davalli chimed in with a double.

Tommy Stitcher was the big noise for Kiwanis with two singles and a double.

Kiwanis	011	00	0—2 7 1
Salvation Army	012	230	x—8 15 1

Dave Bruce, Kelly (5) and Corrick, Stitcher (5), Dave Fix, Jeffreys (2) and Hendrickson. Loser—Bruce. Winner—Jeffreys. HR—Crabtree (Salvation Army).

Moose Trips Vets, 7-6

Klavuhn's Triple Wins Own Game

Relief hurler Dick Klavuhn tripled with the bases loaded in the sixth inning, then scored on a throwing error to win his own ball game as the Moose edged the league-leading Veterans of Foreign Wars, 7-6, in a Rocking Chair Softball League tilt yesterday at Stitcher Field.

The Vets, losing a game of their lead over the second-place Moose, outhit the LOOM tossers, 11-8, but a three-run rally in the seventh fell short and the VFW bowed for the fifth time this season.

Mel Dean had a double and single, Allan Stevenson hit a pair of doubles, Phil Reuschel had two singles and Jimmy Eckard belted a triple for the Vets. Pete Cecil doubled and singled, Bob Keyser hit a triple, and Herman Lewis cracked a home run for the Moose in addition to Klavuhn's three-run hit.

Klavuhn picked up his eighth win for the Moose while Pete Elliott, also pitching in relief, bowed for the third time in 12 decisions. The results:

V. F. W.	102	00	3—6 11 1

Jack Eckard, Pete Elliott (5) and Sam Brady, Webb Hull, Dick Klavuhn (2) and Paul McGregor.

Dan Division	W.	L.		W.	L.
Indians	11	3	Athletics	6	8
Braves	11	3	Dodgers	6	8
Tigers	7	7	Senators	1	13

Manager Oscar Leasure's Indian's walloped the last-place Senator's 11-0, yesterday at Constitution Park to gain a tie for first place with the Braves in the Dan Division of the Dapper Dan Little League. Both teams are 11-3 and each has one game remaining in the regular schedule.

Left Oliver Newcomer twirled a one-hit shutout to pick up his third mound victory of the year for the Indians. The loss was the eighth in a row and 13th of the year for the Senators.

Alvin Harris paced the Indians at the plate with a triple, double and two singles in four trips while Wayne Beckner chipped in with a home run and single and Joe Reed banged out a three-bagger. The only bingle off Newcomer's slants was an infield tap by Mike Stegmaier in the fourth inning.

Wayne Becker starred at second base with several nice plays while Dave Miller made a good running catch of a line drive into left field in the fourth for the victors.

In another Dan Division encounter at Allegany, the Tigers evened their record at 7-7 with a 16-4 triumph over the Athletics.

The winners scored 11 runs in the first inning and coasted to victory. Melvin Uhl pitched a five-hitter for the win for Manager Val DeArcangelis' Tigers.

Gary Hixenbaugh blasted two home runs in the first inning for the winners, one a grand-slam and the second with two mates aboard to account for seven RBIs in the big frame. Uhl had a pair of singles and a double and Jim Kienhofer belted a triple in the Tigers' attack.

Gary Long had a pair of three-baggers and teammates Terry Ashby and Bob Nave also tripled in a losing cause for the Athletics. Kyle Geatz was the losing pitcher. The results:

Eastern Open To Start Today At Pine Ridge

Course Will Test Pro Golfers' Games

BALTIMORE (AP) — Golf pros entered in the $35,000 Eastern Open found out Wednesday that the Pine Ridge course is growing up and should be a tougher test of their mettle.

Fifty of them toured the 6,820-yard long layout in a preliminary round before starting Thursday on a 72-hole grind, and the general run of scores was nowhere near the low range of the past.

The course, meandering around a city water reservoir, was opened only two years ago and the pros treated the par of 72 mercilessly both years.

Dave Pacan of Orlando, Fla., and Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., both won with scores of 273, a total of 15 under par.

Littler, who led for seven of his eight rounds in the two years, started off both times with 65.

The lowest round Wednesday afternoon by a pro was a 69 by Bert weaver of Daytona Beach, Fla. A pro-amateur best ball competition provided the warm-up test of the course.

"The course is playing much longer than last year," analyzed Dave Marr of Sun City, Ariz., after shooting 70. "The grass has grown more."

Last year, Gay Brewer of Crystal River, Fla., and Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., shared the $620 first prize in the pro-amateur with a low individual score of 66. Brewer took 71 strokes this time and Hebert didn't bother to turn in his card.

Ragan, whose highest score when he won the Eastern two years ago was 70, required 76 strokes in his tour of Pine Ridge Wednesday.

Littler skipped the pro-am, but will be among the 129 pros competing in the open proper. The field also will include 13 amateurs for the first 36 holes. The number of starters will be reduced to the low 80 scores for Saturday's third round and 60 in the last 18 Sunday.

The first prize at stake for the low scoring pro is $5,300.

Hints Of Open Attack Lower Odds On All-Stars

Eagles Favored By 9½ In Friday Tilt

By TED SMITS

CHICAGO (AP) — Hints of a wide open attack, possibly based on a daring spread formation, served Wednesday to narrow the odds against the College All-Stars in their annual football game Friday night in Soldier Field.

Originally the Philadelphia Eagles, National Football League champions, were favored by 13 points. Now the margin is 9½.

"Obviously we're not going to knock 'em over with power," said Coach Otto Graham of the All-Stars. "We'll have to pass."

Coach Nick Skorich of the Eagles, training in Hershey, Pa., drilled his team against the spread formation and declared: "I don't think the All-Stars regard the spread as just a supplementary formation. I think it will be one of their basic offenses."

On the eve of final drills for the game, sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., the All-Stars elected Mike Ditka, Pittsburgh end, as offensive captain and Emil Holub of Texas Tech as defensive captain.

"The boys are really up for this game," said Graham. "They have just as much spirit for it as any game they played in college—maybe more so."

Three quarterbacks — Norm Snead of Wake Forest, Bill Kilmer of UCLA, and Tom Matte of Ohio State — give Graham's All-Stars the potential for a brilliant attack.

Rodriguez To Meet Curtis Cokes Today

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Luis Rodriguez, top - ranking welterweight contender, takes on dangerous young Curtis Cokes Thursday night in the 10-round feature of a boxing card delayed a week because Rodriguez' original flight to Dallas was hijacked and detoured to Cuba.

Rodriguez, a native of Havana who now resides in Miami, Fla., ruled a strong favorite for the Memorial Coliseum bout, but most observers figure he might be in for trouble if he takes Cokes too lightly.

Mantle Hits 40th Homer As Yankees Sweep

A's Lose, 6-5, 12-5; Ford Fails To Win

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees won two games from Kansas City Wednesday 6-5 and 12-5 with the help of four Athletics' errors and Mickey Mantle's 40th home run. But Whitey Ford failed in his bid for his 20th pitching victory of the season.

As Manager Ralph Houk, starting his five-day suspension for a run-in with Umpire Ed Hurley Sunday, watched the sweep on the clubhouse TV, the Yanks capitalized on Kansas City errors to win the opener in the ninth inning.

Then in the second, Mantle got the Yanks off in front with the homer that tied teammate Roger Maris for the major league lead and left them 17 games ahead of the pace set by Babe Ruth when the Bambino hit his record 60 homers in 1927. The Babe hit his 40th in the Yanks 120th game. The New Yorkers have played 103 this year.

But for errors by Wayne Causey, Dick Howser and Joe Pignatano, Ford could well have been charged with his third defeat and have had his string of 13 straight victories broken. As it was the victory went to his relief, Luis Arroyo, who now is 8-3.

By the time the one-sided second contest was over the Yanks had collected 17 hits. The A's narrowed the gap a little with four runs in the eighth. Three came in on Norm Siebern's 12th homer.

Braves Defeat Chicago, 4-2

Second Game Ends In 7-7 Deadlock

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs and Milwaukee played to a 7-7 eleven-inning tie called on account of darkness in the second game of a doubleheader Wednesday after the Braves won the opener 4-2 on the strength of a three-run explosion in the eighth inning.

The umpires suspended play at 7:05 p.m. (CDT) with bright sunshine flooding Wrigley Field. As players and umpires walked off the field the officials were roundly booed by the remaining fans among the original paid turnout of 19,587.

During the standoff Milwaukee overcame a 4-1 deficiet and took a 7-4 lead in the seventh when Hank Aaron smashed his first 1961 grand slam homer. It was Aaron's 27th homer of the season, and the fourth slam of his career.

The Cubs got a start toward a tie when Billy Williams walloped his second homer of the game and third of the day off Johnny Antonelli, third of four Milwaukee pitchers, in the eighth.

Before Don McMahon could restore order in the Chicago ninth, George Altman stroked a two-run single to lift the Cubs into the 7-7 deadlock.

Frank Thomas, who had four hits including his 16th homer in the nightcap, singled for the first two runs in Milwaukee's winning spurt in the opener. Then catcher Joe Torre singled for an insurance run to give Carl Willey, who pitched a six-hitter, his fourth win of the season. He has lost five.

Liston Is Freed On $500 Bail

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Charles (Sonny) Liston, whose recent scrapes with the law knocked him out of contention for the world heavyweight title, was freed in $500 bail Wednesday on a charge that was dismissed at a magistrate's hearing last month.

Liston, 26, was held on a charge of turning off his automobile lights to avoid police during an incident in Fairmount Park June 12.

However, Judge Victor Blanc dismissed a charge of resisting arrest which also grew out of the park incident in which Liston and a companion were arrested for allegedly forcing a woman motorist to pull to the side of a lonely road.

Angels Drop Pair To Sox

Boston Wins Both Games, 8-7, 7-2

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox swept a doubleheader from Los Angeles Wednesday, 8-7 and 7-2, with rookie Chuck Schilling smashing a game winning homer in the nightcap and igniting the winning rally in the opener.

Los Angeles reliever Art Fowler, who had won five straight, was the loser in both games.

Schilling, a boyish appearing second baseman, cracked Fowler's first pitch to him in the ninth inning of the second game into the screen atop the left field wall, breaking a 7-7 tie.

In the first game Schilling's run producing single touched off a five-run Boston eighth inning that broke open a 2-2 tie game. That hit also was off Fowler.

Albie Pearson, Los Angeles center fielder and the smallest player in the majors, led off the second game with his seventh home run of the season. He drove in three more as the Angeles came from four runs back and eventually took a 7-6 lead in the sixth.

Colts To Reduce Squad On Friday

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — Baltimore Colt coach Weeb Ewbank said he will wait until Friday before announcing the first sizeable cut of his 1961-62 grid squad.

Previously, Ewbank indicated he would make the announcement Wednesday.

Meanwhile, coaches were carefully watching scrimmage action, with particular attention to the rookies.

Two hard-hitting rookie backs from Wyoming — Jerry Hill and Mark Smolinski — may be just the ticket for revitalizing the Colt running game. Hill averaged five yards in six tries during Monday's Colt Nite. The 5-foot-11, 210 pound halfback was the team's No. 3 draft choice this year.

Smolinski, although not showing exceptionally long gains in his scrimmages, is reported as a very able blocker — one who can give good protection to passers.

McGuire Slated For Warriors Post

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — Frank McGuire will leave his post as head basketball coach of the University of North Carolina to join the Philadelphia Warriors professional team, it was announced Wednesday night.

Chancellor William B. Aycock said McGuire has asked to be relieved in order to become vice president and head coach of the Warriors. His resignation here will be effective Aug. 31.

McGuire has had an outstanding record as cage coach at North Carolina, including one national championship. Speculation had been widespread that he would leave the university, especially since a de-emphasis program was announced recently following the current basketball gambling scandals.

Maxwell's Pinch Homer Gives Bengals 4-3 Win Over Nats

DETROIT (UPI) — Pinch-hitter Charley Maxwell hit a three-run homer in the sixth inning Wednesday night to give the second place Detroit Tigers a 4-3 victory over the Washington Senators in the opener of a twi-night doubleheader.

The homer led to the third loss of the season for Marty Kutyna against six wins, but all three runs were unearned. With two outs, Larry Osborne was safe when first baseman Bud Zipfel dropped a relay throw from second on a double play ball. Chico Fernandez then singled to set the stage for Maxwell's blast. His fourth straight pinch hit and second consecutive pinch homer.

The Senators jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first inning and added another tally in the fifth on Marty Keough's ninth homer of the year.

The Tigers scored their other run on the second when Norm Cash tripled and scored on Fernandez's single.

Don Mossi, notched his 11th win of the season against two defeats.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Rye and soybeans led most of the grain futures list to higher ground Wednesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.
Wheat rallied near the close, although profit-selling eased prices through most of the session.
At the final bell, wheat was off ⅛ to up ¼, corn up ½ to ⅞, oats up ½, rye up 2¼ to 3½ and soybeans up 1⅜ to 2.
Wheat sales by commission houses and local traders more than offset light hedge selling in early trading. Traders reported new purchases of flour. Other buying came on resting orders.
Japan bought 880,000 bushels of soft white wheat and 440,000 bushels of hard winter wheat. Yugoslavia took 560,000 bushels of hard wheat, and other countries were reported in the market.
Feed grains moved higher following an agriculture department forecast that the 1961 crop will be nearly 20 per cent below the record 1960 yield and the smallest in five years if July 1 prospects are realized.
Local and export buying firmed corn and oats. Good crop weather was reported, but it was said that the CCC has stopped shipping Iowa corn to Chicago and country selling was slow.
Rye jumped more than 2 cents a bushel on short covering and a higher Winnipeg market. Some purchases were believed for flour mill account.
Higher oil and meal markets supported soybean futures, although trading was only moderate. Shorts and exporters bought beans, while northwest brokers sold.
Outside markets were mixed.

Senate Passes Beall's Bill For C&O Park

House Now Must Act On Measure

U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall announced last night that the Senate had unanimously passed his bill, S 77, for the creation of the C&O Canal National Historical Park.

Sen. Beall said the Senate Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs had approved the measure last month, and the Senate gave its approval to the bill late yesterday afternoon.

This makes the third time the Senate has approved a bill to establish the C&O park. However, on two previous occasions the House of Representatives has voted down the bill.

15,000 Acres

S 77 includes an amendment by the Senator from Frostburg which would provide for the purchase of 10,200 acres of additional land for the park. The federal government now owns 4,800 acres in the area planned for the park project, and the amendment would bring the total authorized size of the park to 15,000 acres.

The bill was amended by Sen. Beall after he conferred with Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall, who promised support by the Kennedy Administration for full National Park status for the project.

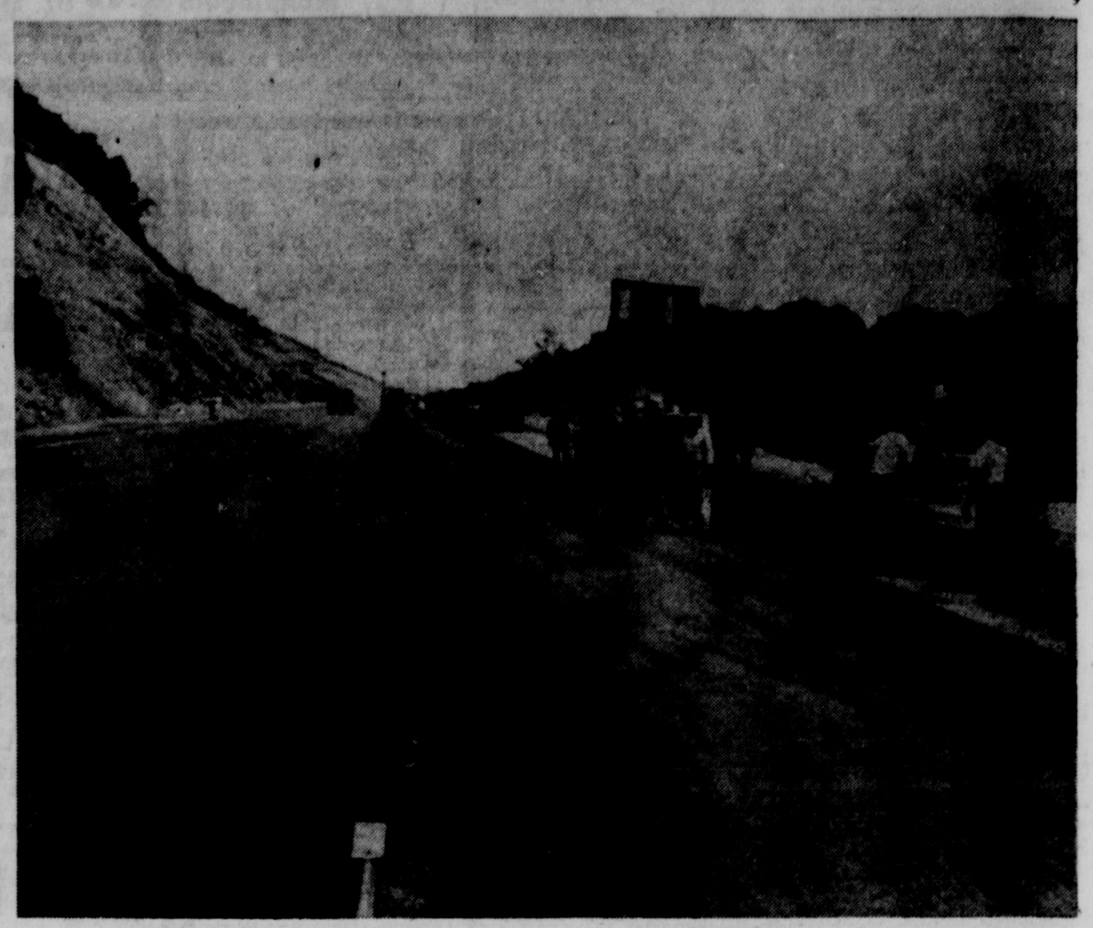
$1,500,000 Cost Limit

The Senate committee which studied the bill put a limit of $1,500,000 on the cost of the land purchase.

Sen. Beall said when the bill was approved last month by the Senate committee that he felt it also would pass the Senate and House since it had the support of Secretary Udall and the administration.

The Senator added the park would be of vital importance to Maryland and the national capital, and to some 18,000,000 residents of seven adjacent states.

A $4.8 Million 'New Look' For U.S. Route 40



Three Route 40 Projects

Contracts have been awarded by the State Roads Commission for four U. S. Route 40 improvement projects between the city limits of Cumberland and Sideling Hill Creek, the eastern boundary of Allegany County. When these four jobs are complete, some 12.08 miles of new road will have been built at a total cost of $4,860,327. The top left picture shows part of the fill for the new Naves Crossroad taken from the Collins Garage at the intersection of Route 40 and Naves Crossroad. The Cumberland Contracting Company is undertaking this $941,430 project which involves construction of 1.4 miles of new Route 40 from Long Hill east toward Wolf's Mill. It includes grading and drainage of Naves Crossroad and building a bridge on top of Long Hill. The top right picture shows the job on the west side of Martin Mountain which is most nearly complete of the road improvements. The S. J. Groves Company of Minneapolis, Minn., has virtually completed surfacing the westbound lane of this 3.59-mile project costing $2,142,230, and surfacing is now moving ahead on the eastbound lane. The lower left picture, taken in the vicinity of Belle Grove, shows progress on the Route 40 work which the George F. Hazelwood Company of Cumberland is doing on an $812,656 contract. This work includes grading, drainage and surfacing of relocated Route 40 from Sideling Hill Creek to the Town Hill relocation, a distance of 2.287 miles. The Groves firm has not yet started work on the fourth job, relocation of 3.8 miles of Route 40 down the east side of Polish Mountain to 15-Mile Creek. This contract price is $963,959.

Garrett Bank Names Thayer To Position

R. Thomas Thayer Jr. of Oakland, who resigned effective August 1 as district forester for Western Maryland, will assume new duties September 1 as special representative of the Garrett National Bank of Oakland.

Bank officials emphasize that they believe the future of Garrett County lies in the proper development of its natural resources.

Mr. Thayer's duties will concentrate on the development of natural resources through conservation measures. Broadly speaking, he will assist landowners in timber management, land management, mineral developments, recreational problems and industrial development.

State and federal agencies have been pushing conservation measures for years, but private enterprise has not been involved in this activity until recently.

Mr. Thayer had been an employe of the State Department of Forests and Parks for nearly 11 years at the time of his resignation. He had been district forester for Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties since April 1, 1960.

Following graduation from West Virginia University in 1950, Mr. Thayer was hired as a forest ranger in August 1950 in Garrett County. From January 1951 until January 1952 he was assistant district forester in Carroll County. He returned to his native Garrett County in January 1952 and has lived there ever since. As assistant district forester he has been interested in private land management and watershed development.

W. A. Clinton Irwin succeeded him as district forester Tuesday.

Optometrists Elect Today

The Western Maryland Optometric Society will hold its annual meeting and election of officers today at 6:30 p. m. at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

The program also will include a talk by Miss Patricia Dantzic, Keyser, W. Va., who will discuss the role of a visual training assistant in an optometrist's office.

Optometrists from Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties are expected to attend tonight's meeting.

Firemen Check Electric Skillet

City firemen get unusual calls now and then.

Yesterday afternoon a local woman who was in New Germany in Garrett County called city firemen when she was uncertain whether she had turned off an electric skillet where she lives on Washington Street.

She instructed the firemen how to gain entrance through a certain door of the dwelling. They obliged and found that the skillet was plugged in but was not on.

In another call yesterday firemen were called to a Fayette Street Address after the next-door neighbor thought the home had been struck by lightning. She thought she detected smoke at the home of a neighbor who is in Florida. No fire was found, firemen said.

House Okays Second Step In Defense

Huge Appropriation Given Kennedy For Planes, Guns, Ships

By JERRY T. BAULCH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unanimous House approval Wednesday gave President Kennedy authority to spend all the $958.57 million he asked for planes, ships and missiles to equip the new defense buildup.

It was another step in the rapid-fire action by Congress to hand the President as quickly as possible the authority and money he requested to deal with the Communist threat to West Berlin and other areas.

Congress already has authorized Kennedy to call to active duty up to 250,000 reservists and to extend active duty tours and enlistments by one year.

House passage of the military hardware bill by a 403-0 vote came after some Republican calls for Kennedy to match his words with action and to cut nondefense spending.

Meanwhile, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara let it be known that despite the need for more military sinew, he does not want an extra $525 million Congress may give him for heavy manned jet bombers.

Before Kennedy's call for more armed might, McNamara had indicated he would not spend the money even if Congress provided it. Apparently he still feels this way.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., to whom McNamara wrote his views, announced he would try to knock out the $525 million when the $46.8-billion defense money bill comes to the Senate floor later this week. The extra fund was voted into the measure by unanimous action of the Senate Appropriations Committee Tuesday.

The extra bomber buildup was included also in the annual $12.37 billion military hardware authorization measure sent to Kennedy June 12.

Money for the $958.57 million hardware authorization sent to the White House Wednesday is included in the bill now before the Senate. It is part of the $3.5 billion extra Kennedy requested last week.

Cyrille Adoula Is New Premier For The Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Cyrille Adoula, a moderate in politics and personality, was approved by Parliament Wednesday as the Congo's new premier and head of a unity government pledged to end violent political strife.

Adoula, 39, is second to take the premiership with parliamentary endorsement since the Congo moved from Belgian colonialism to independence to chaos little more than a year ago. The first was Patrice Lumumba, who was ousted and subsequently assassinated.

Failure to form a new Congolese government could have meant continued political strife of the sort that had brought the United States, the Soviet Union and other powers into the Congo as backers of one faction or another. And forming a new government without Gizenga's participation would have been impossible. He controls the largest single bloc of deputies in Parliament.

Thus Adoula's government is the result of a delicate political balance according places to all forces in the Congo except the separatist regime of Katanga. There, President Moise Tshombe persisted in regarding his rich province as independent from the Congo and refused to allow Katanga deputies to attend Parliament unless he won concessions.

Red China Faces Nationalists, United States In Bid For UN

Two Nations Disagree On Procedure

By SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Nationalist China Wednesday announced agreement on opposing the admission of Communist China to the United Nations this fall. But the two nations disagreed sharply on how to do it.

There also were sharp tactical differences toward the U. N. bid of Outer Mongolia.

Diplomatic sources said the United States definitely would not vote for the admission of Outer Mongolia but would abstain when the question of admission is raised before the 12-nation Security Council next month.

But despite U. S. warnings that a veto of Outer Mongolia may cost the Chinese Nationalists their own seat in the world body, Nationalist Vice President and Prime Minister Chen Cheng was reported to have refused to abandon the veto if that becomes necessary to block Outer Mongolia.

Chen has met twice with President Kennedy in his present visit to the United States.

The question of tactics at the United Natons is complicated by the Soviet Union's threat to veto the admission of Africa's Mauritania for a second time if the Security Council refused to admit Outer Mongolia.

U. S. officials have warned Chen that 14 French-speaking African nations would be angered by a Chinese Nationalist veto of Outer Mongolia that would lead to a veto of Mauritania.

The switch of 14 African nations to Communist China's side in the U. N. General Assembly would almost certainly mean the seating of the Communist regime.

A joint statement summing up two days of talks between Kennedy and Chen said, "The President reiterated firm U. S. support for continued representation of the Republic of China in the United Nations, of which she is a founding member. He also reaffirmed the U. S. determination to continue to oppose admission of the Chinese Communist regime to the United Nations."

Vigilantes Halting German Refugees

BERLIN (UPI) — East German police and Communist "vigilantes" pulled suspected refugees off trains Wednesday in the most intensive action to stop the mass exodus from East Germany since it began a month ago.

The Communists did everything but seal off the East-West city border in their efforts to keep refugees from reaching West Berlin. An estimated 500 persons were rounded up on suspicion of fleeing, but 1,110 reached West Berlin and asked for political asylum.

Among Wednesday's refugees was the chief doctor at East Berlin's police department hospital.

Communist police Wednesday for the first time extended their tight controls to inter-city traffic. They hustled suspected refugees off west-bound subway and elevated trains at main East Berlin junctions.

The vigilante groups of trusted Communist party members used to back police in the refugee-halting campaign have been formed throughout the Eastern Zone, the East German news service ADN said.

Western officials said formation of the vigilante committees was a Communist admission that their traffic controls, strict as they are, cannot stop the record flight to West Berlin.

UAW Ready To Strike GM Plant

WASHINGTON (UPI) — United Auto Workers Vice President Leonard Woodcock implied Wednesday that the union would strike against General Motors unless agreement is reached shortly after the union's present contract expires Aug. 31.

He told a news conference here that the union has made no progress in its contract talks with the giant manufacturer.

"Certainly we are not going to go for a protracted period of time without an agreement" he said

But Woodcock added that the union's members do not want to strike, and there is no reason why General Motors and the UAW cannot reach an amicable settlement.

Behn To Head Secret Service At White House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy Wednesday picked Gerald Behn to head the White House Secret Service detail charged with guarding his life.

Behn, 45, will replace James J. Rowley, whose appointment as chief of the U.S. Secret Service was announced Tuesday. Rowley fills the post long held by Chief U.E. Baughman, whose retirement is effective Aug. 31.

Behn joined the Secret Service in September 1939 and has been guarding presidents since 1941. He has been top assistant to Rowley in charge of the White House detail since 1949.

Fierce Luntu Tribes Beat War Drums Over Massacre Of 600 By Congolese

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Fierce Luntu tribesmen of Kasai beat war drums Wednesday night and fears rose they will take bloody reprisals against Congolese soldiers who massacred 600 of their men, women and children.

U. N. sources reported the scope of the Congolese army massacre was the worst since the violent days immediately following independence.

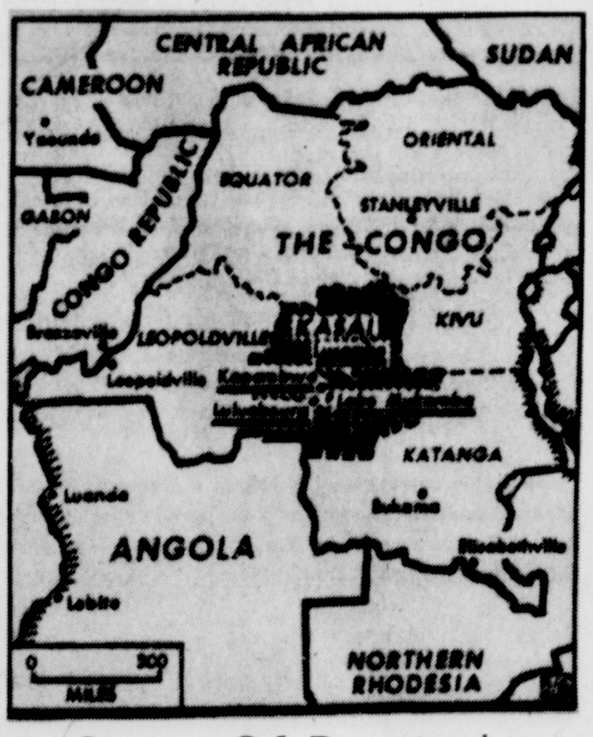
Luntu survivors told of torture, beheadings and of villages burned to the ground in the mass slaughter carried out over several days. Dense clouds of smoke hung over the villages for days, they said.

One U. N. official who flew over the area in a helicopter said he counted hundreds of bodies in the charred ruins of half a dozen tribal settlements near Mutombo and Dubie villages.

The attack came, the U. N. sources said, after Luntu tribesmen, smeared with war paint, ambushed a 50-man Congolese patrol north of Lake Mukamba. Twenty-five members of the Congolese unit, loyal at least in name to the Leopoldville central government, were killed.

U. N. sources said the army's Leopoldville headquarters was informed but that the retaliation order apparently came from the command in Luluabourg, capital of Kasai Province.

A U. N. medical team quickly moved into the devastated area. The United Nations initially claimed no knowledge of the matter.



Scene Of Reprisals

Underlined are points in Kasni province (shaded area) that were involved in violence which killed more than 600 persons. U. N. sources reported fierce Luntu tribesman ambushed a 50-man Congolese patrol near Lake Mukamba, killing 25. The source said Congolese soldiers from Luluabourg and Lusambo massacred 600 civilians from Kapambwe and other villages in retaliation. (AP Photofax)

U.S. Jobless Figure Drops Half Million

Secretary Labor Says Nation Must Create More Jobs

By WILLIAM J. EATON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unemployment dropped by 440,000 last month to 5,140,000 as students who rushed into the labor market in June found jobs or stopped looking for them, the government reported Wednesday.

Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg said the decline was slightly less than usual for this time o year. There was no significant change during the month in the number of unemployed adults.

The number of employed persons also dropped by 207,000 to 68,499,000 in July. It was possible for both unemployment and employment to decline because the labor force — those holding jobs and unemployed seeking work—fell by 647,000.

Despite the unemployment drop, the rate of joblessness after seasonal adjustments rose by one tenth of one per cent to 6.9 per cent of the labor force. It has hovered for months around the recession-level of 7 per cent despite the general business recovery.

Goldberg also reported more long - term unemployment last month. The number of workers without jobs for 15 weeks or more rose by 59,000 to 1,634,000. Of the total, some 1,026,000 had been out of work fo. six months or more.

The Labor secretary said the military buildup to meet the Berlin crisis would relieve some unemployment. But he said the nation was growing so fast that it must do more to create new job opportunities.

Pointing to the number of long-term unemployed, he called for more special training and retraining programs for people whose jobs have been wiped out. He termed this problem a major concern of the administration.

France, Tunisia Hold Firm In Bizerte Crisis

By BRUCE W. MUNN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson failed Wednesday to budge France or Tunisia from their positions in the Bizerte crisis in private talks in New York.

Stevenson's failure increased the probability that the Afro-Asian group would call the United Nations General Assembly into an extraordinary session to discuss the Bizerte situation, possibly by next Monday.

Informed sources said the crux of U.S. efforts to arrange private talks between France and Tunisia averting a U.N. showdown, shifted to Washington where Tunisian Defense Minister Bahai Ladgham was scheduled to confer with President Kennedy.

Stevenson, who returned Tuesday from Paris where he had talked with President Charles de Gaulle and Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville of France, conferred Wednesday morning with Armand Berard, French ambassador to the United Nations.

Then he lunched with Mongi Slim, Tunisia's senior diplomat.

Informed sources said neither envoy gave Stevenson any hope of changing their country's position. Tunisia has expressed willingness to negotiate a Bizerte settlement provided that France acknowledges that it will evacuate the huge Mediterranean military base eventually. France has rejected this condition, maintaining its claim to Bizerte is based on an agreement signed in 1055 when it granted independence to Tunisia.

South Viet Nam Orders Induction Of All Able Men

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI) — The South Viet Nam government Wednesday ordered all men between the ages of 25 and 33 to report for military duty by Aug. 15 to bolster the nation's armed forces against increasing terriorism by Viet Cong Communist guerrillas.

(A State Department spokesman in Washington said Wednesday the United States is considering an increased military-political - economic program to help Viet Nam counter the increased Communist terror.)

28,000 Air Force Reservists Expect Active Duty Soon

Many May Be Sent To Europe

WASHINGTON (UPI) – Virtually all 28,000 of the Air Force reservists just put on alert can expect to be called to active duty and many may be sent to Europe in the face of the Berlin crisis.

That was the prospect Wednesday as the administration buttressed U.S. militay power for a prolonged test of will with the Soviet Union over the Berlin and other East-West issues.

If Russia should sig. a peace treaty with East Germany later this year and again blockade Berlin, Air National Guard and Air Force reserve units loom large in present planning for supplying the free Western portion of the city.

They may be ordered to operate transports in an airlift and to fly escort with their jet fighter planes to West Berlin, which lies 110 miles inside Communist East Germany.

The Air Force Wednesday notified 71 guard and reserve units that they had been given priority for "possible recall to active duty."

The word in Washington Wednesday was that the 28,000 men involved should put their affairs in order and expect to be recalled. It was still possible, however, that some might not be summoned to federal service.

The 71 units include 29 fighter and transport squadrons which could be sent to Europe to bolster the more than 50 regular Air Force squadrons already stationed there.

Besides significantly increasing U.S. ability to provide an airlift, the reserve air units would be ready to support an expanded U. S. Army in Europe.

Administration plans for bringing three Army divisions in this country to full strength will put America in a position to send several divisions to Europe later this year if a Berlin crisis required it.

For example, three divisions would bolster by 60 per cent the present strength of the U.S. Army in Europe. With the buildup at home, the Army still would have a strategic reserve here of an additional three divisions.

Kennedy Sends Salinger To Paris Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger flies to Paris Thursday night to lay the groundwork for a stepped-up allied campaign to present to the world the Western side of the Berlin crisis.

There also was speculation that he might make preliminary arrangements for a Western summit conference that apparently will be held in connection with the Berlin crisis.

But Salinger said he did not want his trip misinterpreted as the first step in preparations for any summit meeting. He said he had suggested the meetings with his European counterparts solely to coordinate their public output on Berlin.

Salinger will accompany Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who will attend a Western foreign ministers conference in Paris. The foreign ministers are meeting to draft diplomatic moves to counter the Soviet threat to West Berlin.

Salinger will meet over the weekend with press chiefs for President Charles de Gaulle of France, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany to discuss coordinating information about the Western position on Berlin.

Senate Confirms Uniontown Man As Federal Judge

WASHINGTON (AP)—In an unusual burst of speed, the Senate Wednesday night confirmed the nomination of a federal judge that President Kennedy had submitted earlier in the day.

The nomination of Edward Dumbauld of Uniontown, Pa., to be U. S. judge for the Western District of Pennsylvania was not even referred to the Senate Judiciary Committee for consideration.

A committee aide said he had contacted all 15 committee members during the day and they had unanimously waived having Dumbauld's nomination referred to them.

Dumbauld is a judge of the Common Pleas Court of Fayette County. The way for speedy confirmation of his nomination had been cleared by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa.

100,798 Men Under 65 Apply For Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the first four weeks of July, 100,798 men below the age of 65 took advantage of the new Social Security law and applied for retirement checks.

The new law, signed by President Kennedy June 30 and effective Aug. 1, lowers the retirement age from 65 to 62 for those men willing to accept smaller monthly payments.

Director Victor Christgau of the Bureau of Old Age and Survivors Insurance said that the 100,798 men were part of a record number of persons filing claims the first four weeks of July.

In all, Christgau said, there were 397,010 claims filed, an average of nearly 100,000 a week. Before Kennedy signed the new law, claims had averaged 50,000 to 60,000 a week.

The law changed various other for men.

Christgau pointed out that the 3.7 million beneficiaries already on the rolls who will get bigger benefit payments—almost one out of four now on the rolls—do not need to apply for their increases.

Those beneficiaries—aged widows receiving benefits on their husbands' account and persons getting minimum rate benefits—will get larger amounts automatically beginning with the checks delivered in September.

The aged widows' benefits will be increased by about 10 per cent. The minimum goes up from $33 to $40 a month.

Other changes eased some qualifications for benefits and cut the amount of benefits withheld from beneficiaries under 72 years of age who work and earn over $1,500 a year.

The Social Security taxes will be increased by an eighth of one per cent each for employes and employers beginning next Jan. 1 and by a fifth of one per cent for the self-employed.

35 Tourists Plunge Into Lake Lucerne

Americans On Tour Of Switzerland In Tragic Mishap

By REIMAR SPRINGMAN

LUZERN, Switzerland (UPI) — A bus carrying 35 American tourists Wednesday plunged into Lake Lucerne from one of Switzerland's most dangerous mountain roads. Police said 16 persons apparently drowned.

The bus sank into 100 to 200 feet of water.

There were 38 aboard the tour bus, including the Italian driver and two Swiss guides, a married couple.

Twenty-two survivors, some of whom jumped through the open sun roof and windows of the bus as it tumbled down a 15-foot rocky bank were taken to the Canton Hospital at Stans. One was seriously injured and others were reported in a deep state of shock.

Taken To Hotel

Later, some of the survivors were taken to the Metropole Hotel in Lucerne, where the American organizer of the tour had booked rooms for them.

"We were expecting 37 persons. It is very horrible," the manager of the hotel said. "They are terribly shocked."

The tour was arranged by Gateway Holidays Tours Inc., of New York City. The 35 Americans aboard came from all parts of the United States from New York State to California and from Ohio to Florida.

Dr. Kuno Burgi, chief physician of Stans Hospital, said survivors told him the bus left the road when a trailer truck approaching from the opposite direction touched it.

"The trailer was empty and apparantly swung out into the center of the road, touching the bus," he said. "The bus fell off the edge of the road.

"There was an instant or so before the bus sank and survivors climbed out through windows and got onto the bank. Those who could not get out of windows must have drowned."

Broke Through Railing

Witnesses said the bus broke through the railing on the side of the road and seemed to hang a moment on the edge of the rocks, then slide slowly down into the crystal-clear water.

The witnesses reported passengers scrambled out of the sun roof, which is usually kept open for better views of the mountains.

The accident occurred at 5:30 p.m. The road was dry, but a drizzle began falling soon after the accident. Hundreds of onlookers gathered on the lake shore at the accident scene, about six miles from this city, although police blocked off traffic.

30 Sisters Of Charity Hurt In Md. Bus Crash

BALTIMORE (AP) — More than 30 nuns received minor injuries Wednesday when the bus in which they were riding veered off a rain-slick highway and struck the corner of an ice cream store in suburban Reisterstown.

All 36 nuns aboard the bus were taken to Baltimore's St. Agnes Hospital for treatment and later released. One of the sisters had a broken nose, the others suffered minor lacerations and bruises.

The bus, driven by George F. Rosensteel, 65, was taking the nuns from St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg, to points in the Baltimore area. All the nuns are members of the Sisters of Charity.

The group had been attending summer school at St. Joseph's and was en route to parochial schools where they reach when the accident occurred. Twenty-seven of the sisters are teachers in the Baltimore area. The others are from Bridgeport, Conn.

A Reisterstown phisician, Dr. Clarence McWilliams, was called to the accident scene by police. He examined the nuns and dispatched those most seriously shaken up to St. Agnes immediately in two ambulances and an Army carry-all, which happened to be in the area. The other nuns were taken to the hospital as transportation became available.

Pope John XXII Conducts Rites For Cardinal

Entire Vatican Honors Tardini

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — A visibly moved Pope John XXIII presided Wednesday at the funeral services for Domenico Cardinal Tardini, one of his closest friends and most important advisers.

The services in ancient St. Peter's Basilica were conducted even while the Vatican was saddened further by the serious illness of Nicole Cardinal Canali. Doctors said Cardinal Canali, 87, is near death.

The entire 108-acre Vatican City was closed during the day as a sign of mourning for Cardinal Tardini, the Vatican secretary of state who died Sunday.

Pope John hurried from his summer papal residence at Castel Gandolfo in an effort to see the 73-year-old Cardinal Tardini before he died but arrived too late.

The pontiff returned again from Castel Gandolfo Wednesday for the funerl Mass said by Msgr. Antonio Samore, secretary of extraordinary ecclesiastical affairs.

Twenty-six cardinals — including Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York — Vatican officials and most of the diplomatic corps to the Holy See attended the services.

In accordance with Cardinal Tardini's wish, his body was buried in the Carmelite convent at L'Etralla, 35 miles north of Rome.

Chinese Told To Despise JFK Administration

TOKYO (UPI)—The people of Communist China were instructed Wednesday to "despise" the Kennedy Administration but warned also not to underestimate it.

In an assessment of the first six months of President Kennedy's tenure that appeared in the Peiping People's Daily, official newspaper of the Chinese Communist Party, the United States was called a "fiendish gambler" that wages all on the last throw—and loses.

The commentary, a summary of which was broadcast by Peiping Radio and heard here, appeared to pursue the Chinese Communist party line that war against Capitalism is inevitable. This conflicted with the "peaceful coexistence" line set down last weekend by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

"On the one hand, because of its weakness, the people of the whole world have every reason to despise the Kennedy government," the Chinese Communist statement said.

"On the other hand, because of its adventurousness, the people... must also take it seriously tactically, must maintain a high degree of vigilance at all times and go on waging a face-to-face struggle against the policies of war and aggression of U.S. imperialism."

FBI Arrests Escaped Md. Convict

CHICAGO (AP) — Robert William Schuette, 39, one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men and an escaped convict from the Maryland State Penitentiary, was arrested by FBI agents Wednesday.

James H. Gale, FBI agent in charge of the Chicago office, said Schuette was seized as he was walking to his new job at Cortland Industries, Inc.

Gale said Schuette escaped from the prison in Baltimore Oct. 6, 1960, where he had been serving a 20-year prison term for five armed robberies. Gale said Schuette had held 25 jobs and changed his address 40 times since he arrived in Chicago in January.

The FBI chief said Schuette was carrying a news clipping which indicated he had been placed on the FBI's ten most wanted list only two weeks ago. Schuette was convicted in July, 1957.

Gale said Schuette told his FBI captors:

"You fellows sure did a good job. I was completely surprised when you grabbed me."

Gale said that before Schuette arrived in Chicago he traveled in Maine, Florida, Texas and California. Gale added that Schuette has a previous record of desertion from the Army, armed robbery, assault and larceny. The five robberies for which Schuette was convicted occurred in the Baltimore area between November, 1955, and June, 1957.

Women Cautioned On Equal Rights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, said Wednesday if women want equal footing with men they must stand on their own two feet.

She told the American Legion Auxiliary Girls Nation that women "must be willing to give up feminine privileges when they demand equal rights."

Sen. Smith urged the teen-age girls: "Don't demand special privileges under the guise of equal rights—whether the issue be on the basis of race, creed, color, religion or sex."

Maryland To Pay Higher Interest

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The interest rate went up slightly Wednesday for the State of Maryland's second bond sale of 1961.

The State sold $16,943,000 worth of the 15-year bonds to a syndicate headed by Chase Manhattan Bank and the First National City Bank of New York, low bidder among four syndicates.

The net interest rate will be 2.92 per cent compared to a more favorable 2.71 per cent on a $20,030,000 issue last Jan. 24.

Bad Investment

LONDON (UPI)—Friends trusted bank official Fred Woodgate's financial knowledge, and gave him more than $70,000 to invest over the years.

But the 67-year-old Woodgate was investing the money in soccer pools without their knowledge. When he was jailed for five years Tuesday Woodgate had only seven cents left.

White House Amends Code Of Conduct

Not To Hamper Free Flow Of News

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today that a code of conduct for government employes has been clarified to prevent any intentional withholding of nonsecret data from the press or public.

Pierre Salinger, White House secretary, said nothing in the code had been intended to restrict the free flow of information.

Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., chairman of a House subcommittee dealing with government information policies, took issue with a section which provided that "employes may not disclose official information without either appropriate general or specific authority under agency regulations."

Salinger said this had been intended only to prevent an employe from divulging in advance to an individual or group specialized information which could be used for personal gain, such as in speculation on stock or grain markets.

Rockets Firing Set

HANNOVER, Germany (UPI)—A West German scientist said on Tuesday the first German - made two-stage rockets probably will be fired in September for weather research.

Dr. August F. Staats, president of the German Rocket Association said the rockets were expected to go 30 to 40 miles into space. Last winter, the association fired single-stage rockets 12 miles high.

Bob Kennedy Says U.S. Is On Defensive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was quoted by the Evening Star Wednesday as saying the United States is on the defensive in a world whose problems are almost overwhelming.

"But I think we're moving ahead inch by inch," Kennedy said in a story by Mary McGrory giving the attorney general's views on the first six months of the administration of his brother, President Kennedy.

Saying he was not pessimistic about the future, Robert Kennedy added: "I guess in a situation like this, if you're holding your own, you're making progress."

Miss McGrory, reporting on an interview with the Justice Department head, said he does not like to dwell on the Cuban invasion disaster, but will say this about it: "Obviously, it would have been better if it hadn't happened, but it would have been disastrous if he (the President) had not learned the lesson of Cuba."

The story said what the President learned from Cuba was to reassess his opinion of the judgment of experienced advisers. He learned to ask questions, to probe and prod after opinions had been given, it said.

"Without that lesson, his brother thinks, we might have been drawn into further and more disastrous misadventures in other areas," the story said.

Appointment of Gen. Maxwell Taylor as the President's military adviser was described as another important consequence of the Cuban setback. The attorney general said, contrary to some reports, that the Joint Chiefs of Staff are pleased over the appointment.

Driving Habits Of British Women Aired

LONDON (AP)—A Briton has been following women drivers around for three months now studying female driving habits. "Terrifying," he reports.

Denis Holmes, who writes for the London Daily Mail, told his readers after his venture into research on the highways that most women are unfit to drive.

"I state this," Holmes said, "with every fear of contradiction."

He accused women drivers of "either progressing at a snail's pace or over-confidently weaving through the traffic in slapdash fashion."

Holmes followed 110 women motorists for at least two miles each. Of these 110 unsuspecting women drivers, Holmes concluded 84 were totally unsafe, 14 were fit to be on the road but only average drivers, 8 were good and equal to any man at the wheel, and 4 were outstanding and better than most men.

One trouble with women drivers is lack of concentration, Holmes reported.

"Their cars are loaded with children, dogs, shopping, flowers —things requiring the utmost attention to the neglect of safety and common sense," Holmes said.

"Rear mirrors, too, have a fatal magnetism and are obviously regarded as a vanity rather than a safety accessory."

He deplored the "weird and erratic hand signals" of most women drivers.

"Drop Attacks" In Elderly Persons Is Hazard Of Age

By The Associated Press

"Drop attacks" in elderly persons, the effects of pressure cooking on vitamins and a possible new factor in tooth decay figure in the medical news.

Age And Falling

Accidental falling is a major occupational risk in growing old. About 75 per cent of such falls are easily explained. An elderly person trips on a step because of inadequate illumination or failing eyesight. Or his shuffling foot catches on a protuberance in a carpet or rug or an uneven flagstone on the pavement.

But roughly 25 per cent of the falls are so-called "drop attacks." The old person is erect one moment, and the next he is flat on the ground. He has remained conscious but doesn't know what happened. Once restored to an erect position, recovery is complete.

Dr. Joseph H. Sheldon of Wolverhampton, England, spent two years studying 200 elderly patients who collectively suffered more than 500 falls.

He found a curious thing about the "drop attack" victims. At least half of them suffered unpleasant symptoms whenever they tilted back their heads.

Writing in the New Physician, published by the Student American Medical Association, he concluded these persons suffered from some temporary failure in the central mechanisms of posture, situated in the brain and brain stem.

The supposed reason for the failure is a decline in the number of working brain nerve cells, rendering the remaining cells more responsive to slight changes in blood supply.

Pressure Cooking

Is food in pressure cookers suitable for growing children? A consultant to the American Medical Association reports that pressure cooking has no more effect than other methods of food processing on the three food nutrients associated with bone development—vitamins A, D, and C.

"Pressure cooking has been shown to be the least damaging to most foods and, in fact, pressure cooking of vegetables results in high retention of vitamin C, the most easily damaged of the vitamins," he said.

Tooth Decay Factor?

A Bethesda, Md., researcher believes "a way of life engendered by religious beliefs" may be a factor in the amount of tooth decay in children.

Dr. C. J. Donnelly compared the tooth decay rate of 290 Seventh-day Adventist children in Prince Georges and Montgomery counties, Maryland, with a group of non-Adventist children of comparable age living in the area. Water fluoridation, a dental health measure designed to reduce tooth decay, was started in the area seven years previously.

The decay rate in children 6 through 9 years of age was roughly the same in both groups.

But in children age 10 through 13—all were several years old when the fluoridation program started—the Adventist group has 40 per cent fewer decayed, missing or filled teeth than the others.

I've Got To Spend A Penny Becomes London's Slogan

LONDON (AP) — Five women members of the House of Commons led a legislative charge Friday against the pay turnstiles that bar the way to the nation's powder rooms.

Ignoring Conservative and Labor party lines the ladies introduced a clause in a bill that would bring down the barricades in public rest rooms for women.

"These turnstiles are a stupid idea which could only have been designed by a man," said one of the bills' sponsors, Patricia McLaughlin, a Conservative.

Public conveniences for men have no turnstiles.

To get through the turnstiles, a penny must be inserted in a slot.

When the penny drops, the lock on the turnstiles opens.

This has led to a widely used expression—now firmly implanted in the language of this country: "I've got to spend a penny."

Speaking in favor of the legislation, Laborite Barbara Castle said: "The turnstiles are not only inconvenient, but dangerous. We cannot wait for the low process of democratic pressure on hundreds of local authorities."

She read comments from hundreds of women from all over the country.

One said an iron bar of a turnstile jerked backwards, injuring her sister who died of the injury the same evening.

Mrs. Castle said the turnstiles were a danger—particularly to expectant mothers.

"There has been case after case of women being trapped on the inside because of mechanical failures," she reported.

Several male legislators rallied behind their 23 women colleagues in the House.

Sir Keith Joseph, ministry parliamentary secretary, said the ministry would send a questionnaire to local authorities about the turnstiles.

Dominican Republic President Making Progress Democratizing His Country

By THEODORE A. EDIGER

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — President Joaquin Balaguer is "democratizing" the Dominican Republic from the same second-floor office in the national palace from whence Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo ruled it with iron hand.

The president has moved into the sacrosanct quarters occupied by the generalissimo. In the first weeks after the May 30 Trujillo assassination, Balaguer had continued to operate from the less imposing palace office he took over when he became president a year ago.

From Washington headquarters, the Organization of American States is watching Balaguer's program. If it goes far enough, economic and diplomatic sanctions imposed against the Trujillo-run country last year may be removed by the OAS.

In two months, Balaguer has spearheaded reforms restoring freedom of speech, emptying prisons of nearly all political prisoners, permitting exiles to return, eliminating controls, improving living standards.

He has set the stage for elections next May, and invited OAS observers.

Oppositionists campaigning for the elections — something that could not be done in 31 years of Trujillo rule — are hitting hard at the Balaguer government, calling for further reforms.

The mild-mannered 53-year-old poet-president replies: "You want me to make this a little Switzerland, and demand that I do it overnight."

The names of Dr. Balaguer and Gen. Rafael L. Trujillo Jr., chief of the armed forces, are booed when mentioned at oppositionist rallies. In his headquarters at President Trujillo Air Base, 20 miles east of Ciudad Trujillo, the generalissimo's handsome, slender, son shrugs: "All my life I had heard 'Viva Trujillo,' now it's only fair to hear the other side."

As chief of the joint chiefs of staff of the armed forces, young Trujillo, 32, popularly called Ramfis, undoubtedly could have the final word on matters of national policy.

But he does not wear the pants alone.

"The president makes his own decisions, but informs me of any important ones," says Ramfis, wearing a medal-packed tan tropical general's uniform.

Balaguer, who as vice president stepped into the then Trujillo-dictated presidency when Hector Trujillo resigned last August, is in a strong position. He has gained such stature and respect that he could conceivably use a threat of resignation as a weapon to wield power.

Roll call was answered with places of interest each would like to visit. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Stanley Morris, Mrs. Daniel Klavuhn and Mrs. Earl Smith gave the sunshine report.

September 5 was announced as the date for the next meeting, which will be at the church. Mrs. William Flora and Mrs. Clair Flora will be hostesses.

No wonder the English keep so cool!

(mix Gordon's Gin in a tall, iced drink–and you will, too!)

The English are not easily fazed, even by summer heat. This national talent was given a cheerful accompaniment in 1769, when Alexander Gordon introduced his remarkable gin. The Gordon's you drink today harks back to his original formula, because one does not tamper with gin of such distinctive dryness and flavour. Try it soon in a tangy Gin & Tonic or Tom Collins. You'll see why, summer and winter, Gordon's Gin is the biggest seller in England, America, and indeed – the world!

4,906 Maryland Drivers Lose Licenses In Six Months

Final Rites Friday For Dr. N. E. Phillips

UNIVERSITY PARK M.d. (AP) — Funeral services for Dr. Norman E. Phillips, former head of the zoology department at the University of Maryland, will be held here Friday.

Phillips died Tuesday at Cheverly Hospital near here after a brief illness. He was 67.

A 1916 graduate of Allegheny College, the former department head was an Army lieutenant in World War I. He received his doctor of philosophy degree from Cornell in 1931 and retired in 1955.

Sports Car Driver Killed In Crash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert F. Taylor of Hyattsville, Md., was killed Tuesday night when the sports car he was driving went out of control, sheared off a utility pole, then smashed into another car.

Police said the 23-year-old electronics technician was thrown from the car when it bounced across the center island on East Capitol Street. Taylor was employed at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at the Goddard Space Flight Center in Greenbelt, Md.

Ranch House Burns At Pikesville

PIKESVILLE, Md. (AP) — A new ranch-type home valued at more than $45,000 was destroyed by fire Wednesday, just hours before the new owners were to move in.

Firemen from Pikesville, Owings Mills, Woodlawn and Lutherville responded to the alarm, and said flames were shooting 50 to 100 feet in the air when they arrived. The house, owned by Daniel Shapiro, was described as a total loss.

Strict Enforcement Plus Point System Reduces Fatalities 26 Per Cent

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Licenses of 4,906 motorists were revoked and 12,228 others were suspended in the first six months of this year, a report to Gov. Tawes showed Wednesday.

John R. Jewell, commissioner of motor vehicles, reported to the governor on the first six months operation of Maryland's new point system designed to get unfit motorists off highways. He also included suspensions and revocations made under discretion allowed him under previous State laws.

The 4,906 licenses lifted by the department included 1,621 under the point system, whereby a motorist automatically loses his license for a 12-point offense or for accumulation of 12 points through a number of offenses.

By far the largest number of these automatic revocations, 1,495, were for drunken driving.

In addition, Jewell revoked 3,285 licenses for various other reasons, including records of violations prior to the time the point system went into effect last Dec. 31.

The commissioner reported that 38,372 motorists received demerits in the first six months of the point system, and many of these drivers will lose their licenses later if they're involved in further violations.

Under the system, a motorist's license is automatically suspended when he reaches eight points and his license is revoked at 12.

One point was put on the record of 31,505 motorists involved in minor moving violations, such as running stop signs.

Three-point violations were charged to 5,091 drivers, who contributed to an accident, were speeding in excess of 10 miles over the posted limit or were convicted of reckless driving.

Five-point violations for failure to report an accident were charged to 19 others.

Of the 12,228 licenses suspended, Jewell said 136 came under the mandatory provision of the point system which levies eight points for leaving the scene of an accident in which there was no personal injury. If there had been personal injury, the driver would have received 12 points and automatically lost his license.

The other suspensions included 9,833 made by the department as a result of accident cases and 3,259 for various other reasons.

The commissioner also put 200 motorists on probation, issued 3,392 reprimands to teenage motorists and 2,896 reprimands to other motorists.

He told the governor there was no question the point system is showing an impact on driving habits and said his department will give "top priority" to administration of the law.

"I have placed a great deal of confidence and hope in the point system as a deterrent to careless driving and an effective traffic safety measure," Tawes said in releasing the report.

"It is too early, I know, to attempt an analysis of the results of the program. I would like to think, however, that there is a connection between the inauguration of the point system and the 26 per cent reduction in fatalities on our highways during the first part of 1961."

Baltimore Expects Tax Increase

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mayor J. Harold Grady said Wednesday the city's tax rate could be kept below $4 in 1962 despite budget requests from various departments for additional expenditures of $20 million.

Grady said the rate could be kept below the $4 mark by "prudential pruning" of budget requests. Earlier, city comptroller Dr. R. Walter Graham predicted a $4 rate was inevitable. "Even with the severest sort of budget cutting, I am convinced a tax rate of $4 or slightly over is inevitable,' 'Dr. Graham said.

This year's tax rate is $3.60 per $100 of assessable base.

Hagerstown Plant Still Strikebound

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — Work on the construction of a new Mack Truck plant here remained at a standstill Wednesday as craft union members refused to cross picket lines set up by members of striking Plumbers and Steamfitters' Local 769.

Union members voted Tuesday night to reject a contract which already had the tentative approval of a committee set up by the union itself. The contract called for a 25-cent hourly pay boost the first year and another similar increase the second year of a two-year contract. Current pay base is $3.50 an hour.

Union agent James J. Donlin resigned his post following rejection of the contract which he helped draw up. He was replaced by Charles Bowers.

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♥	Pass	2 ♦
Pass	2 NT	Pass	3 NT
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Five of ♠

In countless situations the correct bid is a matter of choice. In some cases the player is faced with an out and out guess. In others, the type of strategy should be dictated by the character of the partner. One course may seem appropriate with an optimistic partner, whereas a different choice might be made with one who is known to hold the middle of the road.

South's rebid today after his partner's two diamond take-out is the one in question. When I saw the hand played in a recent tournament, one South actually chose to raise partner to three diamonds, and while technically such action cannot be labeled wrong, strategically it must be looked upon as an error. After the raise North chose to try for game in the minor, whereupon East led the queen of clubs and the result was a one trick set.

The recommended rebid by South is two no trump which North, of course, will be happy to raise to three, a contract which no lead by West can defeat. Actually West will lead the five of spades, and declarer should not yield to the temptation of finessing. With ten tricks in sight and the king of clubs open to attack, should East obtain the lead, grabbing tactics are indicated.

The importance of protecting the strength of your hand from an opening attack is not to be overlooked. Possession of a guarded king should induce a player to try to become declarer. With this thought in mind the better strategic opening by South would have been one no trump. North's proper response is three no trump. Once again the direct method proves superior, and South is charged with a demerit for opening with one heart.

Develop New Valve

NEW YORK (UPI)—Hydro-Aire Co., a division of Crane Co., Monday announced development of a low cost, completely automatic automotive pressure protection dual valve. The valve protects a vehicle's braking system from loss of air pressure due to broken air lines or ruptured brake chamber diaphragms.

Secrets Of Charm
by John Robert Powers

Does Perspiration Get You Into A Sweat?

One discouraged reader admits she is about ready to throw in the towel on perspiration control — except that she NEEDS the towel for mopping-up operations within minutes after dressing each morning. She has lost count of the number of dresses and blouses ruined by excessive perspiration . . . and the number of different deodorants she has tried without success.

She should be relieved to learn that her problem is fairly common among women . . . and not at all completely hopeless, even on sticky summer days.

The first thing she must do is to stock up on dress shields, in all the sizes and styles to fit the different fashions she wears. For her short-sleeved and sleeveless dresses, there are shield attachments for bras. And the portable shields worn with lingerie are an excellent investment.

Having a lot of shields makes it easier to keep fresh by changing them oftener. They may need changing one or more times a day on occasion, so she should be sure to carry a spare wherever she goes.

Clothes protected, it's time to protect herself — with a preparation more efficient for her needs than a simple deodorant. She needs an anti-perspirant to seal off the underarm area and divert the perspiration to other parts of the body.

She can ask her druggist to prepare one of the aluminum salt solutions — usually aluminum chloride — or she can select one of the commercial concoctions. Some of them also contain deodorant. Two or three applications a week should be sufficient to check the excess.

But aluminum salts form acids that may irritate sensitive skin or discolor clothing fabrics. So, it must be used carefully. It's best to wait two full days after shaving the underarms. Then, after it is applied and allowed to dry thoroughly, the underarm area should be washed and dried again. When anti-perspirant is not being worn, a mild deodorant, perhaps a deodorant powder, can be used.

A daily bath and fresh changes of clothing take first honors, of course, in subduing perspiration odor. What's more, the self-assurance that comes with daily daintiness probably has a lot to do with reducing the nervous tension and emotional anxiety that help produce profuse perspiration.

There is a regular program of diet and exercise that I recommend for reawakening vitality and poise, especially during this enervating season. I call it "Summerizing Your Beauty!" and have outlined it in a special booklet. To get your copy, send your request c/o this newspaper, enclosing 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. It will be mailed to you within two weeks.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 1 — So strong is Jerry Wald's memory of his close friendship with Gary Cooper who was to have starred in "Ernest Hemingway's Young Man" (yes, that's the new title on Hemingway's "Adventures of a Young Man") that the picture will be dedicated to Gary.

"And we have cast the young actor I think stands the best chance of becoming another Gary Cooper, I mean Richard Beymer, in the title role," Jerry told me. "We've looked the field over and young Beymer comes closest to the ideal of both Cooper and Hemingway in the opinion of my director Marty Ritt and myself."

Since making "Anne Frank" opposite Millie Perkins at 20th, young Beymer has done "West Side Story" and currently is in "Five Finger Exercise." But this role of Nick Adams in "Young Man," supposed to be the young Hemingway himself, should top his career.

I usually take it with a grain of salt, when an actress says she's through with pictures. But it's true in the case of Luana Patten, who has five years remaining of her seven-year pact with MGM. She's bowed out of her contract and out of "Brothers Grimm."

Said Luana, "Since locations take me to Munich, Germany, and elsewhere—and I am happily married and very much in love with my husband John Smith, I do not want to make any movies that will take me away longer than two weeks—that was our pact."

John, who stars in TV's "Laramie" has to go on personal appearance tours very often, and Luana wants to go with him. Her first big picture was "Home From the Hill," and "Thunder of Drums" and "Go Naked in the World," are still to be released.

Think of any medium of entertainment—and Joe Levine is in it, or will be any moment. TV is his newest venture and in association with Martin Ransohoff, Joe is bringing his highly successful "Hercules" character to television with a new star NOT Steve Reeves in the star part. Levine's films starring Reeves in "Hercules" and "Hercules Unchained" cleaned up—but since then Reeves has downgraded Levine's movies which did so much for him.

Second venture of the Levine-Ransohoff affiliation will be a TV adventure series called "Capri" which will star Rory Calhoun with Rory's independent company also cut in on the money-melon. This series will be directed by Irvin Kershner who rated such raves for the same job on "The Hoodlum Priest."

Didn't know Yves Montand was in town until I saw him at the Beverly Hills Hotel at luncheon Sunday with Walter Wanger and Jimmy Woolf. I asked Montand why he is in Hollywood at this particular time. He said he came to make arrangements with the musicians union about his one-man show, which will open in New York Oct. 23 at the Golden Theatre, and which he will bring to Hollywood later.

"Because one show is in the East and one in the West, I have to get everything straightened with the musicians," he said. "I'll be here only three days."

He told me that his wife, Simone Signoret, is in Paris and that she is coming with him when he returns to this country in September.

With all the trouble with Marlon Brando and "Mutiny on the Bounty" in Tahiti, Universal-International is very seriously considering changing plans about filming "The Ugly American" (which stars Brando) in Bangkok.

Marlon movies go on, and on, and on, and if he were in Bangkok, U-I might very well have to go through all the trouble that MGM is going through with "mutiny"—not only in annoyances, but moola.

Hear tell that "Tiara, Tahitia," from Geoffrey Cotterell's novel, will be made in Tahiti, starting next week. How can the island accommodate so many companies—with MGM's "Mutiny on the Bounty" and 20th Century-Fox's "Adventures in Paradise" already there?

John Mills stars in "Tiara, Tahiti" and others are James Mason, Claude Dauphin, and Mexican actress Rosenda Monteros. Ivan Foxwell, the producer leaves this week with James Mason following. This, of course, is a British production.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Must be some semblance of truth in the story I had that Ann Miller and Arthur Cameron were secretly married in Mexico because Elaine Stewart writes that she entertained for Ann and Arthur in Rome and the guests toasted and toasted the newlyweds.

The very pretty girl with Jim Hill, Rita Hayworth's ex, at the Oyster House, was Nancy Layton—an actress.

Out for the first time in over a year, Oscar Levant had dinner with his pretty wife Joan at Au Petit Jean. Oscar still looks sick and here's hoping he'll soon feel better.

Jim Richardson, who was one of the toughest, but one of the best city editors the Los Angeles Examiner ever had, is in Methodist Hospital in Arcadia, Calif., with a broken hip. If you are one of the ones that Jim cussed out, or praised (as he did occasionally) send him a note.

Producers Kubrich and Harris are bidding for the Random House book "Lizzie Borden: The Untold Story" with the hope of filming it. They have just completed "Lolita," which is three hours long—heaven help us!

Amru Sani, East Indian star, has been tested by Walter Wanger at 20th for the role of Charmiam in "Cleopatra." She was named best foreign star in Italy in 1957.

Keep hearing that Bettina, Prince Aly Khan's last love, is getting around on the French Riviera with Mancinelli-Scotti, husband of Elsa Martinelli, who is seeking an annulment.

B& O Adds Third Shift At Diesel Repair Shops In South End

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Tuesday night added a third shift to the diesel repair shops in South Cumberland.

Ray Shields, master mechanic, said 73 men reported for work and that of this number, 15 transferred here from Grafton, W. Va., and four from B & O shops in Newark, Ohio. The rest of the men are from Cumberland and vicinity.

The shops had been unused since 1958 and for several years prior to that the facilities were only partially operated. The gradual increase in diesel locomotive power over the last 10 years curtailed employment in the shops, which for many years had serviced steam locomotives.

Several months ago the shops, which had been renovated for handling diesel power units, opened with a single shift of approximately 125 men. About the middle of June a second shift from 3 to 11 p. m. was put on. Tuesday night brought the shops to an "around-the-clock" operation. About 350 men are employed on the three shifts.

Men from other states where the B&O maintained diesel shops transferred to the local units when their jobs were eliminated by closing of their places of employment.

The Cumberland Diesel Shops will take care of about half of the diesel locomotives on the B&O system and Shields said the third shift will add capacity of 90 more units a month to the total handled. Currently this would result in 465 units being repaired and maintained here each month.

The payroll for the workmen in the big diesel facility last month totaled about $125,000. Adding 73 more workers to the payroll will increase this quite a bit. The pay scale will average out at about $22 per man per day, taking into account the range from the higher to lower paid workers, Shields said.

With full operation, the annual payroll of the diesel shop alone will be in excess of $1,500,000.

Some of the men from the Cumberland area who reported for work Tuesday have been furloughed for as long as seven or eight years. In the period since they were laid off these men have worked for other companies here and elsewhere and have returned to the B&O on a seniority basis.

Tuesday night as the men reported for work they were greeted by Shields. There was an atmosphere of happiness among the workmen. There was a corresponding feeling of pride among the men leaving after working eight hours on the second shift.

They could well be proud of their work because the time lapse from entrance of the locomotives into the shops until they have been finished has been cut to 16 hours, about half of the time needed when the shops were first opened.

There are two tracks inside the shops on which the locomotives move in a progressive manner as repairs are made at different stations. They are similar to assembly lines in an auto factory. There is a side track also on which locomotives which require larger repairs are handled so that the progress on the other two lines will not be slowed.

There are various machines for handling materials, overhead cranes, platforms on which workmen stand as they do repairs on the diesels and drop pits for working beneath the big diesels.

The Cumberland Diesel Shops have all of the more than 15,000 parts required in servicing the diesel locomotives. It is the only shop on the system which is completely stocked with parts.

The diesel shops are so large that Fort Hill Stadium could be set down inside and it wouldn't be a tight fit.

FRENCH ACCENT—Robert E. Sonntag is pictured outside the Capitol in Washington where he will preside as the maitre d' of the Senate dining room. Sonntag, who comes from the village of Rochefelden in Alsace, will begin his new duties on September 1.

Getting Bigger

JERUSALEM (AP)—The government reports that immigration which began with the founding of Israel May 15, 1948, has passed the million mark. Israel's population now is about 2.2 million.

Fly-In Brunch Is Planned At Airport Aug. 13

The Cumberland Pilots' Association will hold a "Fly-In Brunch" on Sunday, August 13, at 11 a.m. at the Cumberland Municipal Airport.

Members of the Mayor and Council and the Municipal Airport Commission have been invited to participate in the meeting.

Complimentary sailplane flights will be offered to the pilot coming the longest distance, the oldest active pilot present and to the youngest pilot.

Trophies for antique and experimental aircraft will be given in various contests, according to G. Wyatt Brenaman, secretary.

The rain date, he said, will be August 20.

Sweet Corn, Apples On Local Market

The state crop report lists the progress of harvest among apple orchards in this area as running just a few days behind schedule.

A large crop of Lodi apples has been harvested and Williams Red apples started last week and will reach a peak this week. Summer Rambo apple harvest will get underway about mid-August.

The peach harvest is running later than usual this year but the volume is increasing this week as the more important varieties mature. In this area the harvest of Redhaven, Jerseyland and Sunhaven peaches started this week with a heavy harvest expected. Other peach varieties such as Triogem, Halehaven and Sunhigh start later this week.

Local groceries and markets are receiving supplies of sweet corn, tomatoes and other truck crops. Farmers had a good harvest of wheat and barley and oats are improving.

The cuttings of hay have been good, but there has been some delay due to rainfall. Field corn is tasseling and growing well. The corn is behind last year.

Steps Up Efforts

JASPER, Ind. (UPI) — The Jasper Corp., a furniture firm, said Monday that in response to President Kennedy's appeal for stepped-up civil defense it will erect fallout shelters at 10 plants in four states.

The shelters will be built at three plants here, three at Evansville, and plants in Henderson, Ky., Lafayette, Tenn., Borden, Ill. and Marlrode Park, Ill.

Bike Registration Continues Good

Police Chief B. F. Gaffney said the 33 bikes registered Monday and the 32 Tuesday pushed the year's total past the 1,500 mark, a bit ahead of this time last year.

Bicycles are registered, he said, to help get them back to the owners when they are stolen, and to make sure that they are safe to operate.

It is not a money-making proposition, he said, as the 25-cent fee covers only the cost of the tags and part of the clerical work needed.

Recruiters Here Note Rise In Number Of Inquiries

A marked increase of interest in several branches of the service, has been shown locally since the preparedness talk of President Kennedy last week, a check of local recruiting offices shows.

Additional interest is expected as Congress gave the President authority to call up 250,000 reservists into military service and extend active duty tours and enlistments one year.

At the Army recruiting office, many inquiries have been received since Tuesday a week ago. Many have been from men who believe they are nearly ready for calling up by the Selective Service.

The Army, said M-Sgt. Thomas Walbert, the recruiter, is still offering selection of assignment to enlistees together with specific school courses for qualifying high school graduates.

Many of the prospective draftees are finding out the benefits a three-year enlistment has over a two-year period of service under Selective Service, he added.

Quite a few phone calls have been received from young women interested in joining the Women's Army Corps, M-Sgt. Walbert said.

The local Navy recruiters report more than normal interest has been shown, and it appears the August quota will be reached much sooner than has been the case the past few months.

In the past week or so, 17 prospective enlistees in the Navy have passed their tests and are on their way to being processed into the service.

Three of the contacts made to the Navy office were from present Navy servicemen who wish to continue on and two were from ex-servicemen wanting to reenlist.

Similar increase in contacts from young men have been received at the local Air Force recruiting office.

Business Climbs

The missile manufacturer reported its total sales through June amounted to $408,193,230, a gain of more than $106 million over the first six months of last year.

Its net earnings were equal to $1.56 a share compared to $1.24 at the same time in 1960.

Water Rationed

VIENNA, Austria (AP) —Because of a long dry spell, water rationing has been ordered for the resort area of Varna on Bulgaria's Black Sea Coast where Soviet Deputy Premier Alexei Kosygin and Czechoslovak Premier Vilem Siroky are vacationing.

B-47's Face Repairs

Dip In City Voting Rolls Continues

The steady decrease in the number of registered voters in Cumberland continued last month.

The net loss of voters for the month was 24, as seven new voters were added to the rolls while 29 persons died and two others moved out of the city.

The total number of registered voters on July 31 was 9,103, according to a report prepared by Mrs. Janet Trost, registration clerk.

Included in this total are 4,762 while males, 4,198 white females, 81 colored males and 62 colored females.

Since January 1, when 9,378 persons were registered to vote in Cumberland elections, the rolls have decreased 275, chiefly due to the fact that deaths have far exceeded new registrants.

Business in the City Registration Office, located in the basement of City Hall, is expected to begin picking up soon in preparation for next June's municipal election.

Electronics Contracts

FORT WAYNE (UPI)—Magnavox Co. said Tuesday it has received more than $40 million in military electronics contracts within the last 90 days. The contracts include an initial order for a new radar guidance system for missile control, one for communication systems to be installed in satellites and one for $20 million for submarine detection equipment.

Annual Closedown

SCHENECTADY (UPI) — General Electric Co. said Tuesday that it will close its household refrigerator manufacturing department at Louisville for three weeks starting Aug. 7. The two-week annual closedown will be extended an additional week "to complete rearrangements necessary for new model changeovers," a company spokesman said.

Large Bond Forfeited In Motor Case

A 20-year-old local man forfeited $228.70 yesterday when he failed to appear in Trial Magistrate Court to face six motor vehicle violation charges.

John Albert Northcraft, of 908 Harding Avenue, posted bond early yesterday following his apprehension by State Police Tfc. T. E. Ruppert and a wild chase by Trooper Daniel J. Kerr who said he clocked Northcraft at 80 miles per hour.

Trooper Kerr said he began pursuit of Northcraft, who has a record of motor vehicle violations, after midnight inside the city limits and chased him to the vicinity of Mason's Snack Bar, where a blockade was set up.

The trooper said Northcraft ran through the blockade. He was finally stopped by Tfc. Ruppert on Mason Road.

Charges placed against Northcraft were running a roadblock, failing to obey a police officer's order, reckless driving, exceeding 70 miles per hour, failing to drive to the right of center of the highway, turning off lights to avoid identification, and failing to stop at a stop sign.

Red Tape Nearly Sank Astronaut

Among obstacles confronting this country's space program, it turns out, is the U. S. Navy. At least it is upon the Navy that the space agency now pins much of the blame for Astronaut Grissom's close brush with death and loss of the $2 million Liberty Bell capsule he rode into space and back.

A review of the tense minutes between the capsule's landing in the sea and Captain Grissom's rescue discloses some poor planning. The helicopters assigned to the recovery were too small and undermanned. The nearest frogmen were seven miles away when the capsule landed and blew its hatch, three miles away when it sank.

Meanwhile, Captain Grissom's space suit was filling with water, dragging him lower in the water. Had he gone under, about the only chance of saving him would have been for one of the co-pilots in the helicopters to leap in after him and hope for the best.

The most costly part of the poor planning was failure to employ larger helicopters which, in addition to being able to lift the water-filled capsule, could have carried frogmen. The reason there weren't the larger helicopters, the space agency says, is that the Navy wouldn't guarantee to provide an aircraft carrier to accommodate them.

There is no room in such a program for the needless "make-do" recovery operation that nearly cost a life and did cost much of the valuable data of the perilous flight.

Kennedy, Ribicoff Make Poolside Pact To Push School Aid Program

By Jack Anderson

(Editor's Note—Drew Pearson is en route to report firsthand on the Berlin crisis. His column today is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's schedule was so jammed the other day that he called a conference on school aid at the edge of the White House pool.

Rubbing the water out of his eyes, he interrupted his workout to talk urgently with aides. Subject: How to maneuver the school bill past the legislative roadblock set up by the House Rules Committee.

Abe Ribicoff, the impeccable Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, showed up at poolside dressed like an esquire model.

He suggested it was hopeless to do any more missionary work with James J. Delaney, the grizzled old Catholic Congressman whose deciding vote is holding up school aid inside the Rules Committee.

Delaney is enjoying his notoriety as the man who blocked the President's school bill. The more he is criticized, he claims, the more it helps him in his heavily Catholic Long Island district.

But other Catholic Congressmen, after checking with their Catholic constituents back home, disagree with Delaney. They accuse him of following the dictates of Francis Cardinal Spellman, not the rank-and-file Catholics.

New Jersey's Frank Thompson, for one, polled parents whose children are attending Catholic schools in his state. Two out of three favored the President's public school bill, even without Catholic aid.

Similar soundings were made by New York's Alfred Santangelo, another Catholic Congressman, who didn't poll the Catholics separately but claims they made up a "large percentage" of those questioned.

He found only one out of four voters in his district wanted federal funds spent on parochial schools. Yet three out of four favored federal spending for public school construction and teachers' salaries.

Massachusetts' Silvio Conte, one of the few Republican Catholics in Congress, also polled some 2,200 constituents of all creeds. He found 1,449 in favor of federal aid for public school construction, 713 opposed. But only 458 favored federal grants to parochial schools, 1,628 against. A decisive 1,535 were opposed even to federal loans for Catholic schools, only 650 voting for the loans.

Encouraged by such support from Catholics, the President in his bathing suit and Ribicoff in his fancy attire made a poolside pact to give the school bill another strong push.

Washington Whispers

Attempted Bribe? — South Dakota's flint-faced Sen. Francis Case stirred up a front-page controversy five years ago by announcing that a Superior Oil lobbyist had offered him a $2,500 campaign contribution in return for his vote on natural gas legislation. It has now leaked out that a similar offer was made later to Utah's straight-shooting Sen. Frank Moss, who could have picked up a $5,000 contribution for voting with the oil boys. Although he needed campaign funds desperately, he refused to sell his vote. Democratic money-raiser Joe Miller, who relayed the offer to Moss, was so impressed that he rushed out and raised twice as much from other sources.

Cheap Insurance Stymied — "Tiger" Teague, the scrappy Texas Congressman, has bottled up a bill that would permit veterans to buy National Service Life Insurance at half the cost charged by insurance companies. The big insurance companies still base their premiums on the death rate in the 1860s, although people live much longer in the 1960s. So the government can offer cheap insurance to veterans without nicking the taxpayers for a nickel. Even the conservative Senate Finance Committee approved the bill which also passed the Senate with little opposition. In the House, however, Teague is blocking the bill from coming up for a vote. Yet Teague is chairman of the House Veterans Committee which is supposed to help the veterans, not the insurance companies.

Pickets At The Fair—The Retail Clerks are preparing to picket the International Trade Fair in Lima, Peru, next fall if Uncle Sam goes ahead with plans to let Sears, Roebuck represent American retail trades. The store workers' beef: They have called for a consumer boycott against Sears for alleged "vicious anti-union policies and practices." How did Sears happen to be selected as the U. S. model? It may be significant that the selection was made by John E. R. McManus, manager of the U. S. exhibit, who came into the Commerce Department after 22 years as a Sears executive in South America and the United States. He was recommended for the job by Commerce Under Secretary Ed Gudeman, formerly a vice president and still a director of Sears.

Headlines And Footnotes

Premier Chen Cheng delivered a virtual ultimatum from Chiang Kai-shek to President Kennedy that Nationalist China will never agree to a two-China policy but will withdraw from the United Nations if Red China is admitted . . . Chinese Ambassador George Yeh is so discouraged over his inability to influence American policy that he has tried to resign three times . . . Zsa Zsa Gabor's sister Eva has sent Ramfis Trujillo a personal letter offering her condolences over the assassination of his father and inviting him to come up and see her some time. It was Zsa Zsa, not Eva, who got the high-priced car and coat from Ramfis months ago . . . Leo Schaffer, the nation's No. 1 odds maker, told this column that Attorney General Robert Kennedy's crackdown on gambling has scared the big operators into going straight. Most of them have hastily retired, so that it is almost impossible to place a large bet. Only a few small bookies are still doing business . . . Space scientists are trying to improve the reliability of the Atlas missile before using it to launch the first American into orbit around the earth. Both Alan Shepard and Gus Grissom rode into space on Redstone rockets which have a reliability record of 90 per cent. But the Atlas has only a 60 per cent reliability record . . . Grissom's trouble with the escape hatch has convinced the space agency that a third manned rocket launching is necessary.

Freedom Of People Not Included In Red Plan

By David Lawrence

IN EUROPE, Aug. 2 — Every so often the Communist Party in Moscow has come up with a new 5-year plan or with a renewal of a previous 5-year plan. Nikita Khrushchev, however, takes a longer stride — he now proposes a 20-year plan. None of the plans ever reaches completion, but all serve a temporary purpose — to keep down internal unrest and to postpone indefinitely the reforms which the people have been promised.

If a plan doesn't materialize, that is, of course, supposed to be the fault of the "capitalist" countries. Hence it's necessary from the Moscow viewpoint to direct the finger of accusation constantly at the West — which is presumably seeking war or otherwise disturbing the even flow of welfare benefits inside the Communist countries.

The new 20-year plan announced by the Soviet Premier promises that two decades hence in Russia almost everything will be free — water, heat, gas, electricity, education, medical services, apartments, and transportation. Also, taxes are to be abolished and meals will be free during working hours.

There is, however, one big fly in the ointment. Everything is to be free except life itself. In a jail, too, things are free — including food, light, heat, and rent. Taxes also are abolished, because there is no income.

The 20-year plan does not say a word about freedom from enslavement. There still is to be no such thing as free speech, free assembly, a free press, and freedom of worship. In other words, the human mind is to be kept under duress — in prison — indefinitely. The emphasis instead is on material things — as if spiritual things are of no significance. This concept, however, is the essence of Communism.

There is another fallacy of gross proportions in the 20-year plan. Who is to produce all the goods? Who is to raise all the food? The Soviet people — of course — but they are to be rewarded only as the state sees fit. Up to now the slogan of the Communist Party has been: "From each according to his abilities, to each in accordance with his work." Now this has been amended in the 20-year plan to read: "From each according to his ability, to each according to his needs."

This means that the central government decides what are the "needs" of each individual. Can human needs — material and spiritual — be standardized? Can all minds be made to conform to "need" only what the government says each person must accept as its measure of human comfort?

In order, of course, to show how hard it is to put the plan into effect, the Communist leaders are already pointing to the Western countries as obstacles. The Soviet Premier attributes all sorts of hostile motives to other nations and arrogates to himself the role of a virtuous and peaceful world leader.

The 20-year plan, set forth in a 55,000-word document, is the first major program of the Communist Party produced since Lenin's program of 1919. It is full of bitter denunciation of the system of free enterprise in the West. No mention is made, on the other hand, of the high standard of living of the 180,000,000 people in the United States or of the rapid progress being made today in Western Europe which, in the 16 years since the close of World War II, has experienced unprecedented economic growth and better conditions of living for the masses than ever before known on the continent.

It is the Communist strategy to attempt to tear all this down with sweeping phrases of derogation, but the truth does travel by word of mouth across the boundary lines, and despite the suppression of newspapers and radio, it does spread. There is indeed behind the Iron Curtain today considerable information as to how well Americans and Western Europeans really live.

It was Abraham Lincoln who said, "You can fool all the people some of the time, and some of the people all the time, but you cannot fool all the people all of the time." That's the real dilemma which the Soviet regime faces as it issues a smokescreen of thousands of words in the new 20-year plan. It leaves unanswered the $64,000 question: "How is it going to be possible to carry out a 20-year plan of free grants of everything if there is to be a nuclear war that destroys it all in just a few hours or days of missile-fire?"

Maybe Mr. Khrushchev is even more sensitive as a politician than he has been reported to be—for he knows his biggest potential enemy is a restless and desperate people inside the Soviet Union, and that a nuclear war, or a conventional war, can bring to Russia another revolution such as occurred in 1917, when the army joined the people in demanding an end to war.

There is a glimmer of hope for world peace in all this — if Khrushchev really is determined to accomplish even a small part of his 20-year plan. For he cannot achieve Utopia if he has to keep on building an expensive armament machine to back up his perennial threats of war.

These Days

The Free Thinkers

I have received a "special T.V. announcement" to the effect that "Mr. Joseph Lewis, President, Free Thinkers of America and author of 'An Atheist Manifesto,' 'The Bible Unmasked,' 'The Ten Commandments' and many other books on Freethought, as well as 'Thomas Paine: Author of the Declaration of Independence,' will be a panel guest on Betty Furness' program, 'At Your Beck and Call' over Station NTA, Monday, July 31st, 8:30 p. m. to 10 p. m. There will be no restriction as to questions or answers on the Bible, belief in God, etc."

A free thinker is supposed to be a person who regards himself of such superior mentality that he does not believe in a god—any god, but he does believe in himself. Lewis' philosophy is based on Thomas Paine's sentence: "Independence is my happiness and I view things as they are, without regard to place or person; my country is the world, and my religion is to do good."

My country is not the world, which in many areas is too barren. My country is the United States which Thomas Paine did not find of great significance, as it did not exist during most of his life. True, he was a Virginian but he was also an Englishman and his quarrel with George III helped to make us free, although it did not make Thomas Paine fully cognizant of what it meant to be an American.

In a free society an atheist has a right to poke his fist at God, and Betty Furness undoubtedly feels that she is providing this particular atheist with his constitutional right to unmask the Bible and to prove that the 10 Commandments were not revealed to Moses by God but were copied from the Code of Hammurabi who got it all out of his head or from some prior barbarians.

I have never seen a Betty Furness program except during political conventions when she interrupts the proceedings to advertise washing machines and such commodities. I did not know that she went in for theological dialectics. Perhaps we have here hidden behind the television screen an American Isidore of Selle or a female Maimonides who will so thoroughly question the atheist that he will collapse like Job's adversaries.

At any rate, one can shout whatever he desires to shout in this country. He does not need to follow anyone but his own conscience and his own mind, if he has one. In fact, he need not have a mind. The Constitution does not make intelligence a necessity and a moron's vote is as good as a professor's. Such equality is often called democracy.

Imagine what would have happened if the Manhattan Project had been put to a vote! On one side would be Albert Einstein, with perhaps Robert Oppenheimer, General Leslie Groves and a dozen other suspicious characters and on the other side would be some 60,000,000 adults who would wonder what an atom is and why anyone should want to split something that cannot even be seen with the naked eye. It would surely have been voted down unless some politicians knew how to create a crisis to scare the wits out of the people. So-called democracies require crises to get moving.

So we have a society where anyone can say anything, where each individual is entitled to his opinion, where daughters sue fathers for the father's earnings while he is still alive; where politicians rise to discuss great public questions which they do not understand and ghost-writers make a living giving weak minds strong expression. For all this, one can only say, "Hooray!" let the welkins ring loud with discussion and debate.

Perhaps some true believer will ask for equal time, the way politicians do. Then the true believer will prove that the atheist has nothing to say that is newer than what the true believer has to say. In fact, Rabbi Nelson Glueck is even now in the Negev discovering that many of the statements in the Bible which free thinkers had questioned can be proved by the most rigid scientific methods to be true. His archeological work in this connection has been outstanding and even an atheist has to admit that as more knowledge is made available, the Bible is proved to be more right. So maybe Betty Furness will ask Rabbi Glueck to discuss his archeological studies in the Negev.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

DIPLOMATIC IMMUNITY — Residents of this city, and to a lesser extent those of most other large cities, have become aware over the years of the meaning of diplomatic immunity, which is granted to officials and employes of foreign legations.

Their attention is usually called to the practice by an illegally-parked car, an unpaid bill, or the citizen who is not permitted to carry a grievance against one of these privileged persons into court.

But there is one man who is constantly aware of the ramifications of diplomatic immunity, whose job, in fact, is to receive complaints and try to mediate them. This individual, Milton Mitchell, is chief of the Courtesies and Privileges Section of the Protocol Division of the State Department.

His job, probably the most delicate in the department, is to receive complaints from individuals and try to mediate them with the embassy or legation involved. He is concerned not only with the 3,000-man diplomatic corps in Washington, but with the 37,000 other diplomatic personnel of foreign nations located throughout the United States.

What Mitchell does is receive the complaints, verify the facts involved, then go to the proper foreign legation official to see what can be worked out. Unbeknownst to the general public are the many occasions when Mitchell's work results in an amicable settlement. This occurs most frequently in the payment of justly acquired debts, or the reimbursement for damage caused by an immune tenant to a dwelling he occupied.

The biggest headaches for Mitchell are the numerous traffic violations which are committed. Most embassy personnel have fallen so deeply into the habit of disregarding these violations that police departments view them as an incurable irritation. It is true that some legations no longer permit immunity for these violators, and even those that do are beginning to draw the line between parking tickets and the reckless, 100-mile-an-hour speedster who endangers life.

On the job for more than 10 years, Mitchell modestly views his job as "oiling the wheels of the clock so that foreign policy can run smoothly."

Interview With Bill

By Arthur Cantor

While John Crosby is on vacation his column will be written by guests. Today's contributor is Arthur Cantor, co-producer of "All the Way Home" and "The Tenth Man."

Leland Derrick, Broadway Producer, Interviews a New Playwright:

Come on in and sit down, Mr. Shakespeare. Or may I call you Bill? Fine, and you call me Leland. First of all, I must tell you that I just loved your play. Loved it! Flipped over the first act, booked a theater when I finished the second act, called Gadge Kazan and Josh Logan simultaneously at the end of the third. You've got a deal, Bill, and your new comedy, "Hamlet," is going to be the biggest hit of the new Broadway season!

This is what we in the trade call a natural package, Bill. First there's myself, Leland Derrick, a Broadway produced with the promotional know-how and overall taste an attraction like "Hamlet" needs. (Also, I might add, I have a way with ticket brokers.) Then there's you, a new British playwright with a great deal of promise, real promise, and I mean that sincerely. I've already got a hold on two top Hollywood names who want to play the leads. We should sell enough theater parties so that the public won't be able to buy a ticket for six months. And, of course, the play's the thing (as you put it so well in your script) and we have a powerhouse in "Hamlet"—hard-hitting, timely, psychiatrically oriented (the analysis crowd will really dig it), full of laughs and a soupcon of tears — and what's most important — an absolutely sure-fire movie sale for big money. If they're smart, those Hollywood boys may have another "Peyton Place" on their hands.

However, Bill, I'd be less than candid if I didn't mention a few minor changes I'm sure you won't mind making to insure the success — artistically and commercially — of this swell play. The title, for instance. Don't get me wrong — "Hamlet" is not a bad title, it's short and sort of pithy, but it definitely has a small-town flavor for today's American theater-going public.

We want a title, Bill, with an image that grabs you, that makes the marquee throb. What about getting the word "happy" in there somewhere? What about "Make Mama Happy" or "Plain Danish"? Or "I Remember Papa"? Anyhow, give it some thought, and the kids in the office will kick it around and we'll come up with a title that will establish the long-term values we're trying to focus.

Another problem. I've broken "Hamlet" down budget-wise and foresooth, Bill (to use a phrase of yours), you gotta come down to earth. Your opus has 14 sets and 37 characters. Do you realize how much actors and stagehands get paid these days? Let's try to eliminate some of the peripheral actors, the ones that just slow up the plot. Let's face it, do you really need the mother?—

Yes, I know the kid is attached to her, but if we can write her out, we can get rid of her husband, Claudius — nobody's really rooting for him, anyway—and we can strengthen the romance factor between Hamlet and that whacky dame who's stuck on him.

Now, Bill, we can eliminate all the castle scenes, reduce your cast of characters to Hamlet, the girl, and her immediate family, including the old guy who talks so fancy—Polonius, that's right. We wind up with a tight show, but really tight. Four characters and one set. That's right, one set—the graveyard set, which, incidentally, I'm crazy about. That way, we can do the whole play with one curtain, two drops, and a couple of tombstones which I can pick up cheap in Newark.

Yes, it does mean changing the play, but, Bill, this is Broadway, and this is 1961. Please don't be hypersensitive; after all, the theater is a collaborative medium and we all must work together to cut costs without denigrating the basics.

Thanks, Bill, I knew you'd understand. You're a real pro—Now get cracking on those rewrites—rehearsals start September 18. And don't shave off that beard. It makes you look like Paddy Chayefsky. You stick with me, Bill Shakespeare, and I'll make your name a household word!

Don't Expect The Impossible From Offspring

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Some parents have the sense and ability to push their children only as much as the children can take. These youngsters learn to use their full potentials in school, in athletics, and in later life.

These are wise parents; too many expect the impossible from Rufus or Mary. Those at the opposite extreme stifle all aggressive drives. Frustration and feelings of insecurity or inadequacy may result, whether the parents push their offspring too much or too little.

Most fathers and mothers know the rules that help build character. Such training is not difficult, especially when common sense is used and the pace is set with good example. Never allow the offspring to grow up with feelings of distrust for others, disrespect for authority, or a profound sense of guilt. Unless the good is stressed, the little rascal may end up as a smart crook.

The sage parent takes a realistic attitude toward the tot's potentials. In some instances, the possibilities are not evident until the child shows superior ability in some area.

Others regard aggression as a behavior problem. Junior may be difficult to handle when he is overactive and gets into everything. But this should not be misconstrued as devilment. Here again, common sense enters the picture; it is normal for a tyke to be curious and explaining is the only way he can learn.

Destructive and dangerous habits such as biting and hitting should be suppressed. Many of these children can be helped by direction. Their aggression can be channeled into sports or scholastic competition, to achieve mature behavior. There is no harm in encouraging a boy to be victorious, even over adults. Talking back is not necessarily a crime; the least the adult can do is listen, as the youngster may have a point worth considering.

TOMORROW: Getting used to the heat.

GAGGED BY DENTURES

T. L. writes: A man has tried for a year to get used to his dentures but he still gags after wearing them a short time. Don't say, "It's all in the mind," because he is trying desperately to adjust and the dentist doesn't have a solution to the problem. Have you any suggestions?

REPLY

If the dentures fit it may be a matter of emotional adjustment. This is a difficult problem to solve because some people develop a mental block about dentures and just can't seem to wear them in comfort.

EDEMA OF THE BRAIN

G. W. H. writes: What is cerebral edema and what treatment is given for this condition?

REPLY

Swelling (edema) of the brain tissues. Treatment depends upon the cause. A brain injury, for example, may require drugs that reduce swelling or an operation to relieve tension.

SPECIALISTS

C. M. writes: I know that there are women's specialists, but want to know if there are men's specialists too.

REPLY

Yes, if you mean physicians who specialize in diseases peculiar to women or men. Those specializing in women's diseases are gynecologists. The urologist comes closest to specializing in men's disorders, even though he treats women patients with kidney or bladder disturbances.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Speaker Sam Rayburn, breakfasting with President Coolidge one morning, kidded him about his reputation for long silences. The President explained seriously, "I found out early in life you don't have to explain something you haven't said." Adds Speaker Rayburn, "I can't think of anything that's better for a politician to know than that."

A sharp looking youngster asked a clerk at a photo supply store if it made life sized enlargements. "We sure do, sonny," said the clerk. "In fact, that's our specialty." The youngster produced a snap of the Empire State Building.

and once seated, was immediately besieged for autographs. "Please go away," implored Dinah's daughter. "She's not Dinah Shore this afternoon. She's my mommy."

You're Telling Me

League Aims Explained To Rotary Club

Robert Little Ebert and Harry Kauffman, co-chairmen of the Cumberland Taxpayers and Property Owners League, briefed members of the Cumberland Rotary Club this week on the objectives of the organization which is being organized here.

They pointed out that August 15 is the deadline for charter memberships in the league.

The League officials presented Rotarians with copies of a leaflet entitled, "This may hurt a little," outlining how modern planning may contribute to a better community under sound government.

One of the points was illustrated by the phrase, "What would you rather pay for — shaping the future or fixing up the past?"

The speakers stressed the importance of meeting downtown problems.

They said 30 per cent of Cumberland's taxes come from the downtown business area and that a decrease in downtown values would have to be met by residential areas.

It was pointed out by City Comptroller Arthur B. Gibson, they said, that the city's tax income from a choice 30-foot site on Baltimore Street, based on the value of real estate and merchandise, is about as much as from 20 modest priced dwellings.

Three Hurt In Crash

A Texas couple and their 14-month-old son were injured yesterday morning when thrown from their car after the father swerved the vehicle to avoid hitting a deer on the Pennsylvania Turnpike about two miles east of Cove Valley in Fulton County.

Admitted to the McConnellsburg Medical Center were George E. Roberts, 23, of El Paso, who sustained abrasions of his left arm and side; his wife, Bridget, who sustained abrasions on her left side and back; and their son, Michael, who sustained abrasions and cuts about his body and head.

Authorities said the family is in "satisfactory" condition. They were traveling eastbound, noticed the deer and when the car swerved out of control it hit the medial strip.

Polaris A2 Scores New Success

A Polaris A2 missile equipped with a second stage motor produced at Hercules Powder Company's Bacchus, Utah, plant was successfully flight tested yesterday at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The all-solid propellant vehicle soared from a flat pad and continued down range in guided flight to the designated target area. The firing was the 12th successful flight of the Hercules rocket motor.

The Polaris A2 second stage motor was designed and developed at Hercules-operated, Navy-owned Allegany Ballistics Laboratory in Rocket Center, W.Va.

Production of the motor is taking place at the Hercules Bacchus plant. This was the first flight test of a Bacchus-produced rocket motor.

Beall, McKeldin Both Interested In Governorship

At least two Republicans are interested in running for governor next year. They're U.S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall of Frostburg and former Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin.

Sen. Beall acknowledged Tuesday that some Republican leaders have asked him to run for governor, but he hasn't given them a definite answer. His Senate term has four more years to run.

"It's a question in my mind as to whether I could best serve Maryland as a member of the Senate or as governor," he said.

After Congress adjourns, said Sen. Beall, he plans to tour the state and try to determine what sort of program would be best for Maryland's future, and how he would fit in as the leader of such a program.

City Planning

covering urban renewal phases of the program.

The Mayor and City Council last week authorized Mayor J. Edwin Keech to enter into a two-year contract with the Morris Knowles Inc. planning firm.

Mr. Creveling explained the assistance of the state planning department and the particulars of the technical service which would be given to the city and planners by the state department. He further outlined the process to be followed in coordinating the efforts of all the participants in the program.

Mr. Woglom, representing Morris Knowles, said the first phases of the program would cover land use, traffic and public relations. The traffic phase would take into consideration the planned overhead bridge and downtown parking, which are interrelated with the land use phase.

Robert Little Ebert, co-chairman of the Cumberland Taxpayers and Property Owners League, said that his group expects to follow developments of and work closely with the planning commission and city officials in the program.

Albert S. Paye, chairman of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission, stated that the commission will welcome cooperation in these decisions by any civic group, such as the Taxpayers League.

Also attending the meeting were Mayor Keech, John J. Long, commissioner of streets and public property; Mrs. Lucile Roeder, commissioner of finance; William R. Carscaden, city solicitor; C. R. Nuzum, city engineer; George O. Hollar and James Alfred Avirett, Municipal Planning Commission, and Harry Kauffman, co-chairman of the Cumberland Taxpayers and Property Owners League.

Parent Asks Piedmont Play Area

Town Officials Will Investigate

PIEDMONT — James Helms requested that the former playground at the lower end of Water Street be placed in condition so the children may play on it.

There is no other place but on the street for children in that area to play according to Helms. He asked the town officials to do something for the children in this area.

It was pointed out to him that the town plans to use part of it for the construction of a pumping station to carry the town's sewage to the Upper Potomac River Commission's waste treatment plant at Westernport. The town will investigate to see what may be done to help the children.

Upper Potomac Television Company was granted a permit to erect a flexi-alumin hawning in front of its store at 77 Ashfield Street.

The approval of a permit applied for by Robert Dawson for the construction of an ice skating rink in the vicinty of the Ice Company Incorporated and Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks was deferred until more information is obtained.

The report of the Police Department for the month of July submitted by Charles Spiker, chief, revealed 105 complaints had been received.

It also stated eight automobile accidents with three persons injured; 10 warnings issued; seven intoxications; five investigations; two hazardous driving; five speeding; two reckless driving; two driving on expired temporary tags; five gambling; 15 prowl calls; one assault and battery; one failing to keep to the right of the road; one violation of garage ordinance; two violation of ball ordinance; one violation of photograph and soliciting ordinance and indecent exposure.

Route 46 Surveys Now Under Way

PIEDMONT — West Virginia State Road Commission is making surveys for two or three plans for improving W. Va. Route 46, through here.

Profit-Taking Torpedoes Market; List On Balance

NEW YORK (AP) — Profit-taking on Tuesday's advance first undermined and then torpedoed a stock market advance Wednesday, leaving the list lower on average and on balance.

Tuesday's upward breakthrough in the Dow Jones industrial average, far from signaling an advance to the 725-750 level, ran into a red stop signal. As a result, it declined 3.48 to 710.46.

Weakness spread through the steel, motor, chemical, oil and airline groups. Most other groups were mixed at best, with none showing any strength worth getting excited about.

Over-all volume came to 4.3 million shares compared with 3.99 million Tuesday.

Statistics showed that 555 of the 1,289 issues traded declined and 490 rose, although new 1961 highs rose to 75 and new lows shrank to 7. The number of issues traded compared with 1,270 Tuesday.

American Stock Exchange prices also were generally lower as volume rose to 1.32 million shares from 1.14 million Tuesday.

U.S. government and corporate bonds were lower.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: For the past few weeks I've been driving with my son who is 16. He has a learner's permit and is very careful but of course he lacks experience.

Today, by mistake, he made a left-hand turn just as the light was changing to red. A police car appeared out of nowhere and the boy became rattled and drove on through instead of pulling back. It could have happened to anyone.

The officer gave him such a severe tongue-lashing you'd have thought the boy was caught on the roof with a kit of burglar tools. He ended up telling my son to "go home and stay there till you learn how to drive."

You know very well the only way a person can learn to drive is by driving. Don't you think police officers should be more understanding instead of so hard-boiled? — A MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: How "understanding" would YOU be if a learner crashed a red light and put you in the hospital?

"Mistakes" in traffic can spell the difference between life and death — and this means your son's life as well as others. Be grateful that the officer was tough with the boy. An indelible image of a tough cop may be just what your son needs to give him a healthy respect for traffic signals.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: When I was a sophomore in college I began dating a fellow I was crazy about. He was a sophomore, too, and we hit it off great together. He was the star of the debating team and was pretty good at private debating, too. I lost.

I was confident, however, that he was a gentleman, and that whatever happened between us was strictly confidential.

I was wrong. My very closest girl friend told me last week that her brother who belongs to the same fraternity with my steady, got some very interesting data on me. The details were too accurate to have been guesswork.

My boy friend is coming up next weekend. What shall I say to him? Would it be best to change schools in the fall? If he told one person he probably told many. — HUMILIATED

DEAR HUMILIATED: Tell him he must be brushing his teeth with gunpowder the way he shoots his mouth off. Then show him the door.

Don't change schools, change your code of behavior. One of the many hazards of losing The Great Debate is that the girl, forever after, is at the mercy of a loose-lipped guy.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife died two years ago leaving me with a 15-year-old daughter. I took out a few women but my daughter never liked any of them. Finally, I decided to marry and I picked the best of the lot.

A few weeks after we were married my daughter got into a fight with her stepmother which resulted in her moving in with some neighbors we'd known for many years. I worked out a payment plan for her room and board.

She'll be a high school senior in the fall and I want her to move back home. She says she will if I leave my wife. I get along fine with my wife but my daughter says I'm breaking her heart and my first obligation is to her, not a second wife. Is it?— BETWEEN TWO FIRES

DEAR BETWEEN: Your daughter is being spiteful. Keep your marriage together and don't fall into a trap. Your daughter will be on her own in a couple of years and where will you be?

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Before You Marry — Is It Love Or Sex?" enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

India Industrialists Inspect Paper Mill

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — A dozen industrial leaders of India concluded Monday an inspection visit to the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. mill here.

Members said they hope to be able to increase the output of paper in their native land about 350,000 tons within five years and depending on American methods to help them reach this goal.

Trailers Sold

BUCHANAN, Mich. (UPI) — Clark Equipment Co.'s Brown Trailer Division Monday announced sale of 454 trailers costing more than $4 million to two eastern truck lines.

Pig Raisers

ROME (AP)—There are more pigs in Communist China than in any other country, the new "Production Yearbook" of the U.N. Food and Agricultural Organization reported Monday.

There are 160 million pigs in mainland China—21 million more than the combined total in Europe and South America (101.5 million and 37.4 million), twice the number in North and Central America (79.9 million) and three times the pig population of the Soviet Union (48.7 million). The figures are for 1958-59.

Archeologists have dug up pieces of plank believed to be 10,000 years old.

At Post Field, the Redmen pounded two pitchers for 13 hits and a 16-2 triumph over Post's, in a game called after five innings.

Allan Largent broke his personal two-game losing streak and posted his 11th triumph of the year. He struck out nine and held Post's to four hits.

Denny Martin had a double and two singles and Largent chipped in with a single and two-bagger for the Redmen. Melvin Boone's triple and single were the big blows for Post's. The results:

O'Toole Is Victor In Opening Game

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Vada Pinson and Gordy Coleman hit home runs Wednesday night to power the Cincinnati Reds to a 4-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies in the opener of a twi-night doubleheader.

Southpaw Jimmy O'Toole getting ninth inning help from Bill Henry, registered his 11th victory against eight losses.

The victory was the Reds' 13th in a row over the Phillies this season. Art Mahaffey was the loser, it was his 12th loss in his last 13 decisions.

A walk, and singles by Mahaffey and Bobby Gene Smith gave the Phillies one run in the third inning.

The Reds went ahead 2-1 in the fourth when they bunched four hits, one a lead-off homer by Pinson, his ninth of the season.

Two more Red runs scored in the sixth on Coleman's homer with Frank Robinson aboard.

Fernandez Win Could Cause Furore In Return Match

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — A victory by Cuban challenger Florentino Fernandez over middleweight champ Gene Fullmer in their 15-round title bout here Saturday night could embroil the division in a political battle much bigger than any boxing match.

There is a return match clause in the contract if the 25-year-old Fernandez wins. In the fine print is a statement which requires the Cuban to stay in the United States for 90 days until the next bout.

The idea is to keep Fernandez from taking a quick trip home to Cuba where Premier Fidel Castro, with a middleweight champion to taunt the U.S., might keep him—"Champion Florentino 'si', rematch 'no'."

Fullmer's manager, Marv Jenson, is worried about the outcome even though the National Boxing Association titleholder is a 9-5 favorite.

Fullmer and Fernandez have each been knocked out once.

Salvation Army Wins 2d Game

Kiwanis Tossers Bow By 8-2 Score

Salvation Army posted its second victory of the season yesterday with an 8-2 decision over Kiwanis Club at Mason Road field in the Hot Stove League.

Jeffreys picked up the victory in a relief role as he stopped the Kiwanis bats after the third inning.

Salvation Army banged out an assortment of 15 hits with Dale Clayton leading the assault with a pair of singles and a three-bagger. Tommy Crabtree had a single, triple and a home run for the winners and Paul Davalli chimed in with a double.

Tommy Stitcher was the big noise for Kiwanis with two singles and a double.

Kiwanis	011 00 0—2 7 1

Moose Trips Vets, 7-6

Klavuhn's Triple Wins Own Game

Relief hurler Dick Klavuhn tripled with the bases loaded in the sixth inning, then scored on a throwing error to win his own ball game as the Moose edged the league-leading Veterans of Foreign Wars, 7-6, in a Rocking Chair Softball League tilt yesterday at Stitcher Field.

The Vets, losing a game of their lead over the second-place Moose, outhit the LOOM tossers, 11-8, but a three-run rally in the seventh fell short and the VFW bowed for the fifth time this season.

Mel Dean had a double and single, Allan Stevenson hit a pair of doubles, Phil Reuschel had two singles and Jimmy Eckard belted a triple for the Vets. Pete Cecil doubled and singled, Bob Keyser hit a triple, and Herman Lewis cracked a home run for the Moose in addition to Klavuhn's three-run hit.

Klavuhn picked up his eighth win for the Moose while Pete Elliott, also pitching in relief, bowed for the third time in 12 decisions. The results:

V. F. W.	102 00 3—6 11 1

Jack Eckard, Pete Elliott (5) and Sam Brady, Webb Hull, Dick Klavuhn (2) and Paul McGregor.

Alvin Harris paced the Indians at the plate with a triple, double and two singles in four trips while Wayne Beckner chipped in with a home run and single and Joe Reed banged out a three-bagger. The only bingle off Newcomer's slants was an infield tap by Mike Stegmaier in the fourth inning.

Wayne Becker starred at second base with several nice plays while Dave Miller made a good running catch of a line drive into left field in the fourth for the victors.

In another Dan Division encounter at Allegany, the Tigers evened their record at 7-7 with a 16-4 triumph over the Athletics.

Eastern Open To Start Today At Pine Ridge

Course Will Test Pro Golfers' Games

BALTIMORE (AP) — Golf pros entered in the $35,000 Eastern Open found out Wednesday that the Pine Ridge course is growing up and should be a tougher test of their mettle.

Fifty of them toured the 6,820-yard long layout in a preliminary round before starting Thursday on a 72-hole grind, and the general run of scores was nowhere near the low range of the past.

The course, meandering around a city water reservoir, was opened only two years ago and the pros treated the par of 72 mercilessly both years.

Dave Pacan of Orlando, Fla., and Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., both won with scores of 273, a total of 15 under par.

Littler, who led for seven of his eight rounds in the two years, started off both times with 65.

The lowest round Wednesday afternoon by a pro was a 69 by Bert weaver of Daytona Beach, Fla. A pro-amateur best ball competition provided the warm-up test of the course.

"The course is playing much longer than last year," analyzed Dave Marr of Sun City, Ariz., after shooting 70. "The grass has grown more."

Last year, Gay Brewer of Crystal River, Fla., and Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., shared the $620 first prize in the pro-amateur with a low individual score of 66. Brewer took 71 strokes this time and Hebert didn't bother to turn in his card.

Ragan, whose highest score when he won the Eastern two years ago was 70, required 76 strokes in his tour of Pine Ridge Wednesday.

Littler skipped the pro-am, but will be among the 129 pros competing in the open proper. The field also will include 13 amateurs for the first 36 holes. The number of starters will be reduced to the low 80 scores for Saturday's third round and 60 in the last 18 Sunday.

The first prize at stake for the low scoring pro is $5,300.

Hints Of Open Attack Lower Odds On All-Stars

Eagles Favored By 9½ In Friday Tilt

By TED SMITS

CHICAGO (AP) — Hints of a wide open attack, possibly based on a daring spread formation, served Wednesday to narrow the odds against the College All-Stars in their annual football game Friday night in Soldier Field.

Originally the Philadelphia Eagles, National Football League champions, were favored by 13 points. Now the margin is 9½.

"Obviously we're not going to knock 'em over with power," said Coach Otto Graham of the All-Stars. "We'll have to pass."

Coach Nick Skorich of the Eagles, training in Hershey, Pa., drilled his team against the spread formation and declared: "I don't think the All-Stars regard the spread as just a supplementary formation. I think it will be one of their basic offenses."

On the eve of final drills for the game, sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., the All-Stars elected Mike Ditka, Pittsburgh end, as offensive captain and Emil Holub of Texas Tech as defensive captain.

"The boys are really up for this game," said Graham. "They have just as much spirit for it as any game they played in college—maybe more so."

Three quarterbacks — Norm Snead of Wake Forest, Bill Kilmer of UCLA, and Tom Matte of Ohio State — give Graham's All-Stars the potential for a brilliant attack.

Rodriguez To Meet Curtis Cokes Today

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Luis Rodriguez, top - ranking welterweight contender, takes on dangerous young Curtis Cokes Thursday night in the 10-round feature of a boxing card delayed a week because Rodriguez' original flight to Dallas was hijacked and detoured to Cuba.

Rodriguez, a native of Havana who now resides in Miami, Fla., ruled a strong favorite for the Memorial Coliseum bout, but most observers figure he might be in for trouble if he takes Cokes too lightly.

Mantle Hits 40th Homer As Yankees Sweep

A's Lose, 6-5, 12-5; Ford Fails To Win

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees won two games from Kansas City Wednesday 6-5 and 12-5 with the help of four Athletics' errors and Mickey Mantle's 40th home run. But Whitey Ford failed in his bid for his 20th pitching victory of the season.

As Manager Ralph Houk, starting his five-day suspension for a run-in with Umpire Ed Hurley Sunday, watched the sweep on the clubhouse TV, the Yanks capitalized on Kansas City errors to win the opener in the ninth inning.

Then in the second, Mantle got the Yanks off in front with the homer that tied teammate Roger Maris for the major league lead and left them 17 games ahead of the pace set by Babe Ruth when the Bambino hit his record 60 homers in 1927. The Babe hit his 40th in the Yanks 120th game. The New Yorkers have played 103 this year.

But for errors by Wayne Causey, Dick Howser and Joe Pignatano, Ford could well have been charged with his third defeat and have had his string of 13 straight victories broken. As it was the victory went to his relief, Luis Arroyo, who now is 8-3.

By the time the one-sided second contest was over the Yanks had collected 17 hits. The A's narrowed the gap a little with four runs in the eighth. Three came in on Norm Siebern's 12th homer.

Braves Defeat Chicago, 4-2

Second Game Ends In 7-7 Deadlock

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs and Milwaukee played to a 7-7 eleven-inning tie called on account of darkness in the second game of a doubleheader Wednesday after the Braves won the opener 4-2 on the strength of a three-run explosion in the eighth inning.

The umpires suspended play at 7:05 p.m. (CDT) with bright sunshine flooding Wrigley Field. As players and umpires walked off the field the officials were roundly booed by the remaining fans among the original paid turnout of 19,587.

During the standoff Milwaukee overcame a 4-1 deficiet and took a 7-4 lead in the seventh when Hank Aaron smashed his first 1961 grand slam homer. It was Aaron's 27th homer of the season, and the fourth slam of his career.

The Cubs got a start toward a tie when Billy Williams walloped his second homer of the game and third of the day off Johnny Antonelli, third of four Milwaukee pitchers, in the eighth.

Before Don McMahon could restore order in the Chicago ninth, George Altman stroked a two-run single to lift the Cubs into the 7-7 deadlock.

Frank Thomas, who had four hits including his 16th homer in the nightcap, singled for the first two runs in Milwaukee's winning spurt in the opener. Then catcher Joe Torre singled for an insurance run to give Carl Willey, who pitched a six-hitter, his fourth win of the season. He has lost five.

Liston Is Freed On $500 Bail

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Charles (Sonny) Liston, whose recent scrapes with the law knocked him out of contention for the world heavyweight title, was freed in $500 bail Wednesday on a charge that was dismissed at a magistrate's hearing last month.

Liston, 26, was held on a charge of turning off his automobile lights to avoid police during an incident in Fairmount Park June 12.

However, Judge Victor Blanc dismissed a charge of resisting arrest which also grew out of the park incident in which Liston and a companion were arrested for allegedly forcing a woman motorist to pull to the side of a lonely road.

Angels Drop Pair To Sox

Boston Wins Both Games, 8-7, 7-2

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox swept a doubleheader from Los Angeles Wednesday, 8-7 and 7-2, with rookie Chuck Schilling smashing a game winning homer in the nightcap and igniting the winning rally in the opener.

Los Angeles reliever Art Fowler, who had won five straight, was the loser in both games.

Schilling, a boyish appearing second baseman, cracked Fowler's first pitch to him in the ninth inning of the second game into the screen atop the left field wall, breaking a 7-7 tie.

In the first game Schilling's run producing single touched off a five-run Boston eighth inning that broke open a 2-2 tie game. That hit also was off Fowler.

Albie Pearson, Los Angeles center fielder and the smallest player in the majors, led off the second game with his seventh home run of the season. He drove in three more as the Angeles came from four runs back and eventually took a 7-6 lead in the sixth.

Colts To Reduce Squad On Friday

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — Baltimore Colt coach Weeb Ewbank said he will wait until Friday before announcing the first sizeable cut of his 1961-62 grid squad.

Previously, Ewbank indicated he would make the announcement Wednesday.

Meanwhile, coaches were carefully watching scrimmage action, with particular attention to the rookies.

Two hard-hitting rookie backs from Wyoming — Jerry Hill and Mark Smolinski — may be just the ticket for revitalizing the Colt running game. Hill averaged five yards in six tries during Monday's Colt Nite. The 5-foot-11, 210 pound halfback was the team's No. 3 draft choice this year.

Smolinski, although not showing exceptionally long gains in his scrimmages, is reported as a very able blocker — one who can give good protection to passers.

Rainstorm Cancels Junior Golf Play

ITHACA, N.Y. (UPI) —Heavy downpours Wednesday forced cancellation of opening round play in the U. S. Golf Association 14th Junior Amateur Golf Tournament at Cornell University.

Play will resume Thursday at the point where the matches ended Wednesday. The postponement extended the championship match to Sunday instead of Saturday as previously scheduled.

Elliott, from Philadelphia, said European teams are becoming stronger every year and that the U.S. "will have to take that into consideration in preparing for the 1964 Olympics."

McGuire Slated For Warriors Post

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — Frank McGuire will leave his post as head basketball coach of the University of North Carolina to join the Philadelphia Warriors professional team, it was announced Wednesday night.

Chancellor William B. Aycock said McGuire has asked to be relieved in order to become vice president and head coach of the Warriors. His resignation here will be effective Aug. 31.

McGuire has had an outstanding record as cage coach at North Carolina, including one national championship. Speculation had been widespread that he would leave the university, especially since a de-emphasis program was announced recently following the current basketball gambling scandals.

Maxwell's Pinch Homer Gives Bengals 4-3 Win Over Nats

DETROIT (UPI) — Pinch-hitter Charley Maxwell hit a three-run homer in the sixth inning Wednesday night to give the second place Detroit Tigers a 4-3 victory over the Washington Senators in the opener of a twi-night doubleheader.

The homer led to the third loss of the season for Marty Kutyna against six wins, but all three runs were unearned. With two outs, Larry Osborne was safe when first baseman Bud Zipfel dropped a relay throw from second on a double play ball. Chico Fernandez then singled to set the stage for Maxwell's blast. His fourth straight pinch hit and second consecutive pinch homer.

The Senators jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first inning and added another tally in the fifth on Marty Keough's ninth homer of the year.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Rye and soybeans led most of the grain futures list to higher ground Wednesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.
Wheat rallied near the close, although profit-selling eased prices through most of the session.
At the final bell, wheat was off ⅛ to up ¼, corn up ½ to ⅞, oats up ½, rye up 2¼ to 3½ and soybeans up 1⅜ to 2.
Wheat sales by commission houses and local traders more than offset light hedge selling in early trading. Traders reported new purchases of flour. Other buying came on resting orders.
Japan bought 880,000 bushels of soft white wheat and 440,000 bushels of hard winter wheat. Yugoslavia took 560,000 bushels of hard wheat, and other countries were reported in the market.
Feed grains moved higher following an agriculture department forecast that the 1961 crop will be nearly 20 per cent below the record 1960 yield and the smallest in five years if July 1 prospects are realized.
Local and export buying firmed corn and oats. Good crop weather was reported, but it was said that the CCC has stopped shipping Iowa corn to Chicago and country selling was slow.
Rye jumped more than 2 cents a bushel on short covering and a higher Winnipeg market. Some purchases were believed for flour mill account.
Higher oil and meal markets supported soybean futures, although trading was only moderate. Shorts and exporters bought beans, while northwest brokers sold.
Outside markets were mixed.

Senate Passes Beall's Bill For C&O Park

House Now Must Act On Measure

U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall announced last night that the Senate had unanimously passed his bill, S 77, for the creation of the C&O Canal National Historical Park.

Sen. Beall said the Senate Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs had approved the measure last month, and the Senate gave its approval to the bill late yesterday afternoon.

This makes the third time the Senate has approved a bill to establish the C&O park. However, on two previous occasions the House of Representatives has voted down the bill.

15,000 Acres

S 77 includes an amendment by the Senator from Frostburg which would provide for the purchase of 10,200 acres of additional land for the park. The federal government now owns 4,800 acres in the area planned for the park project, and the amendment would bring the total authorized size of the park to 15,000 acres.

The bill was amended by Sen. Beall after he conferred with Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall, who promised support by the Kennedy Administration for full National Park status for the project.

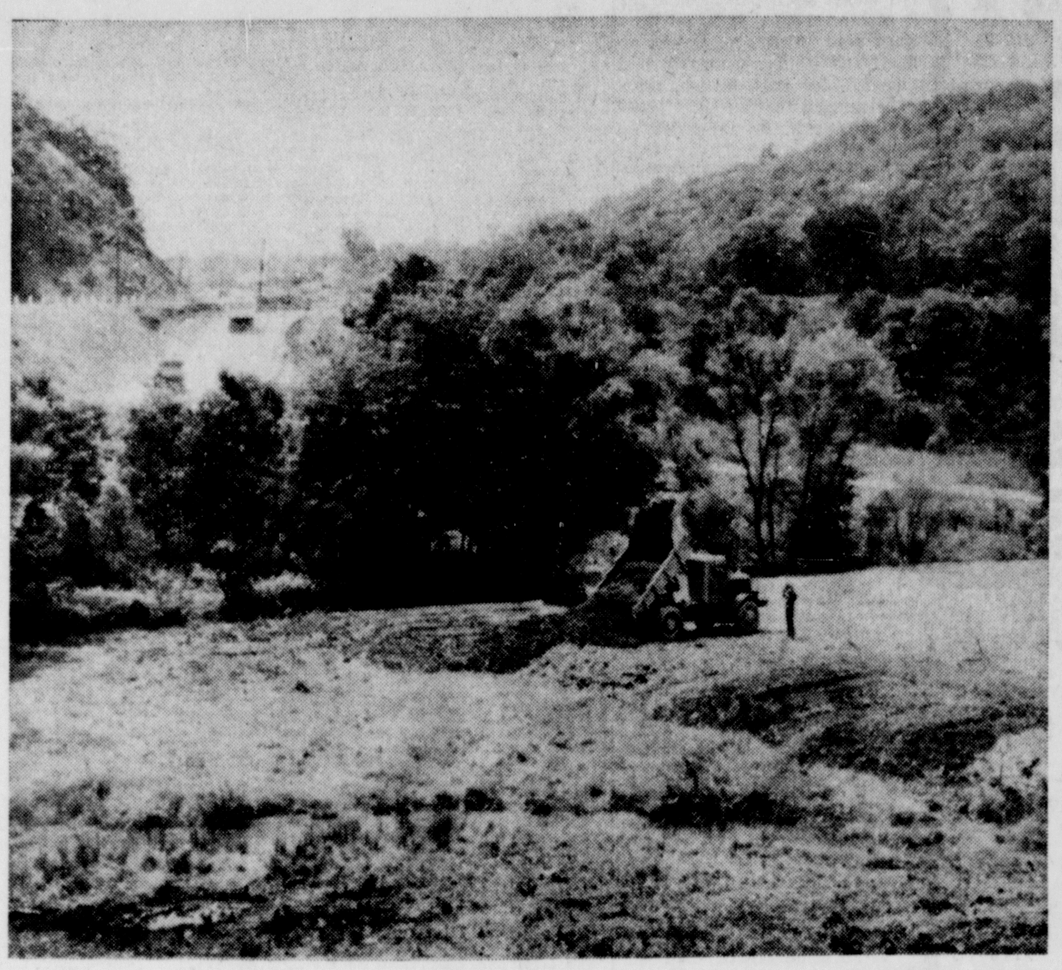
$1,500,000 Cost Limit

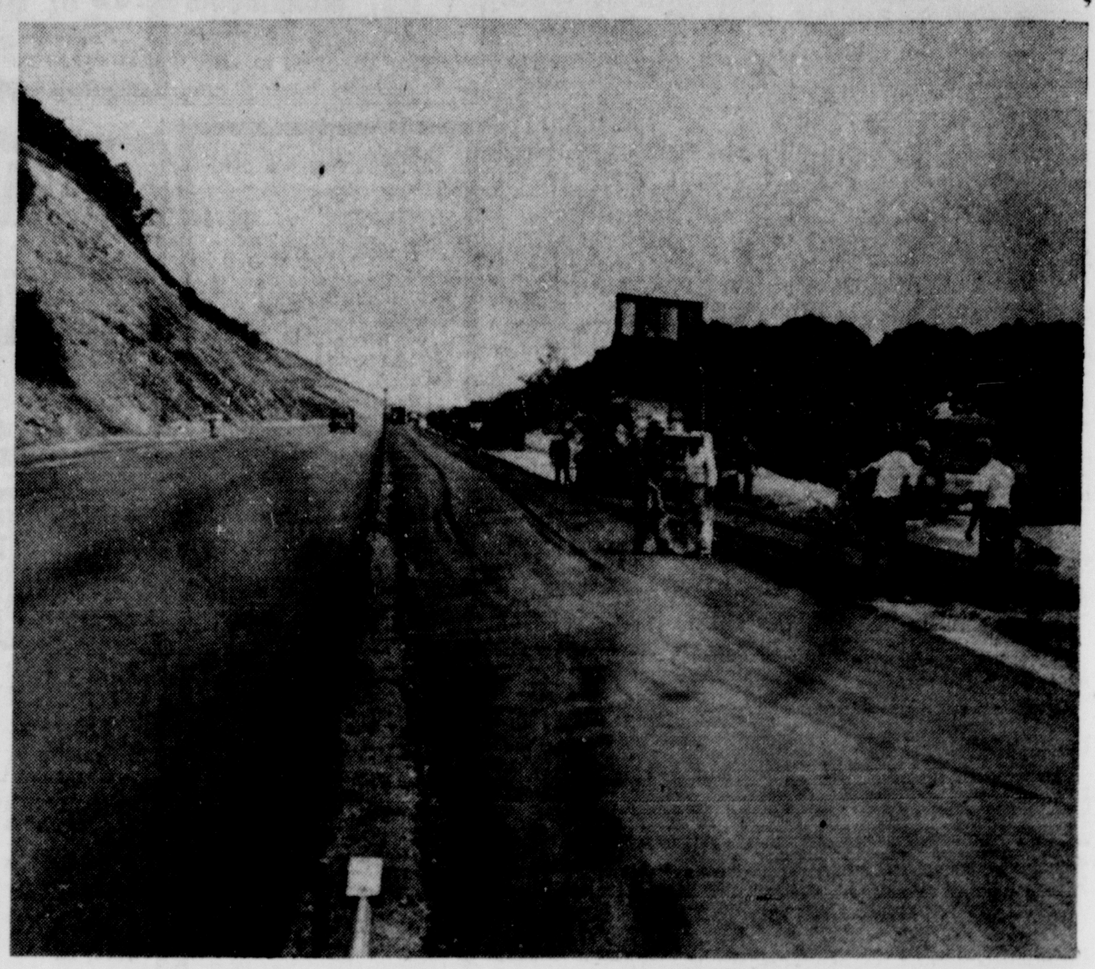
The Senate committee which studied the bill put a limit of $1,500,000 on the cost of the land purchase.

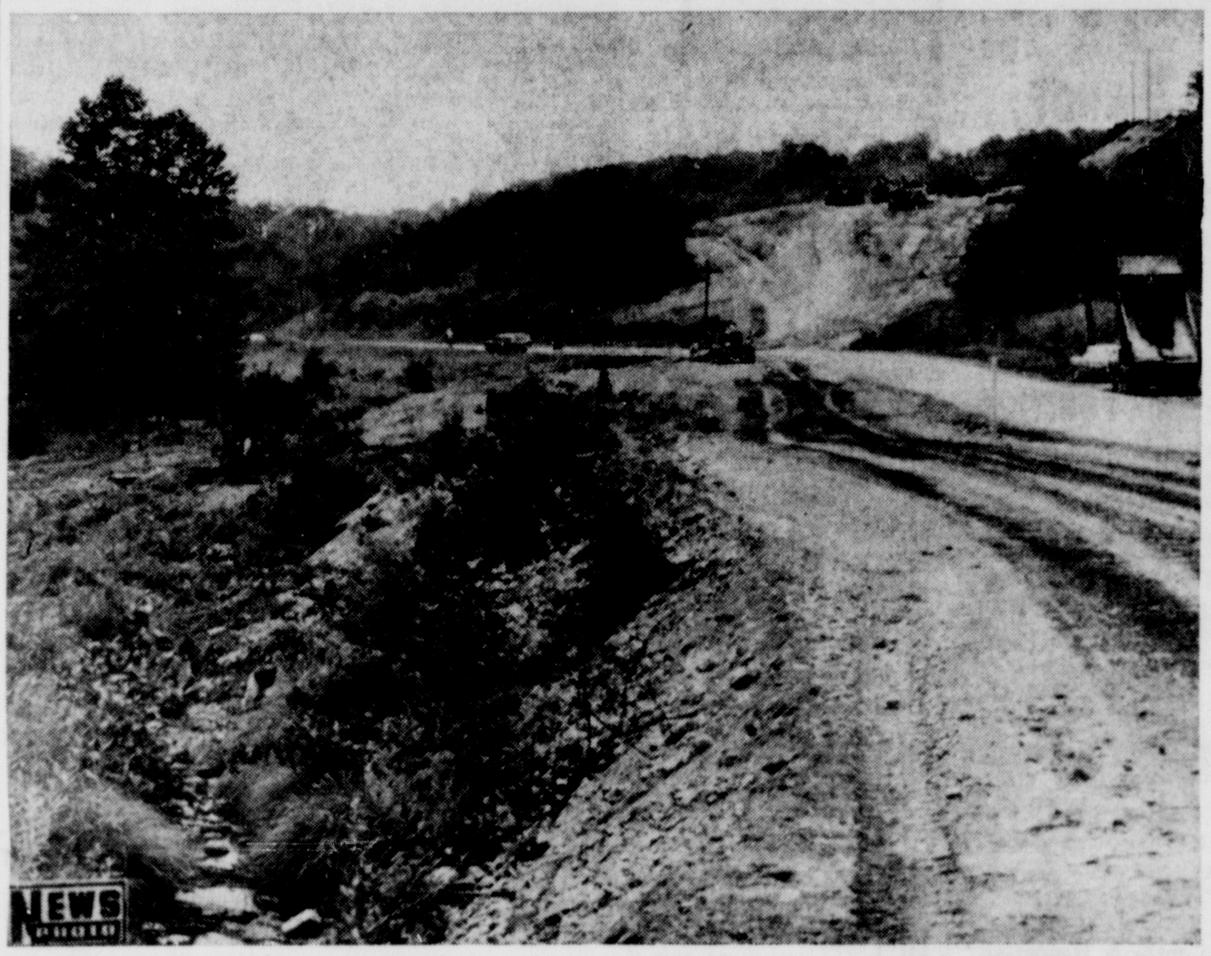
Sen. Beall said when the bill was approved last month by the Senate committee that he felt it also would pass the Senate and House since it had the support of Secretary Udall and the administration.

The Senator added the park would be of vital importance to Maryland and the national capital, and to some 18,000,000 residents of seven adjacent states.

A $4.8 Million 'New Look' For U.S. Route 40







Three Route 40 Projects

Contracts have been awarded by the State Roads Commission for four U. S. Route 40 improvement projects between the city limits of Cumberland and Sideling Hill Creek, the eastern boundary of Allegany County. When these four jobs are complete, some 12.08 miles of new road will have been built at a total cost of $4,860,327. The top left picture shows part of the fill for the new Naves Crossroad taken from the Collins Garage at the intersection of Route 40 and Naves Crossroad. The Cumberland Contracting Company is undertaking this $941,430 project which involves construction of 1.4 miles of new Route 40 from Long Hill east toward Wolf's Mill. It includes grading and drainage of Naves Crossroad and building a bridge on top of Long Hill. The top right picture shows the job on the west side of Martin Mountain which is most nearly complete of the road improvements. The S. J. Groves Company of Minneapolis, Minn., has virtually completed surfacing the westbound lane of this 3.59-mile project costing $2,142,230, and surfacing is now moving ahead on the eastbound lane. The lower left picture, taken in the vicinity of Belle Grove, shows progress on the Route 40 work which the George F. Hazelwood Company of Cumberland is doing on an $812,656 contract. This work includes grading, drainage and surfacing of relocated Route 40 from Sideling Hill Creek to the Town Hill relocation, a distance of 2.287 miles. The Groves firm has not yet started work on the fourth job, relocation of 3.8 miles of Route 40 down the east side of Polish Mountain to 15-Mile Creek. This contract price is $963,959.

Garrett Bank Names Thayer To Position

R. Thomas Thayer Jr. of Oakland, who resigned effective August 1 as district forester for Western Maryland, will assume new duties September 1 as special representative of the Garrett National Bank of Oakland.

Bank officials emphasize that they believe the future of Garrett County lies in the proper development of its natural resources.

Mr. Thayer's duties will concentrate on the development of natural resources through conservation measures. Broadly speaking, he will assist landowners in timber management, land management, mineral developments, recreational problems and industrial development.

State and federal agencies have been pushing conservation measures for years, but private enterprise has not been involved in this activity until recently.

Mr. Thayer had been an employe of the State Department of Forests and Parks for nearly 11 years at the time of his resignation. He had been district forester for Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties since April 1, 1960.

Following graduation from West Virginia University in 1950, Mr. Thayer was hired as a forest ranger in August 1950 in Garrett County. From January 1951 until January 1952 he was assistant district forester in Carroll County. He returned to his native Garrett County in January 1952 and has lived there ever since. As assistant district forester he has been interested in private land management and watershed development.

W. A. Clinton Irwin succeeded him as district forester Tuesday.

Presently serving as officers of the society are Dr. Harold Ashby, Oakland, president; Dr. Ralph Highbarger, Hagerstown, vice president; Miss Ethyl Dantzic, Cumberland, secretary, and Dr. William S. Firey, Cumberland, treasurer.

Dr. Firey is in charge of arrangements for the annual meeting.

Members of the department who are on the 11 p. m. to 7 a. m. shift will fire first and those on 3 p. m. to 11 p. m. shift will fire next. The daylight shift will fire last.

In the event of rain the qualifications on the .38 calibre service revolver will be held the following day. It is part of the firearms training program of the department.

Firemen Check Electric Skillet

City firemen get unusual calls now and then.

Yesterday afternoon a local woman who was in New Germany in Garrett County called city firemen when she was uncertain whether she had turned off an electric skillet where she lives on Washington Street.

She instructed the firemen how to gain entrance through a certain door of the dwelling. They obliged and found that the skillet was plugged in but was not on.

In another call yesterday firemen were called to a Fayette Street Address after the next-door neighbor thought the home had been struck by lightning. She thought she detected smoke at the home of a neighbor who is in Florida. No fire was found, firemen said.

Post Office Flagpole Delivered

A 40-foot steel flagpole which will be placed in front of the local Post Office has been delivered.

R. G. Robeson, local contractor who will raise the three-section pole into position with a light crane, said the flagpole will rest on a concrete base in the center of the lawn. A flagstone walk from the sidewalk to the base will complete the work, he said.

The new roof of the Post Office has been completed, according to Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon Sr., who said new doors on the front and in the lobby entrances will be installed in a renovation program which calls for steam cleaning the exterior of the building, which was erected in 1932.

The second floor section where the carriers put up their mail will be air-conditioned, according to the postmaster, who said there is no cross current of air in that particular section of the building which formerly housed the federal court room.

Another project will be converting the present elevator into a self-operated lift.

Police Seminar Planned Here On August 15

State's Attorney's Work Will Be Aired

The annual police seminar sponsored by the Department of State Police in cooperation with local law enforcement agencies will be held August 15 at the Public Safety Building here.

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming and Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney announced yesterday that the seminar will begin at 9 a.m. and conclude at 4:30 p.m.

Invitations have been extended to local authorities of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, Western Maryland Railway Company, Trial Magistrates F. Allan Weatherholt and Paul W. Barnett, constables, sheriff's office and the Frostburg Police Department.

Lt. William E. O'Hara, commander of Barracks "C" of the State Police at LaVale, is expected to attend with a group of troopers.

This year's seminar will be in charge of Lt. George R. Cole, assistant chief, in-service training of the MSP.

Sgt. D. A. Lauder of the MSP will be leader of a discussion on "Protection of a Crime Scene—Presentation of Evidence." This phase of the seminar will cover why and how the scene must be protected and why and how the evidence must be preserved.

"The Police-State's Attorney's Team" will be discussed by a representative of the state's attorney's office here and Lt. Cole.

The subject matter to be discussed will include what the state's attorney needs to prepare his case, what he has a right to expect from police witnesses, and common faults noted in police witnesses.

One hour is allotted at the end of the day for general discussion. There will be a 10-minute break every 50 minutes, when coffee and doughnuts will be served by the local police department.

The MSP in cooperation with local police educational committees are making the seminars available since "police officers are never fully trained, never at a peak of perfection that leaves no room for improvement," authorities pointed out.

Today a seminar is being conducted at Bel Air. On Tuesday one was held at Easton and yesterday one was scheduled at Salisbury. MSP will sponsor one at College Park on August 17.
